Fires 'On Whim'—Kills Train Passenger

REMORSEFUL—Head bowed, sniper suspect John Whitmore, 16, is escorted by detectives at police station where the youth was charged, in sniping slaying of a Long Island Railroad passenger, Vincent Maher, of Manhattan, and the wounding of another passenger, Gabriel Jansen, of Point Pleasant, N. J. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 16-year-old boy who liked to dress up as a fireman and go to fires on his bicycle was held without bail today in the sniper killing of a Long Island Rail Road passenger and the wounding of another.

Police said John Whitmore admitted firing into the train "on a whim." Whitmore was charged with killing Vincent Maher, 31, of New York and wounding Gabriel Jansen of Point Pleasant, N.J.

Both men were hit by the same bullet fired from a sawed off .30-06 rifle wielded by a sniper on an embankment. Maher, an elevator operator, was struck in the neck and died instantly. He was married and the father of three children.

Jansen, who was en route home from his job as a scowman on a dredge at Jones Beach, was wounded in the arm. He was reported in good condition today.

Police said the bullet smashed through the car, striking Jansen, then ricoheted across the aisle and struck Maher. The sniping occurred after the Manhattan-bound train had entered the borough of Queens and was about eight blocks from Whitmore's home.

Police said an outbound train had been fired upon from near the same spot minutes earlier. The first train was not carrying passengers.

Whitmore was arrested near the Sunnyside yard in Queens, about a half hour after the shooting. Several hours later, police found the rifle hidden below railroad ties with seven unspent bullets scattered among stones around the ties.

Police said Whitmore would not say where he got the rifle.

VICTIMS—Police and Long Island Railroad men try to help Gabriel Jansen of Point Pleasant, N. J., as Vincent Maher, 31, of Manhattan, slumps dead against the seat of a L.I.R.R. train. (NEW YORK NEWS PHOTO VIA UPI TELEPHOTO)

Neighbors described Whitmore as a quiet, shy boy who was a ham radio operator. They said he boasted of being an auxiliary fireman and a civil defense volunteer.

He carried a shortwave radio set on his bicycle and often sped to the scene of fires in his neighborhood.

The youth's father committed suicide several months ago.

The Long Island Rail Road, like others in the area, has been plagued in recent years by sniping and rock-throwing by youngsters. But this was the first fatality to result from such incidents.

The railroad has been operating on a reduced schedule the past two weeks because of what it charged was a slowdown by carmen who conduct safety inspection on trains. The carmen were protesting plans to fire 18 men because of automation.

Eisenhower 'Remains Critically Ill'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remains in "extremely critical" condition and has suffered numerous episodes of irregular heart action since Sunday night, Army doctors reported today.

Pacemaker Removed

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said an electrical pacemaker, inserted earlier into the heart of the five-star general, had been removed after it failed to stop the spasms.

The recurring irregularities, doctors said earlier, constitute a "constant and critical hazard" to Eisenhower's survival.

The text of a morning medical bulletin:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains extremely critical. The electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.

"Since last night's bulletin numerous episodes of ventricular irregularity have occurred, most of only a few seconds duration but two requiring electrical conversion.

"Despite this, the general remains alert, converses briefly, and enjoyed a small breakfast. He is visited briefly from time to time by members of the immediate family, at his request.

"Mrs. Eisenhower has remained calm during these past trying days, and has received comfort and support from her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who together with Col. John Eisenhower and his family have been constantly with her."

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital in a bulletin issued Sunday night said the 77-year-old five-star general was resting comfortably without pain, but "remains critically ill" after suffering two more spasms following insertion of an electrical pacemaker.

The bulletin read:

"Gen. Eisenhower remains critically ill. Electrical pacing by means of a transvenous catheter has been ineffective in suppressing the episodes of ventricular irregularity. Two more, each quickly reverting to normal, have occurred since the afternoon bulletin.

"Vital signs, in the interval between these episodes, have remained essentially stable. The general is not in pain, is resting comfortably, and sleeps intermittently.

"Members of the immediate family remain in close attendance and have seen the general at intervals."

The use of the pacemaker was the latest of several efforts made to halt the spasms which have recurred since Eisenhower suffered his seventh heart attack Friday.

There were eight such spasms between the time of the attack and the Sunday night medical bulletin.

The spasms, which involve irregular twitching of the muscles in the heart's lower chamber, are known medically as ventricular fibrillation.

Walter Reed doctors blame Eisenhower's spasms on the "serious underlying disease of the heart."

At the general's side were his wife Mamie, his son John and three grandchildren; Barbara Anne, Susan Elaine and David.

Although the doctors did not detail how the pacemaker was installed the usual method entails inserting a thin tube with two tiny electrodes at its tip into a vein and gently sliding it through the body into the heart.

Usually a vein in an arm is used, but sometimes it is a neck vein.

In the Sunday afternoon bulletin there were indications that the pacemaker had succeeded in suppressing the spasms. The doctors said then that though gravely ill Eisenhower was alert, in command of all his senses and had "retained his keen sense of humor."

There was no indication of what was meant by the sense of humor reference.

Eisenhower, president from 1953 to 1961, suffered his first heart attack in 1955. He had two attacks in 1965 and incurred four more this year, starting last April 29 when he was strick en at his California home.

He was taken to Walter Reed to recuperate from the April attack and has suffered the last three seizures while in the Washington hospital.

The possibility that a heart transplant could be performed on Eisenhower was discounted today by Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the man who first performed such an operation.

Speaking in Bangkok, Thailand, Barnard said Eisenhower would have been an ideal transplant patient if he were younger, but the operation probably would be fatal now.

One of the two men who had a heart transplanted by the South African physician, Philip Blaiberg, is still alive, seven months after the operation.

Red Offensive Stopped; 500 of Enemy Killed

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. and South Vietnamese troops today smashed the largest Communist offensive of the summer, killing more than 500 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese and driving thousands more back into the Cambodian border area jungles.

U.S. spokesmen said thousands of Communists sprang from lairs along the border Sunday and struck at least 15 major targets 50 to 70 miles northwest of Saigon.

American and South Vietnamese troops aided by U.S. tanks, armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and planes threw back every attack.

UPI correspondent Alvin B. Webb Jr., reporting from the provincial capital of Tay Ninh, which took the main assault, said the allies cleared the streets of Communists in eight hours.

He said the retreating Communists burned at least 400 homes in a half mile section of the southeastern corner of the city of 80,000.

Seeking Hideouts

Webb said that by late today the Communists were seeking hideouts in the rubber plantations four miles from Tay Ninh, which lies in war zone C, once one of the main Viet Cong sanctuaries in this country.

Military observers said they doubted the weekend offensive was the major red offensive that allied intelligence had predicted was coming this month, in September or October. It poised no major threat to Saigon.

But the attacks northwest of Saigon, plus Communist activity in the Mekong Delta, in the Central Highlands and in the northern provinces ended a comparative low point in combat in South Vietnam.

The crunch came at Tay Ninh, a sleepy town that became a boomtown in war as refugees from the battle zones flocked in. Webb said that Sunday as many as 1,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese came to town.

Establish Position

Webb said the Communists apparently planned to conquer Tay Ninh from a position around the long Hoa Dispensary. But the allies were ready. U.S. helicopter gunships and artillery battered the area.

By 4 a.m. today the Communists had fled. They tried to scorch the earth as they retreated. South Vietnamese officials said the Communists also kidnaped 10 to 20 civilians.

Civilians caught in the battle area told Webb that several of the U.S. artillery shells missed the Communists and struck houses. They said at least four civilians were killed and more than 20 wounded by the barrage.

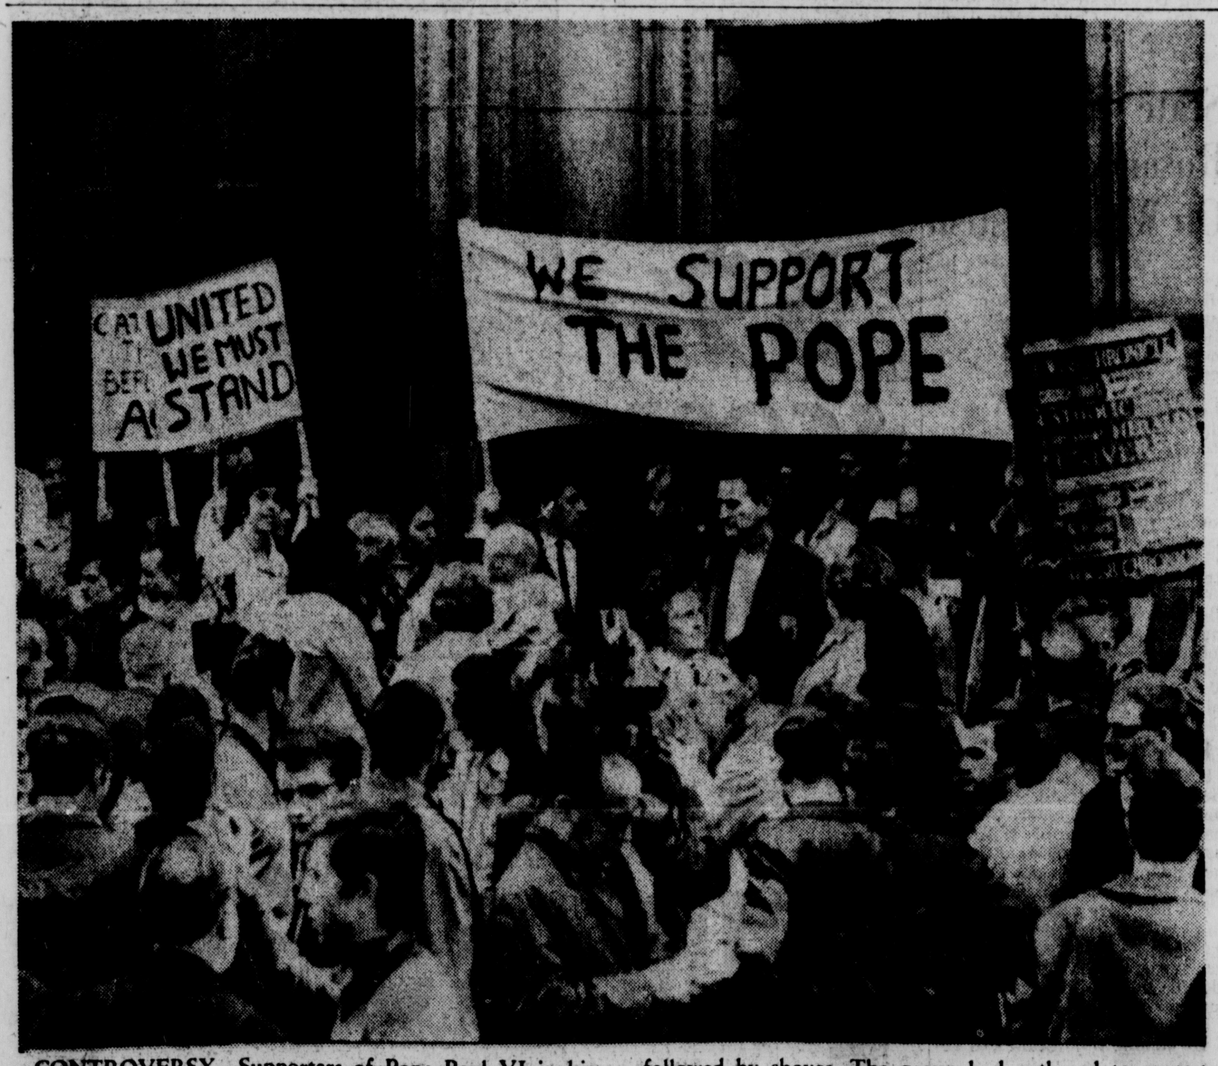

The Communists sent two columns against Tay Ninh, attacking from the south toward the dispensary and coming in from the north. The northern force never even reached the city limits, Webb reported.

U.S. military sources said they had learned in advance the Communists intended to "raise hell all over Tay Ninh City."

Today military spokesmen reported at least 171 Communists were killed outside the city and another 12 suspects taken.

Intelligence sources said there had been some evidence the Communists planned the attack to divert allied forces from the Saigon area. Today's fighting also fell on the 22nd anniversary of the day President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam declared his Communist group a political power.

Sunday night and early today the guerrillas fired more than 300 mortar shells into allied positions near Tay Ninh and tried assaulting the U.S. Army Special Forces Camp near Loc Ninh, 75 miles north of Saigon. Two Americans suffered wounds.

CONTROVERSY—Supporters of Pope Paul VI in his ban on the use of artificial birth control measures gather outside Westminister Cathedral, in London, after Mass. A minor scuffle erupted when a member of this group and a member of a counter-protest group exchanged words followed by shoves. The group had gathered to protest the suspension of a local Roman Catholic priest for refusing to promise his bishop silent obedience to the papal teaching. (UPI CABLEPHOTO)

Javits in County— To Probe T-Way, Bus

By HUGH REYNOLDS

Senator Jacob K. Javits (R-New York), promised "personal, immediate investigation" of a New York State Thruway's policy that forbids charter buses from stopping on the superhighway on weekends. Javits spoke to more than 2,000 persons at the Peg Leg Bates Country Club in Kerhonkson yesterday afternoon.

Javits, seeking his third term in the Senate, said he had received a petition with "several hundred" signatures and would write each and every one of them on the outcome of his investigation. He said he would personally contact Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Thruway authorities concerning the policy which forbids charter buses from stopping on the Thruway from midnight Friday to midnight Sunday.

Javits said he could not see the reasoning on the policy but added that he was too much of a lawyer to make a statement before investigation. He termed the policy a "personal hardship" on those persons who use charter buses to weekend in the Catskills. There were more than 40 charter buses parked at the Bates Country Club when Javits made his address yesterday.

The senator was introduced by Bates, a well-known entertainer, who has operated his country club in Kerhonkson for almost 20 years. He termed Bates a "real hero to the black people" and said the establishment of the club by Bates had been a "tremendous struggle."

Bates described Javits as a "personal friend" and a "real fighter for my people." Javits said, "like another great American, I have a dream too that with 22 million black people in our country, a club like Peg Leg Bates will be the rule and not the exception." Javits then presented Bates an American Flag that had flown over the Capitol in Washington, D. C.

Later, in a press conference, Javits said he would support the national Republican ticket of Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew. He added that he felt his support of the ticket would have little effect on his campaign in New York. "New Yorkers look to me as an individual. I will remain independent," he said.

The senator also spoke on gun legislation ("we should know who has the guns. We want to cut down on the illegal use of guns."), crime ("We need intelligent, well-equipped policemen. We don't have to run down the courts. An intelligent prosecutor can get a conviction under today's laws."), discrimination ("We will cut federal funds to schools that practice discrimination. There's a lot of laws on the books. We need vigorous, effective enforcement") and the poverty program ("We need the dignity of jobs.")

Javits also spoke at the Pioneer Country Club in Greenfield Park before coming to Kerhonkson and called for the release of 75 Phantom Jet fighter planes to Israel. Javits said President Johnson had promised the planes but never gave a delivery date.

Area Deaths Mar Weekend

By WALTER S. CLARK

Area authorities conducted investigations into the weekend sudden death of a Long Island youth who was shot in the head while target practicing in Columbia County, and two traffic fatalities in Dutchess and Columbia Counties, and an accidental drowning in Copake Lake.

Robert C. Patterson, 27, of Van Kleeck Street, Elmhurst, lost his life at 3:35 a.m. Sunday when his car went out of control on Route 9 at the Wappingers Falls bridge, slammed into an abutment and then virtually split in two pieces.

Body Recovered

Patterson was ejected from the vehicle and hurtled into the Wappingers Creek. Scuba divers from the Dutchess County Rescue Squad recovered the body at 7:30 a.m. yesterday, according to Fishkill State Police.

Troopers said Patterson was traveling south on the highway when he rounded a slight curve and lost control of the car, which crossed the road, hit a utility pole and then crashed into the bridge abutment.

Assistant Medical Examiner Dr. William Thompson of Rhinebeck ordered an autopsy to determine whether the man died of injuries suffered in the accident or from drowning in the creek.

Columbia County Coroner Donald Tkacy withheld a verdict pending further investigation by Claverack State Police in the death of Peter Guttenburg, 18, of Massapequa, L. I., which resulted from a bullet wound in the head on Sunday.

Troopers said the youth had been target shooting at the summer camp of a friend from East Rockaway in a wooded section of the Town of Canaan.

Authorities reported Guttenburg had accompanied Thomas McEwan, 16, Frank Viteritti, 18, and Gregory Campbell, 18, all of Massapequa on the target practice range. They told investigators the four had gone together into the woods just off Cemetery Hill Road between East Chatham and Red Rock at about 9 a. m.

Continue Probe

Details of the shooting were not complete today, as BCI investigators continued their investigation with Coroner Tkacy.

A 19-year-old Nassau youth was fatally injured late Saturday night when a car in which he was a passenger went out of control on Route 203 near Bunker Hill Road in the Columbia County township of Chatham and slammed into a road sign. Charles Joseph Karins was ejected from the vehicle driven by Clifton W. Laraway Jr, 21, also of Nassau.

Failed on Curve

Claverack troopers reported Laraway was driving south on the highway when his vehicle failed to negotiate a sharp cruve, skidded on loose gravel and hit the sign.

John Unson Sr., 55, of Claverack, was presumed drowned Saturday night when his small fishing boat was struck by a speedboat in Copake Lake, Columbia County.

The Columbia County sheriff's office reported Unson and Leon Cotte, 33, also of Claverack, were thrown into about 30 feet of water when the small boat was struck by the high power inboard about 150 feet east of Mosquito Island. Cotte was rescued by two men in a second small boat.

State Police scuba divers took part in a search Sunday for the missing man.

'Sour Grapes,' Bo nilla Reply To Naccarato

The blast came from Woodstock Democratic chairman John Bonilla who was replying to Naccarato's accusation Saturday that Democratic Congressional contender John Dyson was "attempting to buy the election."

"Apparently Naccarato is reflecting the sour grapes attitude of Fish who is feeling the loss of support of many prominent Republicans who prefer to support the candidacy of John Dyson," Bonilla said.

"The lack of accuracy and pettiness of Naccarato's statement is evident in his falsely lowering Dyson's age, and in his assertion that 'Dyson's political trucks clog our highways'.

"In actuality, there is only one van, rented by Dyson for campaign use, and one seven-year-old Volkswagen that I personally own and have owned since it left the dealer's lot.

"Dyson is 25 years old, an age he shares with many prominent Americans. Twelve of the 39 signers of the U. S. Constitution were in their twenties when they signed that document.

"Everyone knows," Bonilla continued, "that the Fish family has spent sums of its untold millions in his past and present campaigns. Will Fish reveal to the public how much he has received from the Republican National Committee to assure his success in this district?

'Sour Grapes'

"Further, how can Naccarto, like myself the descendant of immigrants to America, support a man who deliberately insulted all recent immigrants and their families by appealing to the electorate to 'vote for real American' in the 1966 campaign."

"Perhaps," Bonilla concluded, Naccarato would like to reveal the purpose of the meeting of Republican bosses at his tavern this past week? What Washington boss made the trip to Kingston for this meeting? Was Naccarato's attack on Dyson hammered out at that meeting? And, finally, when will the Republican bosses allow Fish to stand up on his own two feet in a public confrontation with John Dyson, so that the voters of the 28th Congressional district can hear his stand on the issues?"

State Approves Rosendale Bid On Water System

The Village of Rosendale has been given approval of its application for the proposed acquisition of a water supply by the New York State Department of Conservation and Water Resources Commission.

Approval was also given to the village's financial and engineering plans for the construction of the water supply system, acording to Mayor Joseph Reid.

A public hearing on the proposal, to be followed by a special referendum, will be scheduled in the near future, Reid said.

The village's application was filed April 10, 1968 and a hearing was held May 1 with the decision being handed down July 25. It was signed by M. W. Lawrence, deputy commissioner of conservation.

Fire Destroys Club

HAMBURG, N.Y. (AP) — Fire has completely destroyed the Sea Crest Supper Club in the nearby town of Hamburg just south of Buffalo and firemen estimated the loss at more than $100,000.

The one-story frame structure was fully involved when the first fire companies arrived on the scene early Sunday. Four additional volunteer companies were quickly called.

Three fire fighters were treated for smoke inhalation and released.

The cause was not determined.

The firemen were at the scene for four hours.

Area Deaths Mar Weekend

By WALTER S. CLARK

Area authorities conducted investigations into the weekend sudden death of a Long Island youth who was shot in the head while target practicing in Columbia County, and two traffic fatalities in Dutchess and Columbia Counties, and an accidental drowning in Copake Lake.

Robert C. Patterson, 27, of Van Kleeck Street, Elmhurst, lost his life at 3:35 a.m. Sunday when his car went out of control on Route 9 at the Wappingers Falls bridge, slammed into an abutment and then virtually split in two pieces.

Body Recovered

Patterson was ejected from the vehicle and hurtled into the Wappingers Creek. Scuba divers from the Dutchess County Rescue Squad recovered the body at 7:30 a.m. yesterday, according to Fishkill State Police.

Troopers said Patterson was traveling south on the highway when he rounded a slight curve and lost control of the car, which crossed the road, hit a utility pole and then crashed into the bridge abutment.

Assistant Medical Examiner Dr. William Thompson of Rhinebeck ordered an autopsy to determine whether the man died of injuries suffered in the accident or from drowning in the creek.

Columbia County Coroner Donald Tkacy withheld a verdict pending further investigation by Claverack State Police in the death of Peter Guttenburg, 18, of Massapequa, L. I., which resulted from a bullet wound in the head on Sunday.

Troopers said the youth had been target shooting at the summer camp of a friend from East Rockaway in a wooded section of the Town of Canaan.

Authorities reported Guttenburg had accompanied Thomas McEwan, 16, Frank Viteritti, 18, and Gregory Campbell, 18, all of Massapequa on the target practice range. They told investigators the four had gone together into the woods just off Cemetery Hill Road between East Chatham and Red Rock at about 9 a. m.

Continue Probe

Details of the shooting were not complete today, as BCI investigators continued their investigation with Coroner Tkacy.

A 19-year-old Nassau youth was fatally injured late Saturday night when a car in which he was a passenger went out of control on Route 203 near Bunker Hill Road in the Columbia County township of Chatham and slammed into a road sign. Charles Joseph Karins was ejected from the vehicle driven by Clifton W. Laraway Jr, 21, also of Nassau.

Failed on Curve

Claverack troopers reported Laraway was driving south on the highway when his vehicle failed to negotiate a sharp cruve, skidded on loose gravel and hit the sign.

John Unson Sr., 55, of Claverack, was presumed drowned Saturday night when his small fishing boat was struck by a speedboat in Copake Lake, Columbia County.

The Columbia County sheriff's office reported Unson and Leon Cotte, 33, also of Claverack, were thrown into about 30 feet of water when the small boat was struck by the high power inboard about 150 feet east of Mosquito Island. Cotte was rescued by two men in a second small boat.

State Police scuba divers took part in a search Sunday for the missing man.

'Sour Grapes,' Bo nilla Reply To Naccarato

A charge of "sour grapes" was leveled today at John Naccarato, spokesman for Republican Congressional candidate, Hamilton Fish Jr.

The blast came from Woodstock Democratic chairman John Bonilla who was replying to Naccarato's accusation Saturday that Democratic Congressional contender John Dyson was "attempting to buy the election."

"Apparently Naccarato is reflecting the sour grapes attitude of Fish who is feeling the loss of support of many prominent Republicans who prefer to support the candidacy of John Dyson," Bonilla said.

"The lack of accuracy and pettiness of Naccarato's statement is evident in his falsely lowering Dyson's age, and in his assertion that 'Dyson's political trucks clog our highways'.

"In actuality, there is only one van, rented by Dyson for campaign use, and one seven-year-old Volkswagen that I personally own and have owned since it left the dealer's lot.

"Dyson is 25 years old, an age he shares with many prominent Americans. Twelve of the 39 signers of the U. S. Constitution were in their twenties when they signed that document.

"Everyone knows," Bonilla continued, "that the Fish family has spent sums of its untold millions in his past and present campaigns. Will Fish reveal to the public how much he has received from the Republican National Committee to assure his success in this district?

'Sour Grapes'

"Further, how can Naccarto, like myself the descendant of immigrants to America, support a man who deliberately insulted all recent immigrants and their families by appealing to the electorate to 'vote for real American' in the 1966 campaign."

"Perhaps," Bonilla concluded, Naccarato would like to reveal the purpose of the meeting of Republican bosses at his tavern this past week? What Washington boss made the trip to Kingston for this meeting? Was Naccarato's attack on Dyson hammered out at that meeting? And, finally, when will the Republican bosses allow Fish to stand up on his own two feet in a public confrontation with John Dyson, so that the voters of the 28th Congressional district can hear his stand on the issues?"

State Approves Rosendale Bid On Water System

The Village of Rosendale has been given approval of its application for the proposed acquisition of a water supply by the New York State Department of Conservation and Water Resources Commission.

Approval was also given to the village's financial and engineering plans for the construction of the water supply system, acording to Mayor Joseph Reid.

A public hearing on the proposal, to be followed by a special referendum, will be scheduled in the near future, Reid said.

The village's application was filed April 10, 1968 and a hearing was held May 1 with the decision being handed down July 25. It was signed by M. W. Lawrence, deputy commissioner of conservation.

Fire Destroys Club

HAMBURG, N.Y. (AP) — Fire has completely destroyed the Sea Crest Supper Club in the nearby town of Hamburg just south of Buffalo and firemen estimated the loss at more than $100,000.

The one-story frame structure was fully involved when the first fire companies arrived on the scene early Sunday. Four additional volunteer companies were quickly called.

Three fire fighters were treated for smoke inhalation and released.

The cause was not determined.

The firemen were at the scene for four hours.

MARIA BEFORE HEART TRANSPLANT
(UPI TELEPHOTO)

'Heart Girl' Is Satisfactory

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Within hours after her heart transplant, Maria Giannaris, 5, was awake, alert and able to visit with her parents.

The Hagerstown, Md., girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, was reported in satisfactory condition at Texas Children's Hospital today.

She became the second child recipient in history Sunday when surgeons transferred the heart of another youngster who had suffered brain hemorrhage. The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient.

The donor was James Dudley Herron II, 11-year-old son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Young Herron suffered a brain hemorrhage Friday and lapsed into a coma. When Dr. Robert Carpenter, the family physician, told the parents the boy was a potential heart donor, they agreed to his transfer to Houston.

The boy was flown here early Sunday and died several hours later without regaining consciousness.

Maria was referred to the Texas Heart Institute by the cardiac clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where her case was diagnosed as severe heart failure.

Her father, who owns a restaurant at the Hagerstown Airport, said Maria was 5½ months old when doctors discovered she had heart disease.

Dr. Alex Haller of Johns Hopkins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said 'we have three boys and we've always wanted a little girl, so now we are going to have one and we can share her with you' "

Mr. and Mrs. Giannaris hav another daughter, Tessie.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed th operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrica stimulation.

Israelis on Rampage As Blast Reprisal

JERUSALEM (AP) — Mobs smashed Arab cars and attacked Arabs in the streets Sunday night after a series of bomb blasts touched off a riot.

Three explosions rocked the city Sunday injuring at least nine persons, two seriously.

Riot Police Called in

Armed riot police were called in to disperse bands of young Israelis who ran through the streets for more than an hour seeking reprisals for the blasts.

One Arab, who was beaten, was in critical condition in a hospital, informed sources said.

Police equipped with night sticks, shields and steel helmets closed all seven gates to the Old City and allowed nobody through.

Informed sources said some 30 Arabs and 20 Israelis—mostly young people—were arrested during the disturbances.

Explosions occurred in the city bus station, in a gas station near the railroad station and at the intersection of King George and Allenby roads after police found two unexploded grenades outside a movie theater and in a public toilet.

Other Developments

In other Middle East developments:

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged machine-gun and artillery fire Sunday afternoon across the Jordan River, near the Allenby Bridge, about 15 miles north of the Dead Sea. Each side said the other started the shooting which lasted almost an hour. No casualties were rportd.

Egyptian army officials said Sunday night that two of Isral's Mirage jets were driven off by antiaircraft fire after they flew over the northern end of the Suez Canal and crossed Egyptian territory.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli army sources said an unspecified number of Egyptian MIG jets were chased by Israeli interceptors after the MIGs flew over Israeli territory between El Quantar aand the Great Bitter Lake, on the Suez Canal.

Ulster's Share

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt recently announced the distribution of $25,359,623.07 as the second 1968-69 quarterly installment of per capita assistance to counties, cities, towns, villages, and town-outside-village municipalities.

Ulster County received $333,048.40 of this aid. Unlike other types of state aid, which are granted for a specific purpose, the per capita aid can be used for any general municipal purposes. The distribution payments include 57 counties of the state, excluding the five which comprise the City of New York, 61 cities, 550 villages, and 932 towns.

Grannie Gives Up Custody Battle

GILBERT, Iowa (UPI)— "That ends it as far as I'm concerned."

That' how Mrs. Dwight Bannister summed up the apparent end to a two-year, widely watched court and family battle over the custody of her 10-year-old grandson, Mark Painter.

Gilbert's minister, dispatched by the Bannisters to California, returned during the weekend to report he was "satisfied" that Mark wished to remain in Brookdale, Calif., with his father, Harold Painter, rather than return to the Bannister farm in Central Iowa.

Mrs. Bannister had promised to abide by the boy's wishes.

She had only the terse comment about the report of the Rev. Clay Lumpkins, pastor of the Gilbert Congressional Church.

Mark's mother, Jeanne Bannister Painter, and his younger sister, were killed in a traffic accident near Pullman, Wash., in December, 1962. About six months later, Painter asked the Bannisters to care for Mark. After remarrying, Painter sought custody of Mark again and the Bannisters refused.

The dispute ended up in the Iowa Supreme Court, which issued an unusual decision in 1966 that aroused great public attention. The court, in reversing a decision by the Story County District Court, said the boy would be better off with his grandparents in a "stable, dependable, conventional, middle-class middle west home."

The high court said this was preferable to placing the boy with his father in a "romantic, impractical, unstable and arty" California environment.

The U.S. Supreme Court refused to consider the case after the Iowa high court handed down its controversial decision.

Under the terms of the Iowa court ruling, Mark was permitted to visit his father, a writer-photographer, once a year. But during this year's visit, Painter started court proceedings in California to gain permanent legal custody of his son.

That was when Mrs. Bannister dispatched the Rev. Mr. Lumpkins to California at the Bannisters' expense.

"I saw the boy and I'm satisfied that this is what he wants," the Rev. Mr. Lumpkins said on his return to Iowa. "I know Mark well enough. We have been pretty good buddies for quite a while. We just had a good relationship—we still do."

Drew Pearson Says — Tyrant Rooney And the Doughnuts

WASHINGTON — Rep. John Rooney, sometimes called the Brooklyn Tyrant, is worried over doughnuts being used by the Small Business Administration. This was the subject of a closed-door grilling which he gave to Robert C. Moot of the SBA regarding a $1,000 fund Moot had requested for "light refreshment" for officials of SCORE and the SBA advisory council.

SCORE members are retired business executives who give free technical and management advice to small business firms, and Rooney wanted to know what was meant by "light refreshments."

Moot replied: "I was thinking of doughnuts and that sort of thing."

Rooney: "Do you mean to tell us that if you got this $1,000 you wouldn't buy any Scotch whisky?"

Moot: "We do not plan to use this for buying any Scotch liquor."

Rooney: "The question wasn't what you plan to do. The question was—if you got the $1,000, would you buy any Scotch with it?"

Moot: "The answer is flatly no."

Rooney: "Why shouldn't the people who borrow the money do the entertaining? Why should the taxpayers do the entertaining?"

Moot: "They (SCORE members) are people helping us by assisting small business. They provide their own time. They are civic leaders."

Rep. Frank Bow, R-Ohio: "What are you going to do for SCORE people who are on a diet like I am? My doctor says I can't eat a doughnut. You probably have some fat people in this SCORE outfit."

Moot: "I really don't think the money is going to provide too much in terms of doughnuts, Mr. Congressman."

Bow: "This is a temptation to those of us on a diet. I would probably eat a doughnut and get on the scales the next morning and find my doctor's advice was not being very well taken. So take care of the dieters, too, will you?"

Moot: "Yes, sir. I will get diet doughnuts if you give me the money."

Loans for Liquor

Whether Uncle Sam should put people in the liquor business with loans from the Small Business Administration has touched of a backstage debate.

In the past the Small Business Administration has followed a strict policy of no loans to gambling establishments, racetracks, newspapers, radio-TV stations, book publishers, banks, hospitals and concerns selling alcoholic beverages on the forbidden list because it was held that bars, beer gardens and liquor dealers did not contribute to the welfare of the community.

However, the new Small Business Administrator, Howard J. Samuels, has dropped the ban and has extended loans to liquor dealers. He claims that the no-loan policy was discriminatory against small businessmen, especially Negroes, who are trying to take over from white liquor dealers in the Negro ghettos.

Samuels, an able administrator and former Under Secretary of Commerce, has just received a hot letter from Rep. Joe Evins, D-Tenn., chairman of the House Small Business Committee, taking him to task.

"All of your predecessors have found valid reasons for continuing the policy against liquor loans," says Evins. "It is suggested that in handling matters of this import, which call for the exercise of discretion conferred upon you by Congress, it would be appreciated if some consultation is held with members of this committee."

What this means is that if liquor loans are not cut off, there will be speeches when Congress returns next month and probably a ban on Uncle Sam financing the liquor business.

Safety Measure Axed

A strange thing has happened to an important section of the 1966 auto safety Act aimed at making cars and highways safer. The provision for an auto safety research and test facility has disappeared.

Those who drive the highways and suffer from auto crashes costing over $12 billion a year don't know that this important part of the Auto Safety Act has been quietly ditched. Someplace along the way the Budget Bureau ruled it out, either because it cost too much or because Detroit doesn't want it—possibly both.

The motor moguls in Detroit have claimed this testing facility would put the government into the auto business. Some members of the Department of Transportation have been shaken by this agrument. Also Congress has decreed a crackdown on spending. As a result, this part of the Auto Safety Act is being sidetracked.

Meanwhile, auto crashes kill 53,000 people annually and injure 4½ million. Meanwhile also, the government operates bureaus responsible for drug safety, bus and rail safety, radiation safety, and health safety, but apparently is ditching the testing facility on auto safety.

Tax Loophole

Hard-hitting young Rep. James J. Howard, D-N.J., is among those urging a strong tax reform plank in the 1968 Democratic platform. In a recent statement Howard declared that any man who aspires to the White House—whether Democrat or Republican—"must represent all of the people, not just the oilmen and those who escape paying their fair share of taxes through loopholes."

He pointed out that, under the notorious "depletion allowance," 20 of the top U.S. oil companies have been making a total net profit of almost $5 billion a year, yet pay an average of only 8.5 per cent in taxes. Mighty Standard Oil of New Jersey, for example, is in the 6.3 per cent bracket.

Howard also wants to tighten loopholes that enable individuals to flimflam the government.

"In 1965," he said, "there were 35 American so-called taxpayers, with incomes exceeding $500,000 a year, who paid no income tax at all—including five with incomes of $5 million or more."

Exodus From Poverty

The War on Poverty may not have recorded any spectacular battle victories, but it is far from being the mismanaged skirmish its critics have likened it to.

In 1967, 2.9 million Americans made it out of poverty, reports the Office of Economic Opportunity, calling this "the greatest exodus from the ranks of the poor in the 10 years that records have been kept and possibly in the nation's history."

In the three years that the OEO has been in existence, seven million Americans have escaped from what is officially classified as poverty status, compared with 4.5 million in the previous five years. In those same three years, the proportion of nonwhite Americans living in poverty dropped from 47 per cent to 35 per cent and the proportion of whites in poverty fell from one in seven to one in 10.

Since 1959, the total number of poor people in the nation has declined from 38.7 million to 26 million as of December 1967—18 million white, eight million nonwhite. Significantly, in the past three years, nonwhites have been moving out of poverty at about nine times the 1959-1964 rate.

The OEO does not claim full credit for these heartening trends. Undoubtedly, the very growth of the economy is responsible for much of the improvement. But it does claim that a substantial share of the accelerated movement out of poverty is the result of its War on Poverty programs.

Though it is difficult to separate the effects of the two factors, it is obvious that the more people who are helped to become productive, tax-paying members of society instead of welfare-absorbing dependents on society, the faster the nation's economic progress will be. It is one cycle that is definitely nonvicious.

Politicians and fond of "looking at the record." The three-year record of the OEO is something congressmen should scrutinize very closely before they dismember that office and scatter its limbs to various other governmental agencies, as some of them want to do.

Some Comments on Our Conferees

It is fashionable, among my confreres of the press, to write the big put-down. People have become no damn good. Motivation, rather than events, makes good stories. Places are shoddy and slummy or gauche, garish and gold-plated. Typewriters helped to drum the current President of the United States out of office.

This is not to say that I do not love my profession and the men in it. For me, there is no other life. I stand by the journalistic neophyte, but I am not blind to his pimples. Nor am I conned by his frantic search for the clever, deprecatiog phrase that pleases him but activates the old duodenal ulcers on the copy desk.

A couple of us, each with more than 25 years in the business, were sipping Geritol on the rocks at Miami Beach as the Republican convention broke up and we autopsied the event as a scheduled, or predictable, story. The Cosa Nostra gets more respect.

In my judgement, the television reporters were the stars of the convention. This time, the Cronkites, the Severeids, the Huntleys and Brinkleys, the Howard K. Smiths took the play away from the candidates. They just walked off with it. I would like to have heard some of the speeches, but the commentators had read the advance copies and decided to interpret for America what was now being enunciated from the lectern.

Gerald Ford, the permanent chairman, was still speaking when Walter Cronkite asked Eric Severeid what he thought of it. The erudite Mr. Severeid dismembered Ford and his "facts" in a dozen complex sentences. Old Uncle Ev Dirksen brought the party platform to life, and the broadcasters cut in with tolerant grins to concede that, whatever else you may think of Senator Dirksen, he sure puts on a show.

The network directors—men behind the scenes who order cameramen to cover certain shots—made a mockery of the proceedings by putting the speaker on the sound track, but placing the cameras on delegates who were reading newspapers, yawning, or sleeping. On the floor, additional reporters came in with delectable predictions from unknown delegates who often opened their mouths beyond their competence.

We who waited patiently to hear Republican leaders had to listen to interpreters interpret the words denied to our ears. They, who had never run for office, could tell us what each candidate had to do to win, and what the GOP will require for victory in November. Television also gave us an erroneous estimate of the California primary vote the night Robert Kennedy was shot.

Nor do I excuse my fellow newspaper reporters, who have become addicted to telling us what is going to happen, rather that reporting the news. We are in the age of the Think Piece, and this too amounts to a put-down. It has become unforgivable for a reporter to write that a politician is personable, sincere, respected. Or worse, that he is patriotic.

These are the men Richard Nixon excoriated in a Los Angeles hotel corridor the night he lost to Kennedy; the men who caused at least two Presidents to cancel subscriptions to certain newspapers. It does not involve freedom of the press, because nothing in the world is freer than the American newspaper.

It's the snide slant that hurts. For example, I live in the Greater Miami area, on the fringes, and you will travel a long distance to find a city as physically attractive. The beach requires no endorsement from me; try to find a hotel room winter or summer. My newspaper brothers called Miami Beach "America's grossest national product." The New York Times referred to Miami Beach as "8.2 miles long, a mile wide, and very square."

Time Magazine said, "The crocodiles have given way to a rather more rapacious species—sharks capable of picking an unwary tourist's wallet to the bone in no time." A reader would hunt for days looking for a reference to the accommodations granted to the press, the expensive security measures engineered by the Miami Beach police department, the cordial welcome of the Miami Herald to the alien craftsmen, the refurbishing of the convention hall for the convenience of television and newspaper reporters.

To denigrate, to deride and defile is the new brand of journalism. This is the first time I've tried it...

Putting the Idle to Work'

President Johnson is having his own troubles with the idle. He and other politicians talk about—but they can't find them.

The newspapers are loaded with "Help Wanted" ads and you can hardly hire anybody to work. Is there an employment agency in the entire country that doesn't see this? Yet the politicians' making political hay, paint a completely different picture.

Well, Mr. Johnson's highly publicized efforts "to put the idle to work" have run into trouble. Private industry has pledged 162,500 permanent new jobs among "the hard-core unemployed," but only 35,000 persons have been found to fill them. President Johnson, in fact, has now urged all state employment agencies, in his own words, to "hunt harder."

Meanwhile, his State of Texas (population 9.5 million) has received more Federal anti-poverty funds than even the State of New York (population 16.7 million) since the office of Economic Opportunity was founded in 1965.

In just New York City, in turn, during history's biggest boom, 872,240 persons were drawing relief in June, some for the second and third generation.

Who has to be told that when a government preaches something-for-nothing long enough, it's sure to create a great many loafers who would not do a day's work if you hit them over the head with a club? But where is the morality in calling on working people to pay for the always-increasing number who simply beat the game by doing nothing?

A few are inevitable. And certainly, I'm not talking about hardship cases or people really deprived for any reason whatever. But the government has practically institutionalized poverty. If the Great Society set out to devise a system to discourage work it could hardly do much better.

Panhandling for votes, the Washington Robin Hoods of the Red Ink emphasize personal responsibility. They piously blame all personal failure on "lack of opportunity," "discrimination," "underprivileged neighborhoods," "educational handicaps and even "national undernourishment," or offer any other convenient alibi.

They toss all insolence, indolence, self-indulgence "society"—which dismisses the individual from responsibility and lets every able-bodied deadbeat nicely off the hook.

The Washington Robin Hoods' political pitch makes money a substitute for all other needs—for hard work, for self-discipline, for diligence, for talent, for nearly everything, including character.

This is obviously good for the politicians and the deadbeats alike, but how about the working people who foot the bill? You can feel the corruption creeping through the bone-structure of the country.

Rep. William V. Roth (R., Del.) has found in an eight-month survey of Federal grant-in-aid programs that there are more than a thousand and that they are disbursing some $20 billion of the taxpayers' money this year.

The so-called War on Poverty has bureaucratized itself to include 170 separate aid programs in its confusions. There are 74 separate business and economic development programs. Eight Washington departments and agencies are administering 69 manpower training and vocational education programs. Twenty bureaus have concocted 470 separate educational programs of other sorts. And, for good measure, seven different bureaus are currently administering 56 separate programs for water conservation and control.

A similar survey by Sen. John J. Williams (R.,Del.) catches the Administration in a scandalous bamboozle immediately prior to President Johnson's signing of the $10 billion tax-increase bill. The self-serving Robin Hoods of the Red Ink secretly beat the game on the professed rollback of Federal employes. They suddenly padded the payroll with an additional 95,350 in June alone—at an added annual cost to the taxpayers of $750 million.

Is it any wonder that, Vietnam war or no Vietnam war, boom or not, no matter how much money we send Washington, it is never enough. They tell us we must make sacrifices. Yet in not one single major instance are the politicians themselves sacrificing anything whatever to play square with the working people, stop the dollar's dwindling purchasing power and protect our savings.

Gen. George C. Marshall once said that the only way to change policies is to change the men who make them. What we really need around this country today is a taxpayers' revolt.

Major Economic Discontent Could Win It for the GOP

WASHINGTON — Economic discontent, if it is large enough, could alone bring about an electoral majority for the Republicans in the coming Presidential election.

The nature and extent of the dissatisfaction among voters in all parts of the country today, however, can hardly be measured politically by studying only the economic statistics. For in many states, farm areas are Republican and the cities are usually Democratic. In fact, in 1936 the Democratic majorities in nine big cities in the United States were sufficient to swing enough electoral votes—together with the then "solid south"—to make for Franklin D. Roosevelt a majority in the electoral college.

Today the low unemployment rate is a factor in favor of the Democrats. A nation that has full employment is presumably prosperous and satisfied. But the truth is that the high wage rates and even recent increases in personal income have been barely enough to offset the upward spurt in the cost of living and in taxes at all levels.

Net farm income is running higher than in 1967 but well below the 1966 total. So farmers are not doing as well as they did two years ago.

The average weekly earnings of factory workers was 123.30 dollars in June, or about a dollar more than in May. But for a worker with three dependents this means, after Social Security and Federal income taxes, an increase of only 78 cents in take home pay. When price increases are taken into account, moreover, the take-home pay in terms of what the dollar would buy eight or nine years ago rose only 21 cents a week. Actually, the current take-home pay is below that of October, November and December of 1965, as well as of December 1967.

The real trouble is that consumer prices have been rising sharply. The cost-of-living index in the second quarter of 1968 was 4.2 per cent above the same period in 1967. This year, prices in June rose at an annual rate of 6 per cent from May.

It is true that personal income, spread over the entire country, has gone up to record levels, which is natural, of course, with the increased population and increased output. But, with the new tax surcharge going into effect in mid-July, the estimated increase of 14 billion dollars in the third quarter will amount to only 5 billion in disposable personal income. This is because of the increased outlay for taxes. When adjusted for inflation, this means that there will be a drop in such income per capita for the first time since the second quarter of 1966.

Perhaps the biggest squeeze of all has occurred among the people who have fixed incomes. Many of them over 65 years of age, including those who live in such states as Florida and California, will be voting against the Democratic Administration because of the higher cost of living and the diminution in the purchasing power of the dollar.

But, while there is a certain amount of discontent due to the high cost of living and the fact that taxes have taken away much of the benefits from the increases in wages, the principal causes of dissatisfaction are not on the economic side. The disturbances in the cities, which are largely governed by officeholders of the Democratic Party, have produced a disillusionment and a resentment against incumbent regimes in the cities and uran areas.

The rise in crime is probably the most disconcerting factor for the Democrats. The crime wave has spread perceptibly in the last few years, and the cities have been unable to cope with it effectively. People are afraid to go out of their homes at night, and there are all kinds of holdups on the streets, often accompanied by beatings or other personal attacks. The situation is much the same in all city areas. The voters are accustomed to put the blame on the party in power for not maintaining law and order.

The war in Vietnam is, of course, a major cause of a shift in sentiment from the Democratic Party, which won an overwhelming victory in 1964. Although peace negotiations are in progress and could suddenly produce some change in the situation, the trend today is toward a large Republican vote on the theory that the Vietnam problem will be better solved by a new leadership than by another Democratic Administration.

The customary indifference to the qualifications of candidates can be expected, as, under circumstances such as exist today, the tendency is to vote against the party in power.

Private industry has pledged 162,500 permanent new jobs among "the hard-core unemployed," but only 35,000 persons have been found to fill them. President Johnson, in fact, has now urged all state employment agencies, in his own words, to "hunt harder."

Meanwhile, his State of Texas (population 9.5 million) has received more Federal anti-poverty funds than even the State of New York (population 16.7 million) since the office of Economic Opportunity was founded in 1965.

In just New York City, in turn, during history's biggest boom, 872,940 persons were drawing relief in June, some for the second and third generation.

Who has to be told that when a government preaches something-for-nothing long enough, it's sure to create a great many loafers who would not do a day's work if you hit them over the head with a club? But where is the morality in calling on working people to pay for the always-increasing number who simply beat the game by doing nothing?

A few are inevitable. And certainly, I'm not talking about hardship cases or people really deprived for any reason whatever. But the government has practically institutionalized poverty. If the Great Society set out to devise a system to discourage work' it could hardly do much better.

Panhandling for votes, the Washington Robin Hoods of the Red Ink emphasize personal responsibility. They piously blame all personal failure on "lack of opportunity," "discrimination," "underprivileged neighborhoods," "educational handicaps and even "national undernourishment," or offer any other convenient alibi.

They toss all insolence, indolence, self-indulgence "society"—which dismisses the individual from responsibility and lets every able-bodied deadbeat nicely off the hook.

The Washington Robin Hoods' political pitch makes money a substitute for all other needs—for hard work, for self - discipline, for diligence, for talent, for nearly everything, including character.

This is obviously good for the politicians and the deadbeats alike, but how about the working people who foot the bill? You can feel the corruption creeping through the bone-structure of the country.

Rep. William V. Roth (R., Del.) has found in an eight-month survey of Federal grant-in-aid programs that there are more than a thousand and that they are disbursing some $20 billion of the taxpayers' money this year.

The so-called War on Poverty has bureaucratized itself to include 170 separate aid programs in its confusions. There are 74 separate business and economic development programs. Eight Washington departments and agencies are administering 69 manpower training and vocational education programs. Twenty bureaus have concocted 470 separate educational programs of other sorts. And, for good measure, seven different bureaus are currently administering 56 separate programs for water conservation and control.

A similar survey by Sen. John J. Williams (R.,Del.) catches the Administration in a scandalous bamboozle immediately prior to President Johnson's signing of the $10 billion tax-increase bill. The self-serving Robin Hoods of the Red Ink secretly beat the game on the professed rollback of Federal employes. They suddenly padded the payroll with an additional 95,350 in June alone—at an added annual cost to the taxpayers of $750 million.

Is it any wonder that, Vietnam war or no Vietnam war, boom or not, no matter how much money we send Washington, it is never enough. They tell us we must make sacrifices. Yet in not one single major instance are the politicians themselves sacrificing anything whatever to play square with the working people, stop the dollar's dwindling purchasing power and protect our savings.

Gen. George C. Marshall once said that the only way to change policies is to change the men who make them. What we really need around this country today is a taxpayers' revolt.

Major Economic Discontent Could Win It for the GOP

WASHINGTON — Economic discontent, if it is large enough, could alone bring about an electoral majority for the Republicans in the coming Presidential election.

The nature and extent of the dissatisfaction among voters in all parts of the country today, however, can hardly be measured politically by studying only the economic statistics. For in many states, farm areas are Republican and the cities are usually Democratic. In fact, in 1936 the Democratic majorities in nine big cities in the United States were sufficient to swing enough electoral votes—together with the then "solid south"—to make for Franklin D. Roosevelt a majority in the electoral college.

Today the low unemployment rate is a factor in favor of the Democrats. A nation that has full employment is presumably prosperous and satisfied. But the truth is that the high wage rates and even recent increases in personal income have been barely enough to offset the upward spurt in the cost of living and in taxes at all levels.

Net farm income is running higher than in 1967 but well below the 1966 total. So farmers are not doing as well as they did two years ago.

The average weekly earnings of factory workers was 123.30 dollars in June, or about a dollar more than in May. But for a worker with three dependents this means, after Social Security and Federal income taxes, an increase of only 78 cents in take home pay. When price increases are taken into account, moreover, the take-home pay in terms of what the dollar would buy eight or nine years ago rose only 21 cents a week. Actually, the current take-home pay is below that of October, November and December of 1965, as well as of December 1967.

The real trouble is that consumer prices have been rising sharply. The cost-of-living index in the second quarter of 1968 was 4.2 per cent above the same period in 1967. This year, prices in June rose at an annual rate of 6 per cent from May.

It is true that personal income, spread over the entire country, has gone up to record levels, which is natural, of course, with the increased population and increased output. But, with the new tax surcharge going into effect in mid-July, the estimated increase of 14 billion dollars in the third quarter will amount to only 5 billion in disposable personal income. This is because of the increased outlay for taxes. When adjusted for inflation, this means that there will be a drop in such income per capita for the first time since the second quarter of 1966.

Perhaps the biggest squeeze of all has occurred among the people who have fixed incomes. Many of them over 65 years of age, including those who live in such states as Florida and California, will be voting against the Democratic Administration because of the higher cost of living and the diminution in the purchasing power of the dollar.

But, while there is a certain amount of discontent due to the high cost of living and the fact that taxes have taken away much of the benefits from the increases in wages, the principal causes of dissatisfaction are not on the economic side. The disturbances in the cities, which are largely governed by officeholders of the Democratic Party, have produced a disillusionment and a resentment against incumbent regimes in the cities and uran areas.

The rise in crime is probably the most disconcerting factor for the Democrats. The crime wave has spread perceptibly in the last few years, and the cities have been unable to cope with it effectively. People are afraid to go out of their homes at night, and there are all kinds of holdups on the streets, often accompanied by beatings or other personal attacks. The situation is much the same in all city areas. The voters are accustomed to put the blame on the party in power for not maintaining law and order.

The war in Vietnam is, of course, a major cause of a shift in sentiment from the Democratic Party, which won an overwhelming victory in 1964. Although peace negotiations are in progress and could suddenly produce some change in the situation, the trend today is toward a large Republican vote on the theory that the Vietnam problem will be better solved by a new leadership than by another Democratic Administration.

The customary indifference to the qualifications of candidates can be expected, as, under circumstances such as exist today, the tendency is to vote against the party in power.

Americans Voice Concern About Big Government

By GEORGE GALLUP

PRINCETON, N. J. Aug. 17 — "Big government," more than "big business" or "big labor," is seen by the public as posing the greatest threat to the nation in the future.

This marks a sharp change from a survey conducted near the end of President Eisenhower's term in 1959, when "big labor," not "big government" was viewed as the greatest threat.

Although "big government" has been a favorite target of the GOP for many years, rank-and-file Democrats are nearly as critical of growing federal power as are Republicans.

Out of every 100 adults interviewed, 46 think big government will be the greatest threat to the country in the future, 26 say labor, 12 say business, while another 16 do not express an opinion. The survey included personal interviews with 1526 people in over 300 localities across the nation.

The following question was asked in a survey completed in mid-July:

"In your opinion, which of the following do you think will be the BIGGEST threat to the country in the future — big business, big labor or big government?"

Here are the latest findings, compared with those recorded at the end of President Eisenhower's term:

| | Aug., '68 | Oct., '59 |
|---|---|---|
| Big government | 46% | 14% |
| Big labor ..... | 26 | 41 |
| Big business .. | 12 | 15 |
| No opinion .... | 16 | 30 |

The sharp shift in opinion between the 1959 and 1968 surveys has not come just recently. A survey in January, 1966, revealed findings virtually the same as today's.

Independents Rap Government Hardest

Politically significant is the fact that the major political groups, those who describe themselves as Independents, are most inclined to say that "big government" constitutes the greatest threat to the nation in the future, as seen in the following table:

| | Reps. | Dems. | Inds. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Govt. ..... | 48 | 41 | 54 |
| Labor ..... | 32 | 23 | 23 |
| Business .... | 9 | 14 | 10 |
| No Opinion . | 11 | 22 | 13 |

Opinion among all major groups is clearly on the side that "big government" is the chief threat, with two exceptions — Negroes and persons whose annual family income is under $3,000 a year. Among these two latter groups, opinion is roughly divided between "big business" and "big labor."

Northern white people are somewhat less inclined to name "big business" than are Southern whites, who as a group have traditionally been strong advocates of states' rights. Union members and non-members alike see "big government" as the greatest threat. Interestingly, the views of both union and non-union people on "big labor" are not far apart.

'Government Robs Initiative'

Among those who think big government is the nation's greatest threat is a youthful business man from Rosemont, Pa.

"To get things done, a country needs initiative on the part of its citizens. Big government robs them of this initiative."

"I don't like government telling me what I can and can't do," said a 42-year-old farmers' wife from Midland, Texas, "but in the last 10 years this has been going on day in and day out."

"The bigger the government gets, the more mistakes it makes," said another housewife, this one from Tampa, Florida.

Labor Unions 'Too Demanding'

A 47-year-old resident of Indianapolis offers a common view among those who think big government is the greatest threat to the nation:

"Labor unions are becoming much too demanding—to the detriment of the public. The cost of living increases with each demand and each strike."

Those who point the finger of blame chiefly at "big business" frequently argue along these lines:

"The little man is being forced out by the big companies, said a 29-year-old Baton Rouge merchant. A Cleveland resident said, "Big business is only interested in themselves—not in moving the country ahead."

Faces Quiz Today in Resort Thefts

Arrested by Monticello police on Sunday for vehicle and traffic law violations, a man identified by Ellenville state police as John Reinosa, was to be questioned today in connection with the reported theft of an automobile and a wallet from a room at Tamarack Lodge.

Sergeant Henry S. Rhodes said Gerald Levine of Brooklyn, complained to troopers early yesterday that someone had entered his room at the lodge and took his car keys, wallet containing money, credit cards and other personal items, and then left in his car.

Hours later Monticello police notified Ellenville troopers they had Reinosa in custody for traffic violations. Sergeant Rhodes said the man would be returned to Ellenville today for questioning.

Levine's car, wallet and other articels were found in possession of the defendant, troopers said.

C. J. Turck, Former City Official, Dies

CHARLES J. TURCK

Former Alderman at large, Charles J. Turck, 55, of 185 Main Street, died Sunday evening after a brief illness.

Turck, well known insurance man and Realtor, conducted the Charles J. Turck & Son Insurance and Real Estate Agency at 319 Broadway with his son.

He was alder-man-at-large in the city from 1947 to 1949. Turck also served on the Kingston Planning and Zoning Boards and for 19 years was assistant secretary for Homeseekers Savings and Loan, now First Federal.

During the 1930's Turck was well known as a semi-professional baseball player, playing shortstop for several outstanding teams in the area. He was also an active golfer and bowler.

Turck was an active member of the Ulster County Board of Realtors, National Board of Realtors, American Legion Post 150, Kingston, St. Joseph's Holy Name Society and Wiltwyck Country club.

A veteran of World War II, he served in the United States Navy.

A lifelong resident of Kingston, Turck was the son of the late John and Theresa Ortale Turck.

Surviving are his widow, the former Frances Gatti; a daughter, Mrs. Bruce (Theresa) Reynolds of Woodstock; a son, John of Kingston; two sisters, Mrs. Anthony (Mary) Sottile of Poughkeepsie and Mrs. Constantine (Marie) Ambrose of Kingston. Eight grandchildren and several nieces and nephews also survive.

The funeral will be held from the Frank H. Simpson Funeral Home, 411 Albany Avenue, Thursday 9 a. m. thence to St. Joseph's Church where at 10 a. m. a solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul.

Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday and Wednesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Gets 20 Days In County Jail, Faces Others

Thomas Stisi, about 25, of Albany Avenue, was in the county jail under sentence of 20 days as the result of a series of incidents including a traffic accident and a courtroom disturbance Saturday night.

Kingston State Police reported Stisi's car was involved in a mishap on Route 9W in the Town of Ulster at 9:50 p. m. Saturday with a car driven by Robert Stein, 18, of Cairo. Later the man was charged with leaving the scene of an accident by State Trooper Patrick Sheehan of Kingston substation.

According to reports, Stisi allegedly became unruly at arraignment before Ulster Town Justice Robert Ferrigan, who cautioned the man he would be charged with contempt of court if he didn't behave. It was reported that Stisi spit on the floor of the courtroom, and then at the judge, who sentenced him to 10 days on two counts of contempt.

Stisi also faces charges of driving without a license, harassment and resisting arrest, authorities said.

Ellenville SP Kept Busy by Many Mishaps

Two persons were injured and a motorist was charged with three violations late Saturday night after a two-car collision on Route 209 in the Town of Wawarsing. The mishap was one of a rash of traffic accidents investigated by Ellenville troopers.

According to a report of Trooper John Huntoon, Russell Casto, 61, of Wawarsing, was charged with operating a car with insufficient lights, stopping in pavement and driving while intoxicated. Troopers said Csato's car had no taillights. The other car was driven by Irwin Decker, 27, of Kerhonkson.

Injured in the mishap were Doris Decker, 21, who sustained leg and back injuries, and Catherine Barringer, 21, who suffered shock, troopers reported.

Five persons were injured in a two-car mishap on Birchall Road north of Route 52 in the Town of Wawarsing at 5:15 p. m. Sunday. The vehicles were driven by Avery Joffe, 43, of Brooklyn, and Jacques Capsoute, 23, of New York City, who received a laceration of the chin. Sabiene Ticher, 18, of Bronx, a passenger in his car sustained contusions of the head.

Evan Joffe, 9, received head injuries, and Joffe's wife, Elizabeth, 35, suffered head and knee injuries. Sergeant Rhodes said Capsoute was driving south and negotiating a curve and the Joffe car was heading in the opposite direction when the vehicles crashed headon.

At 8:20 a. m. Sunday, Debra Miller, 18, of Route 9 Box 183, Kingston, was driving her car east on Kripplebush Road when she apparently fell asleep, troopers said. The car went off the right shoulder and hit a utility pole. The driver received a facial laceration.

Joseph Knowles, 19, of Pine Bush, was injured at 12:15 a. m. today when his westbound car left the right side of Route 52, skidded across the highway and overturned. The youth was ejected and the car continued on down an embankment. He was taken to Ellenville Community Hospital and treated for head injuries. Later, troopers said, he was transferred to Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie. Trooper Wayne Lawrence investigated.

Chief, Aide Bedded

Olive Fire Department has a chief and an assistant chief, but today neither officer was in condition to respond to fire alarms or other emergency calls.

Chief Albert Fox and Deputy Chief Robert Adsit are both patients in the Kingston Hospital, and ironically, both are in the same room.

It was learned that Chief Fox suffered torn ligaments and an ankle injury Saturday afternoon when he was "pushed" by one of the cows on his farm. Deputy Adsit also is under treatment for an ankle injury. It was reported that he sustained the injury while swimming at the Y.M.C.A. Camp at Shokan on Sunday.

'Soundin' Is Success and Trouble-Free

The "Soundin" music festival held in the Town of Saugerties hamlet of High Woods on the weekend was an apparent success and predictions of trouble from irate area residents failed to arise.

Rock and folk-rock music makers played to hundreds of listeners who traveled to the farm property of Woodstock art dealer Pam Copeland for the three-day event.

The music was accompanied by a light show, with abstract figures flashing on a screen that had been built behind a makeshift stage.

The listeners sat around the stage on blankets and on coats as well-known performers from the rock field played from 2 p. m. to 12 midninght on both Saturday and Sunday.

A similar festival is scheduled for Aug. 30, 31, and Sept. 1.

False Alarm At Benedictine

Kingston firemen were dispatched to Benedictine Hospital at 4:30 a. m. today, in response to a general alarm. On arrival firemen learned that a surge in water pressure touched off the alarm. There was no fire. Thoughtfully, drivers of the several pieces of apparatus that responded refrained from using the sirens on the vehicles en route to the hospital.

Injured in Crash

Richard Danko, 25, of Bearsville, was injured Saturday when his car went out of control on Yerry Hill Road, Town of Woodstock, and hit a tree. Danko was treated at Kingston Hospital for lacerations of the right cheek, fractured ribs and neck injuries, according to a report of Trooper Carl Van Wagenen. The car was going south when it failed to negotiate a curve.

First Steps

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI)—Nobuo Miyazaki, 18, Japan's first heart transplant patient, took his first steps today since he received the heart of a drowning victim 11 days ago. Miyazaki ate liquid rice, soybean soup, boiled eggs and boiled fish paste for breakfast, using chopsticks.

Ellenville SP Kept Busy by Many Mishaps

Two persons were injured and a motorist was charged with three violations late Saturday night after a two-car collision on Route 209 in the Town of Wawarsing. The mishap was one of a rash of traffic accidents investigated by Ellenville troopers.

According to a report of Trooper John Huntoon, Russell Casto, 61, of Wawarsing, was charged with operating a car with insufficient lights, stopping in pavement and driving while intoxicated. Troopers said Csato's car had no taillights. The other car was driven by Irwin Decker, 27, of Kerhonkson.

Injured in the mishap were Doris Decker, 21, who sustained leg and back injuries, and Catherine Barringer, 21, who suffered shock, troopers reported.

Five persons were injured in a two-car mishap on Birchall Road north of Route 52 in the Town of Wawarsing at 5:15 p. m. Sunday. The vehicles were driven by Avery Joffe, 43, of Brooklyn, and Jacques Capsoute, 23, of New York City, who received a laceration of the chin. Sabiene Ticher, 18, of Bronx, a passenger in his car sustained contusions of the head.

Evan Joffe, 9, received head injuries, and Joffe's wife, Elizabeth, 35, suffered head and knee injuries. Sergeant Rhodes said Capsoute was driving south and negotiating a curve and the Joffe car was heading in the opposite direction when the vehicles crashed headon.

At 8:20 a. m. Sunday, Debra Miller, 18, of Route 9 Box 183, Kingston, was driving her car east on Kripplebush Road when she apparently fell asleep, troopers said. The car went off the right shoulder and hit a utility pole. The driver received a facial laceration.

Joseph Knowles, 19, of Pine Bush, was injured at 12:15 a. m. today when his westbound car left the right side of Route 52, skidded across the highway and overturned. The youth was ejected and the car continued on down an embankment. He was taken to Ellenville Community Hospital and treated for head injuries. Later, troopers said, he was transferred to Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie. Trooper Wayne Lawrence investigated.

Chief, Aide Bedded

Olive Fire Department has a chief and an assistant chief, but today neither officer was in condition to respond to fire alarms or other emergency calls.

Chief Albert Fox and Deputy Chief Robert Adsit are both patients in the Kingston Hospital, and ironically, both are in the same room.

It was learned that Chief Fox suffered torn ligaments and an ankle injury Saturday afternoon when he was "pushed" by one of the cows on his farm. Deputy Adsit also is under treatment for an ankle injury. It was reported that he sustained the injury while swimming at the Y.M.C.A. Camp at Shokan on Sunday.

'Soundin' Is Success and Trouble-Free

The "Soundin" music festival held in the Town of Saugerties hamlet of High Woods on the weekend was an apparent success and predictions of trouble from irate area residents failed to arise.

Rock and folk-rock music makers played to hundreds of listeners who traveled to the farm property of Woodstock art dealer Pam Copeland for the three-day event.

The music was accompanied by a light show, with abstract figures flashing on a screen that had been built behind a makeshift stage.

The listeners sat around the stage on blankets and on coats as well-known performers from the rock field played from 2 p. m. to 12 midninght on both Saturday and Sunday.

A similar festival is scheduled for Aug. 30, 31, and Sept. 1.

False Alarm At Benedictine

Kingston firemen were dispatched to Benedictine Hospital at 4:30 a. m. today, in response to a general alarm. On arrival firemen learned that a surge in water pressure touched off the alarm. There was no fire. Thoughtfully, drivers of the several pieces of apparatus that responded refrained from using the sirens on the vehicles en route to the hospital.

Injured in Crash

Richard Danko, 25, of Bearsville, was injured Saturday when his car went out of control on Yerry Hill Road, Town of Woodstock, and hit a tree. Danko was treated at Kingston Hospital for lacerations of the right cheek, fractured ribs and neck injuries, according to a report of Trooper Carl Van Wagenen. The car was going south when it failed to negotiate a curve.

Bogota Prepares for Pope by Cleaning Up Streets

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — "Bogota isn't ugly. All it needs is a bit of makeup."

With that thought in mind and an eye out for the approaching visit of Pope Paul VI, city fathers are pushing a multimillion-dollar facelifting that has given this gray, chilly, 8,600-foot high capital a sparkle it probably has never known in its 430 years.

Caught up in the spirit of things, homeowners are painting their house fronts, trimming gardens and trees. Businessmen are tidying up their establishments. The grime of years is being removed from the aging fronts of the National Cathedral, the Municipal Palace and the Capitol.

Streets are being cleared of prostitutes, pickpockets and beggars. Police are everywhere and a legion of traffic cops is making it possible for people to walk—not dash desperately—at pedestrian crossings.

Many of the public works projects—new sewage and lighting systems and expressways—now completed or under way had been in the planning stage for several years. They were accelerated by the selection of Bogota for two important religious meetings, an International Eucharistic Congress and the conference of the Latin American Episcopal Council, and finally by the definite news that the Pope would be a visitor Aug. 22-24.

Estimates of the cost of the papal visit alone, exclusive of the public works programs, range as high as $10 million in new installations and preparations. The city and national governments, as well as the Catholic Church, are financing it.

The Pope's visit has aroused glowing pride among most Colombians but there are dissidents.

Some express disappointment the Pope will stay at the papal nunciature instead of the home of a Colombian priest. Others go, they'll stay.

say state funds—derived from taxes on Jews, Protestants and non-Catholics as well as Catholics—should not have been used in the preparations.

A sociologist sees Bogota's urban problems worsened by the papal visit which may increase the city's 2 million population by 10,000 or more visitors who stay in the city.

"The poor will sell pig or cow or whatever they own just to make the pilgrimage," he says, "And once here with po place to

Marine Brig Riot; Agitators Removed

By ROBERT OHMAN
Associated Press Writer

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A U.S. spokesman said today that 40 "agitators" had been moved from the riot-torn Marine brig in an attempt to restore order.

The 40 men were guarded by 120 military police, after being cut off from the other prisoners with a teargas barrage Sunday, then marched to a smaller barbed-wire compound nearby.

Lt. Col. Joseph M. Gambardella, commander of the 300-prisoner brig just northwest of Da Nang, said there were no injuries in an outburst Sunday. It erupted when about 70 parolees and trusties began packing their gear to be moved to another area.

Resentment built up among the other prisoners, a spokesman said, and about 40 began rampaging through the compound.

He said Gambardella sent in his riot force of MPs, and they fired some 20 canisters of tear gas to suppress the riot.

Trouble first broke out in the brig Friday night when many prisoners began a noisy protest against cold food, long delays awaiting trial and prison regulations.

Eight prisoners and one guard were injured, none seriously, Gambardella said.

The prisoners held the compound for nearly 20 hours, freeing 17 inmates in the maximum security cellblock and burning the block down before order was temporarily restored Saturday night.

Many of the public works projects—new sewage and lighting systems and expressways—now completed or under way had been in the planning stage for several years. They were accelerated by the selection of Bogota for two important religious meetings, an International Eucharistic Congress and the conference of the Latin American Episcopal Council, and finally by the definite news that the Pope would be a visitor Aug. 22-24.

Estimates of the cost of the papal visit alone, exclusive of the public works programs, range as high as $10 million in new installations and preparations. The city and national governments, as well as the Catholic Church, are financing it.

The Pope's visit has aroused glowing pride among most Colombians but there are dissidents.

Some express disappointment the Pope will stay at the papal nunciature instead of the home of a Colombian priest. Others say state funds—derived from taxes on Jews, Protestants and non-Catholics as well as Catholics—should not have been used in the preparations.

A sociologist sees Bogota's urban problems worsened by the papal visit which may increase the city's 2 million population by 10,000 or more visitors who stay in the city.

"The poor will sell pig or cow or whatever they own just to make the pilgrimage," he says, "And once here with po place to go, they'll stay."

Marine Brig Riot; Agitators Removed

By ROBERT OHMAN
Associated Press Writer

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A U.S. spokesman said today that 40 "agitators" had been moved from the riot-torn Marine brig in an attempt to restore order.

The 40 men were guarded by 120 military police, after being cut off from the other prisoners with a teargas barrage Sunday, then marched to a smaller barbed-wire compound nearby.

Lt. Col. Joseph M. Gambardella, commander of the 300-prisoner brig just northwest of Da Nang, said there were no injuries in an outburst Sunday. It erupted when about 70 parolees and trusties began packing their gear to be moved to another area.

Resentment built up among the other prisoners, a spokesman said, and about 40 began rampaging through the compound.

He said Gambardella sent in his riot force of MPs, and they fired some 20 canisters of tear gas to suppress the riot.

Trouble first broke out in the brig Friday night when many prisoners began a noisy protest against cold food, long delays awaiting trial and prison regulations.

Eight prisoners and one guard were injured, none seriously, Gambardella said.

The prisoners held the compound for nearly 20 hours, freeing 17 inmates in the maximum security cellblock and burning the block down before order was temporarily restored Saturday night.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market opened higher on moderate turnover today, apparently headed into its second week of rally.

Shortly after the opening, the UPI indicator which measures all stocks traded, was up .30 per cent on 760 issues—390 higher, 186 lower. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial blue chips was running slightly higher.

Most major groups—the steels, motors, oils, rails—showed fractional improvement. Du Pont dropped ¾ to 153 and Allied Chemical dipped ⅛ to 35⅜.

A handful of issues showed opening gains of a point or more—1¾ to 97¾ in Atlantic Richfield, a point to 54 in Hess Oil, ⅞ to 41 in General Telephone, 1½ to 126½ Motorona, a point to 109¼, Polaroid.

Among steels, Bethlehem, U.S. Steel, Armco improved fractionally. Jones & Laughlin opened at 61¾, up 1¼.

Ford, American Motors, Chrysler opened slightly higher.

5 Persons Hurt, 2 in Weekend City Accidents

Four persons were injured and treated at Kingston Hospital after a two-car collision at 5:50 p. m. Saturday on Elmendorf Street at Tremper Avenue. A 14-year-old boy was injured at 1:30 p. m. Sunday when his bicycle was involved in a mishap at East Chester Street and Hasbrouck Avenue.

Kingston police spent a busy weekend citing speeders that were checked by radar, investigating accidents and making arrests on various charges.

Involved in the collision on Elmendorf Street was a 1967 sedan driven by Richard W. Messina, 23, of South Road, Marlboro, and a 1963 convertible operated by Richard R. Schmidt, 18, of 42 Fairmont Avenue. Messina, according to a police report, was driving south on Tremper Avenue, when the Schmidt car allegedly passed a stop sign and the crash occurred. The Messina car was forced against a utility pole.

Messina received injuries of the back, arms and right knee. Carol Messina, 25, sustained injuries of the right leg, head and left elbow. Passengers in the Schmidt car were William Keating, 18, of 315 Main Street, who complained of possible injuries of the right hip, and Robert Van Kuren, 19, of 114 O'Neil Street, who received a laceration of the head. The injured were treated at Kingston Hospital.

Schmidt was cited for passing a stop sign.

Kevin Bonesteel, 14, of 351 Broadway, sustained injuries of the right leg yesterday afternoon, when his bicycle was in collision with a 1956 sedan operated by Giacomo Carlino, 56, of Woodhaven. The boy was treated at Kingston Hospital.

Police said Carlino was driving east on East Chester Street when the boy went throught the intersection at Hasbrouck Avenue and was in contact with the sedan.

Theodore F. Garrison, 21, of 300 Clinton Avenue, was cited for leaving the scene of an accident Sunday shortly after 8 p. m. Police reports noted that Garrison was driving south on Broadway when his car reportedly was in collision with a sedan owned by Jeannie E. McMillan of 42 Elmendorf Street, which was parked in front of the Colonial Diner.

28-28A Span To Be Opened By Week's End

Maurice Feldman, Commissioner of the Bureau of Water Supply in New York City has announced that construction on the new bridge connecting Routes 28 and 28A across the Ashokan Reservoir is almost completed and that the new span will be open to traffic by the end of the week.

An official for the Bureau of Water Supply told The Freeman today that, "There are still some hazards on the bridge at the present time and it would not be safe to open the bridge to traffic right away." He did state, however, that, "There are only minor alterations to be made. The bridge should definitely be open by Aug. 23, (Friday)."

Construction on the bridge began in April of 1967 and had been interrupted several times because of inclement weather. The new span is being constructed on the site of an older, narrow lane structure that was built when the reservoir was first formed.

Completion of the bridge will mark the end of a 14 mile detour that motorists had to take in order to get across the water supply area. The cost of the new span is being covered by the City of New York, which owns all the property surrounding the reservoir.

Man Charged With Burglary At Bates Club

James Abernathy, a guest at the Peg Leg Bates Country Club in Kerhonkson, caught and held a 22-year-old man who had minutes earlier, allegedly stolen his wallet while he and his wife were alseep early Sunday morning.

According to Ellenville State Police, Willie Jones of Camp Radtob in Kerhonkson, entered Abernathy's room at approximately 5:30 a. m. Sunday morning. After prowling around the room for several minutes Jones extracted Abernathy's wallet, containing in excess of $60, from his pants pocket and headed towards the door. Abernathy, however, awoke just as Jones was leaving the room, subdued the thief after a brief scuffle and phoned the police.

Jones was booked by Ellenville State Police on charges of burglary and was arraigned before Town of Rochester Justice Abram Smith on Sunday. He waived preliminary examination and was held for action by the Grand Jury. Jones was taken to the Ulster County Jail where he is being held in lieu of $2,000 bail.

Leave Rare Ones

INDEPENDENCE, Ore. (AP) —Burglars took $200,000 in rare coins from the safe of Francis Holt. But they left some of the rarest coins and dropped about half the coins they took, Holt said.

Holt said he fired at the burglars when he saw them as he returned home. He said they were not knowledgeable coin thieves, because "they didn't take some of the rarest coins."

Police on the West Coast were alerted and given a list of the missing coins.

Typhoon Toll 24

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Typhoon Polly which hit South Korea last week killed 24 persons, the Home Ministry reported today.

Twelve persons were missing, 24 injured and about 19,000 left homeless or with damaged homes, the report said.

The ministry estimated property damage at $7 million.

Government Hits Con Edison For Summer Power Failures

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A Public Service Commission expert has taken a public swipe at the Consolidated Edison Company's program for preventing new losses of power and drops in electric power in New ork City area.

The critical appraisal of Con Ed's plan is contained in a report to the commission which was made public Sunday.

In its announcement, based on the report, the PSC said its staff was "carefully analyzing" construction programs and revised procedures for forecasting future power needs.

The giant utility is moving to prevent a recurrence of the series of failures and power sags that occurred in June and July in Queens, Brooklyn and Staten Island.

Efforts by Con Ed thus far apparently are not entirely satisfactory in the eyes of PSC Electric Engineer Harold L. Colbeth. In his report to the commission, Colbeth said the utility's construction program was "for the most part ameliorative" but "does not reach the basic problem of forecasting deficiency."

The report observed that the power failures and declines generally were caused by staggering demands on lines made by widespread use of air-conditioners during hot weather. The proliferation of window type air-conditioners has added to the problems of load forecasting," the report said.

In one instance, the report continued, "there is evidence that Con Edison's load forecasting methods as applied to certain areas of Queens were not equal to the needs and did not provide sufficient information."

In its announcement, the PSC said it would take "appropriate action should there be any indicated inadequacies in the company's procedures or if its revised program for the forecasting of peak load requirements in individual areas should not appear to be adequate to assure full service to the public."

In another announcement Sunday, the PSC said it would hold a hearing here Sept. 12 on a proposal to make utilities pay higher interest to customers requiring to make deposits before being served.

It would raise the interest payment from four to five per cent for all utilities except gas and electric companies.

The four per cent rate for gas and electric utilities now is prescribed by state law. This means that the PSC may not require them to pay a higher interest rate.

Fish Lashes At Crime Gain

Speaking before more than 100 persons in Beacon last night, Hamilton Fish Jr., the Republican candidate for Congress, lashed out at the increase of crime in the streets, stating flatly, "A policeman, or anybody who influences a policeman not to enforce the law 100 per cent, is themself breaking the law."

Fish, who made his remarks following a ribbon cutting ceremony that opened his Beacon headquarters at 209 Main Street, declared, "Crime must be wiped from our streets. Safety and public order must be maintained. People must be free from crime."

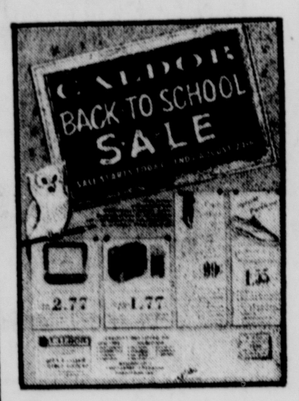

Placing the problem at the Democratic party's doorstep, Fish said, "Since 1961, when Eisenhower left office, crime has increased a whopping 88 per cent. Under two Democratic Administrations crime has been elevated from problem status to the nation's number one domestic issue. America must declare a war against crime."

5 Persons Hurt, 2 in Weekend City Accidents

Four persons were injured and treated at Kingston Hospital after a two-car collision at 5:50 p. m. Saturday on Elmendorf Street at Tremper Avenue. A 14-year-old boy was injured at 1:30 p. m. Sunday when his bicycle was involved in a mishap at East Chester Street and Hasbrouck Avenue.

Kingston police spent a busy weekend citing speeders that were checked by radar, investigating accidents and making arrests on various charges.

Involved in the collision on Elmendorf Street was a 1967 sedan driven by Richard W. Messina, 23, of South Road, Marlboro, and a 1963 convertible operated by Richard R. Schmidt, 18, of 42 Fairmont Avenue. Messina, according to a police report, was driving south on Tremper Avenue, when the Schmidt car allegedly passed a stop sign and the crash occurred. The Messina car was forced against a utility pole.

Messina received injuries of the back, arms and right knee. Carol Messina, 25, sustained injuries of the right leg, head and left elbow. Passengers in the Schmidt car were William Keating, 18, of 315 Main Street, who complained of possible injuries of the right hip, and Robert Van Kuren, 19, of 114 O'Neil Street, who received a laceration of the head. The injured were treated at Kingston Hospital.

Schmidt was cited for passing a stop sign.

Kevin Bonesteel, 14, of 351 Broadway, sustained injuries of the right leg yesterday afternoon, when his bicycle was in collision with a 1956 sedan operated by Giacomo Carlino, 56, of Woodhaven. The boy was treated at Kingston Hospital.

Police said Carlino was driving east on East Chester Street when the boy went throught the intersection at Hasbrouck Avenue and was in contact with the sedan.

Theodore F. Garrison, 21, of 300 Clinton Avenue, was cited for leaving the scene of an accident Sunday shortly after 8 p. m. Police reports noted that Garrison was driving south on Broadway when his car reportedly was in collision with a sedan owned by Jeannie E. McMillan of 42 Elmendorf Street, which was parked in front of the Colonial Diner.

28-28A Span To Be Opened By Week's End

Maurice Feldman, Commissioner of the Bureau of Water Supply in New York City has announced that construction on the new bridge connecting Routes 28 and 28A across the Ashokan Reservoir is almost completed and that the new span will be open to traffic by the end of the week.

An official for the Bureau of Water Supply told The Freeman today that, "There are still some hazards on the bridge at the present time and it would not be safe to open the bridge to traffic right away." He did state, however, that, "There are only minor alterations to be made. The bridge should definitely be open by Aug. 23, (Friday)."

Construction on the bridge began in April of 1967 and had been interrupted several times because of inclement weather. The new span is being constructed on the site of an older, narrow lane structure that was built when the reservoir was first formed.

Completion of the bridge will mark the end of a 14 mile detour that motorists had to take in order to get across the water supply area. The cost of the new span is being covered by the City of New York, which owns all the property surrounding the reservoir.

Leave Rare Ones

INDEPENDENCE, Ore. (AP) —Burglars took $200,000 in rare coins from the safe of Francis Holt. But they left some of the rarest coins and dropped about half the coins they took, Holt said.

Holt said he fired at the burglars when he saw them as he returned home. He said they were not knowledgeable coin thieves, because "they didn't take some of the rarest coins."

Police on the West Coast were alerted and given a list of the missing coins.

Man Charged With Burglary At Bates Club

James Abernathy, a guest at the Peg Leg Bates Country Club in Kerhonkson, caught and held a 22-year-old man who had minutes earlier, allegedly stolen his wallet while he and his wife were alseep early Sunday morning.

According to Ellenville State Police, Willie Jones of Camp Radtob in Kerhonkson, entered Abernathy's room at approximately 5:30 a. m. Sunday morning. After prowling around the room for several minutes Jones extracted Abernathy's wallet, containing in excess of $60, from his pants pocket and headed towards the door. Abernathy, however, awoke just as Jones was leaving the room, subdued the thief after a brief scuffle and phoned the police.

Jones was booked by Ellenville State Police on charges of burglary and was arraigned before Town of Rochester Justice Abram Smith on Sunday. He waived preliminary examination and was held for action by the Grand Jury. Jones was taken to the Ulster County Jail where he is being held in lieu of $2,000 bail.

ARRESTED — Billy Ray White, placed on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted men on Aug. 13, was arrested in Wood River, Ill., late Saturday for armed robbery and a double murder in Budville, N. M. The 25-year-old White was arrested with little resistance at an apartment by FBI agents acting on a tip with police from Wood River, Roxana and Hartford. The suspect was not armed, the FBI said. White was wanted in connection with the Oct. 21, 1967 robbery of an Albuquerque, N. M., loan company and the armed robbery of a Budville general store less than a month later, the FBI said. The owner of the general store and a woman clerk were killed in the holdup. (UPI TELEPHOTO.)

Typhoon Toll 24

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Typhoon Polly which hit South Korea last week killed 24 persons, the Home Ministry reported today.

Twelve persons were missing, 24 injured and about 19,000 left homeless or with damaged homes, the report said.

Government Hits Con Edison For Summer Power Failures

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A Public Service Commission expert has taken a public swipe at the Consolidated Edison Company's program for preventing new losses of power and drops in electric power in New ork City area.

The critical appraisal of Con Ed's plan is contained in a report to the commission which was made public Sunday.

In its announcement, based on the report, the PSC said its staff was "carefully analyzing" construction programs and revised procedures for forecasting future power needs.

The giant utility is moving to prevent a recurrence of the series of failures and power sags that occurred in June and July in Queens, Brooklyn and Staten Island.

Efforts by Con Ed thus far apparently are not entirely satisfactory in the eyes of PSC Electric Engineer Harold L. Colbeth. In his report to the commission, Colbeth said the utility's construction program was "for the most part ameliorative" but "does not reach the basic problem of forecasting deficiency."

The report observed that the power failures and declines generally were caused by staggering demands on lines made by widespread use of air-conditioners during hot weather. The proliferation of window type air-conditioners has added to the problems of load forecasting," the report said.

In one instance, the report continued, "there is evidence that Con Edison's load forecasting methods as applied to certain areas of Queens were not equal to the needs and did not provide sufficient information."

In its announcement, the PSC said it would take "appropriate action should there be any indicated inadequacies in the company's procedures or if its revised program for the forecasting of peak load requirements in individual areas should not appear to be adequate to assure full service to the public."

In another announcement Sunday, the PSC said it would hold a hearing here Sept. 12 on a proposal to make utilities pay higher interest to customers requiring to make deposits before being served.

It would raise the interest payment from four to five per cent for all utilities except gas and electric companies.

The four per cent rate for gas and electric utilities now is prescribed by state law. This means that the PSC may not require them to pay a higher interest rate.

Fish Lashes At Crime Gain

Speaking before more than 100 persons in Beacon last night, Hamilton Fish Jr., the Republican candidate for Congress, lashed out at the increase of crime in the streets, stating flatly, "A policeman, or anybody who influences a policeman not to enforce the law 100 per cent, is themself breaking the law."

Fish, who made his remarks following a ribbon cutting ceremony that opened his Beacon headquarters at 209 Main Street, declared, "Crime must be wiped from our streets. Safety and public order must be maintained. People must be free from crime."

Placing the problem at the Democratic party's doorstep, Fish said, "Since 1961, when Eisenhower left office, crime has increased a whopping 88 per cent. Under two Democratic Administrations crime has been elevated from problem status to the nation's number one domestic issue. America must declare a war against crime."

NRECRUITER HONORED — About 50 members of the Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League attended a dinner recently in honor of Marine Gunnery Sergeant Clifford A. Claypool at Gene Whalen's Restaurant, Wall Street. The sergeant is leaving his recruiting duties in Kingston after three years for assignment in Vietnam. Tape recorders — one for himself, the other for his wife, and a number of tapes, were presented to Claypool. Presentations were made by Ulster Detachment Commandant Raymond Malecki (L) and New York State Commandant Gilbert E. Gray (R), who said in their brief remarks at the dinner that Claypool's services in Kingston were outstanding and his aid to the Marine Corps League has been invaluable.

Demos Promise Lively Show

Washington Window
By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Any display of party unity usually produces a dull show. The unity-minded GOP managed to squeeze only a little drama out of their national convention last week.

The Democrats have never been noted for unity, at least before their national conventions, and they may have more trouble this year than ever before in restoring a measure of harmony after their convention.

Seemingly endless rounds or oratory are no substitute for drama to excite the watchers of the picture tube. The Republicans offered little else from their convention hall at Miami Beach.

The more exciting efforts to round up delegates to insure or prevent a first ballot nomination for Richard M. Nixon occurred off-camera.

Near Nixon's Best

For the finale, the delegates heard Nixon's acceptance speech. It was Nixon near his best—with a text in front of him—but not as good as his 1960 acceptance speech, which he may have memorized and rehearsed but delivered without a text to read.

On that same night, there was a small scale revolt against approval of Nixon's choice, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, for the vice presidential nomination, but it hardly rated as civil war.

Climax of the convention came the night before on the balloting on the nomination for president. Nixon looked like a sure winner, but campaigners for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California dispensed enough propaganda to leave some nagging doubts until the votes were cast.

Before the balloting, 12 candidates were placed in nomination—nine in addition to the three national contenders. It was after 1 a.m. in the East and many television viewers in the most heavily populated regions of the country had gone to bed before the voting began.

Face Same Problem

Democratic convention managers are facing a similar problem when they ballot. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is far in front now in any delegate count, but Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and the late-starting Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota also are national claimants for the nomination.

In addition, the Democrats may have a dozen favorite son candidates placed in nomination at their convention opening at Chicago Aug. 26. Unless the Democrats start earlier they also may find themselves easting prime time on television.

However they handle the balloting on the nomination, the Democrats are braced for some head-knocking brawls over the seating of delegates and writing the 1968 campaign platform.

A good family row may not be part of a Democratic recipe for victory in 1968. The party splits appear deeper and run in different directions than those in earlier presidential election years.

Missing Liberty Girl Found Dead in Loft

LIBERTY, N.Y. (UPI)—Three years ago this month, 21-year-old Taeresa Sowa came from her native Poland to live with relatives in this Sullivan County village.

Taeresa got a job at Grossingers Hotel nearby but, on Oct. 23 of that year--1965, she failed to show up for work.

The family of her uncle, Jean Kupiec, reported her missing and state police conducted an intensive search, but there was no trace of her. They abandoned the search on Nov. 2, although the case was kept in their "open" file.

Sunday, it was marked closed.

Dr. Charles Lerner, visiting some farm property he owns, climbed into a barn loft and saw a foot sticking out from under an old rug.

The body, which troopers said was in a mummified condition, proved to be that of Miss Sowa. Dr. Sidney Schiff, coroner, issued a ruling of accidental death due to exposure.

Fire Destroys Barn in Greene; 4 Units Respond

A four-alarm blaze late Sunday afternoon destroyed a barn filled with hay on Route 9W near the Greene County village of West Coxsackie.

The blaze was reported at 3:36 p. m. yesterday afternoon with four companies — West Athens, Athens, Catskill and Coxsackie — responding to the alarm. The fire fighters were unable to extinguish the blaze but they did prevent it from spreading to adjoining buildings. The barn was owned by the Sterbit Farms of West Coxsackie.

The blaze was extinguished at approximately 11 p. m. with the last piece of apparatus returning to its station at midnight. The cause of the blaze was not determined and is currently under investigation.

County Vols to Meet

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will hold its August meeting at the Marlboro Firehouse Tuesday night at 8 p. m.

Liberal HHH Big in South

By DAVID ANDERSON

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, whose name used to be a scare word in much of the conservative Southwest, now is the region's heavy favorite for the Democratic presidential nomination.

A United Press International survey of nine states—Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, and Wyoming—shows Humphrey with an apparently insurmountable lead over Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

These states will cast 395 convention votes. Humphrey could get 353 of them, and probably will if he looks like a winner when the roll call begins at Chicago.

Some unforeseen development might reduce Humphrey's total to about 150—but the balance of power in that event would shift to favorite sons, not McCarthy.

May Get 70

It appears the most McCarthy can hope for is 70 first-ballot votes from these states. He might get no more than 30.

The Minnesota senator's only strong state is Colorado, where a McCarthy-Robert F. Kennedy coalition controlled the state convention and won possibly 21 of the state's 35 votes.

None of these nine states has a presidential primary. Delegates are picked by convention or committee, and most of the party regulars who control the processes obviously don't like McCarthy.

What would hurt Humphrey most in the Southwest would be a holdout by two Humphrey-leaning favorite sons, Govs. John Connally of Texas and John McKeithen of Louisiana.

Connally controls 104 votes and McKeithen 36. Both are expected to give Humphrey their support if and when he needs it, but there is a chance something could arise and make them hold out.

Unknown Factor

The 33 delegate votes wielded by Arkansas are bound by unit rule, and Humhprey is the favorite there. The major unknown factor is Sen. J. William Fulbright, who is reported considering a favorite son role.

Fulbright is friendly with both Humphrey and McCarthy, but differs with the vice president over the Vietnam War. Some suspect a Fulbright favorite son attempt would amount to a maneuver on McCarthy's behalf.

Of Colorado's 35 votes, nine still are committed to the late Sen. Kennedy. Delegates with 14 votes lean to Humphrey, and 12 to McCarthy. McCarthy supporters hope to pick up the Kennedy votes.

In Kansas, all 38 votes apparently will go to Humphrey, but McCarthy workers say one delegate is leaning toward their man, and five more could switch.

Louisiana's 36 votes are pledged to Gov. John McKeithen until he releases them. McKeithen was an early Humphrey supporter, and speculation is that he will throw his votes to the vice president late in the first-ballot roll call, possibly to put Humphrey over the top.

Humphrey supporters claim 56 of the 60 in Missouri. McCarthy backers concede Humphrey 40. McCarthy people plan a seating challenge on grounds there were irregularities in delegate selection.

In New Mexico, Humphrey has at least 13 of 26 votes and probably 15. McCarthy has 11. The delegates are not bound by their commitments, but there is no indication they will change.

Humphrey has commitments for 37 of Oklahoma's 41 votes, and the delegation has authority to invoke unit rule, giving Humphrey all 41 if he needs them.

Connally Controls Votes

In Texas, Connally controls all 104 votes. He has not been a Humphrey fan in the past, but he is an intimate of President Johnson and doesn't like McCarthy.

The probability is that Connally will throw his votes to Humphrey, possibly after using them to influence the platform or the vice presidential choice. The delegation is bound by unit rule.

There are no announced McCarthy supporters among the Texas delegates.

It appears the most McCarthy can hope for is 70 first-ballot votes from these states. He might get no more than 30.

The Minnesota senator's only strong state is Colorado, where a McCarthy-Robert F. Kennedy coalition controlled the state convention and won possibly 21 of the state's 35 votes.

None of these nine states has a presidential primary. Delegates are picked by convention or committee, and most of the party regulars who control the processes obviously don't like McCarthy.

What would hurt Humphrey most in the Southwest would be a holdout by two Humphrey-leaning favorite sons, Govs. John Connally of Texas and John McKeithen of Louisiana.

Connally controls 104 votes and McKeithen 36. Both are expected to give Humphrey their support if and when he needs it, but there is a chance something could arise and make them hold out.

Unknown Factor

The 33 delegate votes wielded by Arkansas are bound by unit rule, and Humhprey is the favorite there. The major unknown factor is Sen. J. William Fulbright, who is reported considering a favorite son role.

Fulbright is friendly with both Humphrey and McCarthy, but differs with the vice president over the Vietnam War. Some suspect a Fulbright favorite son attempt would amount to a maneuver on McCarthy's behalf.

Of Colorado's 35 votes, nine still are committed to the late Sen. Kennedy. Delegates with 14 votes lean to Humphrey, and 12 to McCarthy. McCarthy supporters hope to pick up the Kennedy votes.

In Kansas, all 38 votes apparently will go to Humphrey, but McCarthy workers say one delegate is leaning toward their man, and five more could switch.

Louisiana's 36 votes are pledged to Gov. John McKeithen until he releases them. McKeithen was an early Humphrey supporter, and speculation is that he will throw his votes to the vice president late in the first-ballot roll call, possibly to put Humphrey over the top.

Humphrey supporters claim 56 of the 60 in Missouri. McCarthy backers concede Humphrey 40. McCarthy people plan a seating challenge on grounds there were irregularities in delegate selection.

In New Mexico, Humphrey has at least 13 of 26 votes and probably 15. McCarthy has 11. The delegates are not bound by their commitments, but there is no indication they will change.

Humphrey has commitments for 37 of Oklahoma's 41 votes, and the delegation has authority to invoke unit rule, giving Humphrey all 41 if he needs them.

Connally Controls Votes

In Texas, Connally controls all 104 votes. He has not been a Humphrey fan in the past, but he is an intimate of President Johnson and doesn't like McCarthy.

The probability is that Connally will throw his votes to Humphrey, possibly after using them to influence the platform or the vice presidential choice. The delegation is bound by unit rule.

There are no announced McCarthy supporters among the Texas delegates.

Missing Liberty Girl Found Dead in Loft

LIBERTY, N.Y. (UPI)—Three years ago this month, 21-year-old Taeresa Sowa came from her native Poland to live with relatives in this Sullivan County village.

Taeresa got a job at Grossingers Hotel nearby but, on Oct. 23 of that year--1965, she failed to show up for work.

The family of her uncle, Jean Kupiec, reported her missing and state police conducted an intensive search, but there was no trace of her. They abandoned the search on Nov. 2, although the case was kept in their "open" file.

Sunday, it was marked closed.

Dr. Charles Lerner, visiting some farm property he owns, climbed into a barn loft and saw a foot sticking out from under an old rug.

The body, which troopers said was in a mummified condition, proved to be that of Miss Sowa. Dr. Sidney Schiff, coroner, issued a ruling of accidental death due to exposure.

Fire Destroys Barn in Greene; 4 Units Respond

A four-alarm blaze late Sunday afternoon destroyed a barn filled with hay on Route 9W near the Greene County village of West Coxsackie.

The blaze was reported at 3:36 p. m. yesterday afternoon with four companies — West Athens, Athens, Catskill and Coxsackie — responding to the alarm. The fire fighters were unable to extinguish the blaze but they did prevent it from spreading to adjoining buildings. The barn was owned by the Sterbit Farms of West Coxsackie.

The blaze was extinguished at approximately 11 p. m. with the last piece of apparatus returning to its station at midnight. The cause of the blaze was not determined and is currently under investigation.

Action in Congress Doubted To Curb the Tourist Spending

By MURRAY J. BROWN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Indications are that Congress will take no action this year on the Johnson administration's campaign to curb spending of U.S. dollars by Americans traveling in foreign lands.

Earlier this year, Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler submitted a plan to the House Ways and Means committee which included provisions for a 15 per cent tax on spending between $7 and $15 a day and a 30 per cent on spending of $15 or more daily on all trips outside the western hemisphere.

The proposal promptly touched off storms of protests from politicians, public, press and other circles here and abroad. Opponents of the measure pointed out, among other things, that such a tax would hit hardest at students, schoolteachers and other budget travelers while having little effect on the so-called jet set. Others stressed the economic effects such restrictions would have on friendly nations who depend on tourism.

There were other objections. The Society of American Travel Writers (SATW), an organization of professional travel writers and others active in the dissemination of travel information, said the plan was contrary to the traditional rights of Americans to travel freely except in case of war or other special circumstances.

The House committee turned down the tax on spending but approved other sections of the plan, including a 5 per cent tax on tickets for international flights outside the western hemisphere and reducing from $100 to $10 the value of goods American tourists can bring home without paying duty.

Recently Fowler went before the Senate Finance Committee, which was considering the House's recommendations, and came up with another proposal —a 30 per cent tax on all spending in excess of $15 per day computed on an average of the length of the trip abroad.

Such a tax, he said, would meet the objections voiced against the previous proposal by the budget travelers. More important, he said, it would help reudce the U.S. balance of payments deficit resulting from the fact that the United States sends more dollars abroad than it collects from abroad. He estimated the travel gap—between what Americans spend abroad and what foreigners spend here—would amount to $2.1 billion this year. Travel industry sources claim it is actually far lower.

But the new proposal found little support in the Senate committee and the measures are given little chance of being taken up at the current session of Congress.

Airline Won Battle of Beard; Now Fights Long Sideburns

NEW YORK (AP) John Quincy Adams had them. So did Martin Van Buren. But what was okay for 19th century presidents isn't okay for employes of Northwest Orient Airlines today.

The airline has suspended 14 cargo handlers at Kennedy Airport because, like Adams, Van Buren and a number of more modern males, they wore their sideburns long.

George Parker, the airline's cargo manager, posted a directive last Wednesday, reading, "Sideburns should not be below the middle of the ear."

Parker, who waged a successful campaign against employes' beards last May, gave the men until midnight Saturday to get rid of the extra cheek hair.

Then he called all the men on the four to midnight and midnight to eight shifts into his office. Only four passed inspection.

The 14 with sideburns were sent home, but appealed to their union, the International Association of Machinists, which set up a meeting with company representatives today to discuss the situation.

"We're not even seen by the public," said one of the cargo handlers. "Our haircuts are style right now and we're presentable. That's enough!"

The cargo handlers might be encouraged to learn that a California man who works for the U.S. Navy as a technical illustrator at Point Mugu Pacific Missile Range has won his fight to keep both his job and his long hair.

Richard Beckley was fired seven months ago for what the Navy called "poor taste in appearance evidenced by hair of an undue length, a beard and boots."

Beckley appealed. The U. S. Civil Service Commission's Washington office ordered the Navy to reinstate him.

Beckley now is back at work.

CHILDREN AID CANCER — Cheryl Goodheim presents $70 check to Thaddeaus Musialkiewicz, chairman of Town of Ulster cancer campaign, representing proceeds of recent children's carnival conducted on Decker Street, Sunset Park. Also on hand were (L) Jeanette Wynkoop, Neal Redmond and Pam Schatzel. Other children participating in the fund-raising event were Mara DiDonna, Deidre DiDonna, Lisa Goodheim, Bruce Kirkpatrick, Liz Oneto, Linda Rosenbaum, Gail Vitarius and Louis La Conture. # Liberal Party Bombed in N.Y., Blame Cubans

NEW YORK (UPI)—A bomb today exploded in the doorway of a building housing a Liberal Party Headquarters. Two patrolmen on their regular rounds less than 50 feet away escaped injury.

The bombing appeared to be the latest in a series attributed to anti-Communist Cuban terrorists.

Almost simultaneous with the explosion an annoymous caller, in heavily accented English, told United Press International that a bomb had been planted at the West Side Liberal Club as a "protest against the liberal government of the United States which we believe is encouraging and fostering Communism.'

The caller identified himself as a spokesman for the "Cuban Secret Party.'

The explosion wrecked the door and heavily damaged the entrance way at the the building on Broadway between 84th and 85th Streets. A large glass window on the ground floor was blown out and glass strewn across the sidewalk and into Broadway.

No one was injured.

There was no damaged to the Liberal Party Club on the third floor or to a Spanish Club on the second floor.

Conflicting Claims

Honduras says its claim to the Swan Islands dates from the Spanish conquest of the New World. The United States has never recognized the Honduras claim and has claimed the islands as American since 1893.

Children of Ulster Town Raise Cancer Fund Monies

A carnival for the benefit of the Ulster County Unit, American Cancer Society, was held for three days at 1095 Decker Street, Sunset Park, it was announced today by Mrs. Willard Goodheim, a member of the local Unit's Representative Assembly. Total proceeds from the special event amounted to $70.

A group of children, ranging from 9 to 13 years of age, in the Sunset Park and Forest Glen Park area, combined forces and set up booths with games such as pitching pennies, clothespin-in-a-bottle, game of chance, ball toss, golf, fortune-telling, etc. There was a Magic Show by Neal Redmond and Louis LaConture, and door prizes were awarded every afternoon. A large refreshment stand, featuring home-made goodies was also a highlight of the worthwhile endeavor.

Participating children were: Cheryl Goodheim, Lisa Goodheim, Mara DiDonna, Diedre DiDonna, Jeanette Wynkoop, Pam Schatzel, Liz Oneta, Bruce Kirkpatrick, Linda Rosenbaum, Gail Vitarius, Neal Redmond and Louis LaConture. Donations were given by Moderniture, who donated the cartons used for the booths, Ferraro's Bowlerama, donating free bowling tickets for the door-prizes, and Kessmans' Golf Range. Also helping were Mrs. Albert Koelech, Miss Linda Wynkoop and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Goodheim.

Accepting the contribution, Thaddeus Musialkiewicz, chairman of the 1968 Cancer Crusade in the Town of Ulster, commended the enterprising children for their enthusiastic interest in the work of the American Cancer Society.

Houle Denies Letter to Gene's Backers

Town of Ulster Democratic Chairman Walter Houle has claimed that he had not sent a letter of support to advocates of Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy in New Paltz Thursday night.

It had been reported in The Freeman that Ronald Steinberg, chairman of the Concerned Democrats of New Paltz, a pro-McCarthy group, read a letter of support from Houle.

Houle said he had been contacted by Steinberg and asked to attend a McCarthy rally, but that he could not make the conclave and would "give no blanket endorsement" to the senator's efforts to capture the Democratic presidential nomination in Chicago next week.

Plan RFK Film for Chicago

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 20-minute motion picture depicting the public life of Robert F. Kennedy is being prepared for the Democratic National Convention—but party officials refuse to say when or if it will be shown.

Charles Guggenheim said in an interview that his Washington production firm was commissioned by the Kennedy family to make the film. He said the project is 60 per cent completed.

Four years ago, Kennedy—then attorney general and a candidate for the Senate—stood head bowed and eyes moist before the Democratic convention in Atlantic City and introduced a similar film of highlights in the life of his brother, John F. Kennedy, slain nine months earlier by an assassin.

For 13 minutes, the thousands in convention hall cheered Robert Kennedy. When the lights went on after the film, thousands were weeping.

Guggenheim's firm, which made a documentary for Kennedy of his 1964 Senate campaign, has asked for film footage from television networks and television stations and for still pictures from news media.

The film will be in black and white. The narrator, Guggenheim said, will be someone well known.

Guggenheim was reluctant to discuss specific scenes because the movie is subject to approval by the Kennedy family.

"This will not be a definitive biography, but rather the quality of a man's life," he said. "I don't think we have to trick it up to get an emotional response—the loss people feel is the quality the man communicated."

Chatham-Albany Bus Route Halt Scored by Fish

MILLBROOK — Hamilton Fish Jr. today reacted quickly to the announcement that bus service is being discontinued between Chatham and Albany.

Fish, the Republican candidate for Congress, said he sent a telegram to Allan Boyd, Department of Transportation, Washington, D. C., urging "action by all authorities to alleviate the acute problem." He called the condition "symptomatic of not only Columbia but also Dutchess, Ulster, Greene and Schoharie Counties."

In calling for an investigation of the situation, Fish explained that bus service took the place of the Boston-Albany passenger train run several years ago. "Now," said the Republican attorney, "the people are losing another vital transportation link to the North."

The bus company, operating under a temporary permit which expired Friday, decided to discontinue operation even though the Public Service Commission agreed to grant a permit. In his telegram, Fish called for relief through one of the programs administered by the Department of Transportation.

Fish called attention to the necessity of maintaining Chatham's southern transportation link by insuring that Penn-Central's Harlem Valley Branch passenger train service between Chatham and New York City is not discontinued. When elected, Fish pledged to work to make sure that Chatham is not stranded by loss of transportation services.

The full text of Fish's telegram follows: "Have just learned that passenger bus service between Chatham and Albany, N. Y. has been discontinued. Respectfully request you investigate this serious situation for relief through one of the programs administered by your department. This serious situation is symptomatic of not only Columbia, but also Dutchess, Ulster, Greene and Schoharie Counties. Public transportation in these areas is at best chaotic. Respectfully suggest your department survey the mentioned areas and make recommendations for action by all authorities to alleviate this acute problem."

Union Workers' Overtime Salary Going Today to Community Chest

The trades and labor segment of the 1968-69 Ulster County Community Chest campaign moved into high gear this week as a new proposal was enthusiastically adopted by the labor forces.

The proposal, presented to some 10 area union shops, is for the 550 union members to put in an hour of overtime work today and for the shopowners to contribute time and a half payment directly to the Ulster County Community Chest campaign, in a lump sum. This idea was presented last month to the executive committee of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, represented by Rita Ward, and to the executive group of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, represented by Julius Sippen. Sippen reported the idea was very favorably received by both groups and accepted unanimously. It has since been presented to the shop workers and employers and the reaction has been equally as favorable.

The combined goal for trades and labor this year is $16,000. Last year this same division raised better than $12,000, which was in excess of the goal. In addition to the above mentioned labor forces, this division includes the Teamsters Union, under overall division chairman Don MacCollum, and the Uniformed Firefighters, headed by Associate Chairman Robert Gollnick.

The General Campaign Chairman, William Pearson, has stated that the apparent success about to be recorded by the Trades and Labor Division heralds another successful drive toward a most needed goal. This year, $345,000 is slated to go to work providing much needed services in Ulster County.

Area Teachers Going to Meet

Six Ulster County teacher leaders will join 600 educators from across the state at the 20th annual State Leaders Workshop to be held at Oswego from August 21 through August 24.

The conference, sponsored by the New York State Teachers Association is designed to help officers and other leaders of local teacher organizations improve service to their members.

Those attending the conference from Ulster County are Mrs. Marian C. Hannan, president of the Ellenville Teachers Association; Gerard P. Wyncoop, president-elect of the Rondout Valley Teachers Association; Ronald J. Mapstone, member of the Rondout Valley Salary Committee; Leola M. Lee, president of the Wallkill Teachers Association, and Janet L. Record, membership chairman of the Wallkill Teachers Association, and Douglas G. Geertgens, chairman of the negotiating team of the New Paltz Teachers Association.

The theme for the 1968 workshop will be "Reorganizing for Action" and will emphasize the importance of listening. Dr. Ralph Nichols, head of the Rhetoric Department at the University of Minnesota, will deliver the keynote address on the topic He Who Listens.

During the three day session participants will study ways to upgrade the operation of local teachers associations and will focus attention on various educational activities.

In addition to assembly meetings and small group discussion, the teachers will use a variety of workshop techniques including closed circuit television, individual conferences, and dramatic presentations.

Sippen reported the idea was very favorably received by both groups and accepted unanimously. It has since been presented to the shop workers and employers and the reaction has been equally as favorable.

The combined goal for trades and labor this year is $16,000. Last year this same division raised better than $12,000, which was in excess of the goal. In addition to the above mentioned labor forces, this division includes the Teamsters Union, under overall division chairman Don MacCollum, and the Uniformed Firefighters, headed by Associate Chairman Robert Gollnick.

The General Campaign Chairman, William Pearson, has stated that the apparent success about to be recorded by the Trades and Labor Division heralds another successful drive toward a most needed goal. This year, $345,000 is slated to go to work providing much needed services in Ulster County.

Area Teachers Going to Meet

Six Ulster County teacher leaders will join 600 educators from across the state at the 20th annual State Leaders Workshop to be held at Oswego from August 21 through August 24.

The conference, sponsored by the New York State Teachers Association is designed to help officers and other leaders of local teacher organizations improve service to their members.

Those attending the conference from Ulster County are Mrs. Marian C. Hannan, president of the Ellenville Teachers; Association; Gerard P. Wyncoop, president-elect of the Rondout Valley Teachers Association; Ronald J. Mapstone, member of the Rondout Valley Salary Committee; Leola M. Lee, president of the Wallkill Teachers Association, and Janet L. Record, membership chairman of the Wallkill Teachers Association, and Douglas G. Geertgens, chairman of the negotiating team of the New Paltz Teachers Association.

The theme for the 1968 workshop will be "Reorganizing for Action" and will emphasize the importance of listening. Dr. Ralph Nichols, head of the Rhetoric Department at the University of Minnesota, will deliver the keynote address on the topic He Who Listens.

During the three day session participants will study ways to upgrade the operation of local teachers associations and will focus attention on various educational activities.

In addition to assembly meetings and small group discussion, the teachers will use a variety of workshop techniques including closed circuit television, individual conferences, and dramatic presentations.

BEHIND THE WALL—Pictured above is the main structure of the armory-like Catskill State Reformatory at Napanoch and a typical cell for the some 800 prisoners who live "behind the wall." The reformatory itself was built in 1895 with stone quarried from the mountains east of the Village of Ellenville. The stones were cut and set by hand. The main structure contains the administration complex and cell blocks that were part of the original institution which housed mental defectives. Just outside the old building is new administration complex that is part of a $10 million construction program. Branching out from the older building is walls and watchtowers. The cell is home for the "young adults" who make up the reformatory's inmates. It contains a bed, toilet and sink, writing desk and chair. Also in the cell is a set of earphones which the prisoner can use to listen to the radio. Within the walls is a fully-equipped hospital or infirmary, complete with an operating room for minor surgery cases. Superintendent Maurice Blow, chief administrative officer for the institution, claimed that although the watchtowers are manned during the day, only one tower is manned at night. It is the superintendent's belief that his action has saved the taxpayers a great deal of expense and that there is little, if any, danger involved. (Freeman photos by Haines)

Napanoch Reformatory— A $10-Million Face-Lifting

By CHARLES BERMPOHL

Life behind a prison wall has been called the final tragedy in that it has the tendency of enforcing, rather than weakening, the criminal's resolve to beat the law.

The reality of the convict is written in steel and rock, the cold orders of a guard, the strict regulations that seek to contain his every movement, the very atmosphere of talking, walking, sleeping, and eating with murderers and stickup men, drug pushers and child molesters, a society of losers and outcasts.

For the convict, there is what appears as an inescapable conclusion, that any chance he may have had for living a normal life, the life that people "outside" take for granted, is forever denied to him.

Future Life Plan Dim

It is this despair, this single lack of hope, that leads many convicts to repeat their offenses, to continue their life of crime, for the criminal can find an underground acceptance, even prestige, and there is always the chance of pulling off the real big job.

For the inmates at the Catskill State Reformatory of Napanoch, the very idea of a future life plan, some reasonable assessment of the odds that face them, appears dim.

Most of them, perhaps as much as 80 per cent, come from broken homes, a life defined by low income, sometimes no income, with the very lens through which they view their experience, their intelligence quotients, being 20 per cent below the norm of the average American adult.

Reformatory Superintendent Maurice Blow explained that a reformatory "is for the confinement and rehabilitation of young adults males convicted of a misdemeanor or a felony."

Average Age 18

Blow is the top administrative officer of an institution that contains some 800 young adults whose average age is 18, all with an IQ of 80 and under.

The crimes for which the prisoners are contained range from first degree murder to wayward minor. The wayward minor is a youth who may have been living in the streets at the age of 10 and, often times, was committed to the institution through a parent or some other relative.

The minor receives a minimum reformatory sentence of four years with a maximum set by the parole board.

The average murderer serving a 20-year-term, can get out in 13 years, four months, according to Superintendent Blow.

"The murderers usually give us the least amount of trouble," Blow said. "They realize what they have done, that they have to serve at least two-thirds of their sentence, and that their only chance to get out rests on their good behavior."

About 40 Per Cent Return

The superintendent estimated that "about 40 per cent of all convicts who were paroled from the reformatory return after a relatively short period of time because of a parole violation."

To be paroled, a man has to have an acceptable home to go to, and a job waiting for him that is acceptable to the parole board.

The life of the reformatory prisoner, although not altogether grim, is as strictly regulated as possible.

His room is a cell that will probably not contain a window overlooking the grounds. It has, however, a bed, cold water basin, a toilet, a chair or stool, a stand to write on, a metal locker and a set of ear phones for the radio.

The convict is issued three sets of high cut work shoes, pants, and shirts, underwear, socks, a hat and a coat. He is also allowed to have his own clothing which can include white or grey shirts, sweaters, underwear, socks and handerchiefs.

He is awakened at 7:20 a.m. and, unless he wants to face the loss of privileges, washes up and makes his bed.

He is marched to the dining hall where he may have a breakfast of stewed figs, oatmeal, toast and jelly, coffee or milk. A typical lunch consists of beef goulash, buttered noodles, green beans, twist rolls, iced tea or coffee. For supper, the convict can have a meal of tuna fish and macaroni salad, carrot sticks, oatmeal cookies, bread and iced tea.

After breakfast, he is given the opportunity to smoke — a luxury he can afford if he receives money from home and if he saves the 10 cents a day he gets during his confinement—then he goes to his assignment, which may be industrial or academic.

"Each individual must attend school," the superintendent said, adding that "most of the young men are very deficient in formal education."

Industrial Assignments

The fact is that 70 percent of the convicts are functionally illiterate upon arrival at the reformatory, with most of them assigned to grades one through eight, "the majority in the lower grade levels."

The industrial assignments include the making of wooden handles, ping pong tables, such metal products as dust bins and kettles.

The Napanoch institution sells whatever items are manufactured to other state institutions and receives an annual gross income of approximately $125,000 for the products.

Other inmates can be assigned to do outside farm work in dairy and in vegetable growth. Gross production on farm products brings in about $100,000 yearly. Again, products are sold only to other state institutions.

There is also the mess hall, and inmates can learn such trades as baking and meat cutting.

The institution raises its own pork, milks its own cows, grows and cans its own cabbage, tomatoes, beets, carrots, radishes, string beans, melons, and cucumbers. It also makes its own ketchup and tomato puree for sauce.

From 3:15 p.m. to 4:45 p.m., the prisoner can enjoy a bit of recreation in the recreation yard. He may get involved in a baseball or softball game, or possibly handball, grass tennis, ping pong, or horseshoes.

Some prisoners have requested calisthenics and close order drills.

After the 4:45 p.m. evening meal, the convict returns to his cell to listen to radio, write, read, and he may be included with the convicts each night who are taken to several large rooms to watch television.

The Problem

By 10 p. m. the prisoner is back in his cell and, one hour later, the lights go out.

Superintendent Blow said that one of the problems law enforcement officials have to deal with is the young convict's disrespect for rules and regulations.

"The nature of the institution entails much more in the way of regulations than are found in the street, and close confinement can lead to fights while the lack of female companionship leads to homosexuality — these are the biggest problems."

Another great problem, the reformatory administrator admits, is the difficult of the ex-convict "to find his way back to a place in society, and to find acceptance."

Superintendent Blow declared that, "The public is not ready to accept them (ex-convicts) or to give them jobs."

As for infractions of the rules while in prison, Blow said that while there is no longer any such thing as solitary confinement a trouble-making prisoner can receive a loss of privileges, confinement to his cell, and a reassessment of his good behavior.

There is, however, a small segregation unit within the walls of the sprawling reformatory complex, where the most troublesome cases are confined.

According to two sources who are among the 343 reformatory personnel, some of the men assigned to the segregation unit are Black Muslims, confined to the unit because of their alleged "possible riot potential."

343 Employes

The 343 reformatory employes include 212 correction officers, physicians, nurses, dentists, teachers and instructors, cooks, bakers, maintenance and power house employes, truck drivers, supervisory personnel, chaplains, guidance counselors, stenographers, typists, clerks, and tradesmen.

It costs some three and one half million dollars yearly to run the institution, the main section of which was built in 1895, and a $10-million building program is currently under way to modernize the facility. Plans for the program call for the modernization project to be spread over several years. The new administration building alone is to cost about $1 million.

A new mess hall, kitchen, auditorium, school, and maintenance building are included in the construction, and covered corridors are to connect all the buildings so that prisoners can be moved without exposure to the weather.

Superintendent Blow, who has had five years teaching experience, plus 28 years with the New York State Department of Correction—starting off as a correction officer and being promoted to superintendent in Jan. 1967—has done post graduate work in sociology, psychology, and correctional administration.

The superintendent stated that, as far as statistics were concerned, "the sad part is that those who, once they are released, stay out of trouble, we hear little about. Those who go on to new crimes come right back again."

Clean Air Group To View Movie On Lower Esopus

"The Return to the Esopus—1968", a sound movie produced by the Lower Esopus Waterway Committee and filmed by George Lahl, will be shown at the Ulster County Citizens' Committee for Clean Air August meeting, Thursday the 22nd, in the Legislators' Room of the Ulster County Office Building at 7:30 p. m.

A meeting of the Planning Committee and interested members and citizens will precede the movie. On the agenda for the Planning Committee is a continuation of efforts to formulate specific legislative proposals to be presented to our city and county legislative bodies.

The movie, showing conditions in the Esopus Creek, was produced by the Esopus group under the chairmanship of Huyler Van Wagenen.

All interested members of the public and only interested members of the legislature and public offices are invited.

Dubcek Asks Order Before Party Meet

PRAGUE (UPI) — Czechoslovak Communist leader Alexander Dubcek today concentrated on keeping control of his reform government which the Soviets insist is threatened by forces bent on destroying Czechoslovak Communism.

The Soviet press said "reactionary elements' opposing Communism had gotten so powerful that Czechoslovakia is going to need the help of its Communist bloc neighbors to fight it.

The Soviets said the Prague reform government was also in danger from "imperialist propaganda" from West Germany.

Dubcek's first concern was to pull the nation's press back into line and build support for a crucial Communist Party Congress starting Sept. 9.

Dubcek and his followers have often said they need a "period of calm" to get ready for the party Congress. They fear continued press criticism of the Soviets would erupt into a new Czechoslovak-Soviet crisis that would prove fatal to their plans at the party Congress

Dubcek turned to internal affairs following a month of diplomacy in which he conferred with all the top leaders of eastern European communism and won at least temporary tolerance of his reform brand of Communism.

The government called Prague's top editors together Saturday and asked them to tone down their attacks on Communism's more orthodox nations but journalistic sources said the editors politely refused to accept such limitations on their new press freedom.

Dubcek did not show up at the meeting but press sources said he would be at a similar meeting Wednesday to use his well-known persuasive powers.

Woodstock Fair—$7,000; Still Need More Money

Pending a final accounting, the 1968 Woodstock Library Fair netted a profit of "$7,000-7,500", according to Library President Carolyn Wilson and Fair Chairman Adele Longendyde. At their August meeting, the Library's Board of Trustees learned that the principal contributors to the sum were the Book Table, which showed a profit of $1,800, and Great Expectations, which cleared $2,100.

Mrs. Wilson noted that, $7,000 net profit on the Fair seems to be about the average maximum the Fair can raise. With the rising cost of living and the expanded facilities, sources other than the Fair must be developed for library support.

The Woodstock Town Board has been asked to increase their support from $1,500 to $6,400 next year. The request will be discussed at the Oct. 15 Town Board meeting.

Also contemplated is the library's first intensive fund drive, plans for which will be announced this fall. Citizen attendance at the Oct. 15 meeting, as well as their receptiveness to the fund drive, will be essential if the library is to maintain, and improve upon, its high standards of service. Details of the reasoning behind the request for such a sizable appropriation to the Library by the Town of Woodstock will be made public before the Oct. 15 meeting.

Librarian Ellin Roberts reported that, "Book circulation is on its way to a record year." The figure for the January-July period was 20,559, with 4,432 for the month of July alone. reports of the Administration and Book Selection Committees were also given by Frances Rogers and Mari Ballman.

Mrs. Wilson exhibited a collection of large photographs of the Library taken "before and after" the recent renovation and expansion. The photographs were taken by the late Roger Vandemark, a Woodstock photographer and painter. Mrs. wilson noted, "We are very pleased to have these outstanding examples of Roger Vandemark's ability, and will retain them with pride in the Library's archives for all to enjoy.

Efforts to further beautify the library's interior by the Woodstock Garden Club were noted with appreciation. The ladies of the club have begun a weekly program of placing floral arrangements on the librarian's desk, with individual club members taking their turn at doing an arrangement.

A post Library Fair book sale will be conducted in the Fair Building from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. on Saturday, Aug. 24. The fair building is located behind the library opposite the laundromat. Many fine literary works will still be available at the customary Fair bargain prices.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Town Board of the Town of Saugerties will meet on August 22, 1968 at 8 o'clock P.M. at the Town Hall, Main St., Saugerties, N. Y., for the purpose of holding a PUBLIC HEARING as to whether or not the Town of Saugerties shall adopt an amendment to the Trailer Ordinance and that the proposed amendment shall be as follows:

Section 1. Section Two of the Town of Saugerties, New York, Trailer Ordinance enacted on August 22, 1935, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. No person shall park any trailer or house car used for living or sleeping quarters within the Town of Saugerties except in a duly licensed automobile trailer camp or as provided by the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 2. Such ordinance is hereby amended by adding thereto three new sections, to be section two-A, two-B, and two-C, to read as follows:

Sec. 2-A. A single trailer or house car shall be permitted to be placed upon any lot in the Town of Saugerties, provided that the owner of such trailer or house car is also the owner of the lot and further provided that such owner shall, within one week from the date of placing such trailer on his lot, obtain written approval from the Ulster County Health Department that it meets the necessary sanitation and health requirements.

Sec. 2-B. Immediately upon placing a single trailer or house car on a lot in the Town of Saugerties, the owner thereof shall remove the wheels and other equipment that makes it mobile and place such trailer or house car upon a permanent foundation.

Sec. 2-C. Upon meeting the requirements of sections two-A and two-B of this ordinance, a single trailer or house car shall be deemed a permanent residence for all intents and purposes under the law.

Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals are sought according to the contract documents for alterations to the City of Kingston Laboratory, 400 Broadway, Kingston, New York, as set forth in the drawings and specifications of Herbert P. Mayer, Architect. The proposals will be for a single contract for general construction.

Sealed proposals, labelled "Proposal" will be accepted at the Laboratory, 400 Broadway, Kingston, New York, until 3:00 p. m. on Wednesday, 28 August, 1968, and then at said place and time publicly opened and read aloud.

Instructions to bidders, proposal forms, general conditions, drawings and specifications may be obtained at the office of Herbert P. Mayer, 17 John Street, Kingston, New York, upon deposit of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per set of documents. Deposit will be returned upon receipt of drawings and specifications in good unmutilated condition.

The successful bidder shall, if required by the owner, furnish a performance bond and a labor and materials payment bond in the amount of one hundred percent of the accepted bid. These bonds shall guarantee completion of the work in accordance with the plans and specifications within the time stipulated in the contract, and prompt payment of all obligations arising thereunder.

In the event that the owner requires a performance bond and a labor and materials payment bond, the owner will pay the premium for such bond.

The owner reserves the right to reject, accept, or readvertise the same work or to award the contract to other than the lowest bidder. The owner may reject any bid not prepared and submitted in accordance with the provisions hereof and may waive any informalities or irregularities in the bid.

The contract between the owner and the contractor will be prepared on the Standard Form of Agreement Between Owner and Contractor, Short Form Agreement for Small Construction Contracts, A.I.A. Document A-107 Latest Edition, as issued by the American Institute of Architects.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education, Kingston City Schools (Consolidated) until 2:30 p. m. Eastern Daylight Savings Time, Wednesday, September 11, 1968, at the office of the Board of Education, located in the George Washington School, 67 Wall Street, Kingston, New York, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read for furnishing all labor and materials for the construction of an Elementary School near the junction of County Routes 52 and 75, Town of Woodstock—known as Zena area.

Two (2) sets of plans and specifications will be issued to Bidders for Contract No. 1 on deposit of EIGHTY DOLLARS ($80.00). One set of plans and specifications will be issued for Contracts No. 2, 3, 4 and 5 on deposit of FORTY DOLLARS ($40.00). For Contract No. 6, a deposit of TWENTY DOLLARS ($20.00) will be required.

Plans and specifications will include:

Contract No. 1: General Construction
Contract No. 2: Electric
Contract No. 3: Plumbing
Contract No. 4: Heating & Ventilating
Contract No. 5: Sprinkler System
Contract No. 6: Kitchen Equipment and may be seen at the office of Harry Halverson & Associates, Architects, 239 Fair Street, Kingston, New York.

Any bidder returning such plans and specifications in good condition within thirty (30) days after award of contract or rejection of bids will be refunded his deposit. Non-bidders and those requiring additional sets will be refunded FIFTEEN DOLLARS ($15.00) for each set returned in good condition.

Deposits for plans and specifications shall be to the order of Harry Halverson.

Each proposal for each of the six (6) Contracts for work, must be accompanied by a Bid Bond or Certified Check on a National Bank or Trust Company, for five (5) percent of the Contract Price, made payable to the Board of Education, Kingston City Schools (Consolidated) as security that if the proposal be accepted, the bidder will enter into a Contract for the Work.

Performance and a separate Payment Bond, each for 100% of the Contract Price will be required for each Contract.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within forty-five (45) days after the actual date of opening thereof.

Attention of bidders is particularly called to the requirements as to the conditions of employment to be observed and minimum wages to be paid under the Contract.

The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all proposals which may be deemed not to be to the best interest of the said School District.

Woodstock Fair—$7,000; Still Need More Money

Pending a final accounting, the 1968 Woodstock Library Fair netted a profit of "$7,000-7,500", according to Library President Carolyn Wilson and Fair Chairman Adele Longendyde. At their August meeting, the Library's Board of Trustees learned that the principal contributors to the sum were the Book Table, which showed a profit of $1,800, and Great Expectations, which cleared $2,100.

Mrs. Wilson noted that, $7,000 net profit on the Fair seems to be about the average maximum the Fair can raise. With the rising cost of living and the expanded facilities, sources other than the Fair must be developed for library support.

The Woodstock Town Board has been asked to increase their support from $1,500 to $6,400 next year. The request will be discussed at the Oct. 15 Town Board meeting.

Also contemplated is the library's first intensive fund drive, plans for which will be announced this fall. Citizen attendance at the Oct. 15 meeting, as well as their receptiveness to the fund drive, will be essential if the library is to maintain, and improve upon, its high standards of service. Details of the reasoning behind the request for such a sizable appropriation to the Library by the Town of Woodstock will be made public before the Oct. 15 meeting.

Librarian Ellin Roberts reported that, "Book circulation is on its way to a record year." The figure for the January-July period was 20,559, with 4,432 for the month of July alone. reports of the Administration and Book Selection Committees were also given by Frances Rogers and Mari Ballman.

Mrs. Wilson exhibited a collection of large photographs of the Library taken "before and after" the recent renovation and expansion. The photographs were taken by the late Roger Vandemark, a Woodstock photographer and painter. Mrs. wilson noted, "We are very pleased to have these outstanding examples of Roger Vandemark's ability, and will retain them with pride in the Library's archives for all to enjoy.

Efforts to further beautify the library's interior by the Woodstock Garden Club were noted with appreciation. The ladies of the club have begun a weekly program of placing floral arrangements on the librarian's desk, with individual club members taking their turn at doing an arrangement.

A post Library Fair book sale will be conducted in the Fair Building from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. on Saturday, Aug. 24. The fair building is located behind the library opposite the laundromat. Many fine literary works will still be available at the customary Fair bargain prices.

Khrushchev Goes Farmer

MOSCOW (UPI) — Former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was so bored two years ago he tried to teach a jackdaw to talk.

The bird proved reactionary and Khrushchev lost patience.

But informed sources say Khrushchev, now 74 and out of power almost four years, is busy with a new hobby. The man who made the world tremble is now raising tomatoes on pebbles and water.

Called Hydropony

It is called hydropony and has its roots in Khrushchev's character. He was a natural politician, a shepherd who learned to hold his own with the world's captains and kings and commissars. He also had a green thumb.

Farming was ever a Khrushchev thing. During his visit to Iowa he stood in a field and told millionaire farmer Roswell Garst how to raise better corn.

At home, as premier, his own farm program proved almost a disaster and when he tried to sell hydrophonic farming to President Gamal Abdel Nasser, the Egyptian leader replied, "What for? We only feed tomatoes to the cows."

Khrushchev did convince Bulgarians to try it. The Bulgarians are now reported prospering in faster grown, cheaper tomatoes. Down on his suburban dacha, the prophet of hydropony is busy now trying to prove to his countrymen he was right after all.

Charged in Death

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Police have charged a 29-year old woman with first degree manslaughter in the stabbing of an elderly man in her mother's apartment here.

Police charged Mrs. James Bonner Sunday in connection with the death of August D'Angelo, 72, of nearby Orchard Park.

They said D'Angelo was stabbed Sunday afternoon at the climax of an argument that involved Mrs. Bonner, her mother Mrs. Lena Battaglia, and D'Angelo.

D'Angelo lived at 141 Bielak Road. Mrs. Bonner lives at 77 Zenner St. and Mrs. Battaglia at 39 Zenner St.

Many spas in the United States have become general health resorts, with emphasis on reducing.

A NEW HOBBY — Former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the 75th year of his life and the fourth year since his fall from power, has acquired a new hobby. It is hydopony, the science of growing plants in solutions containing the necessary minerals, instead of in soil. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Town Constables Plan Discussion

Constables througnout Ulster County have been invited to attend a special meeting to be held at the County Office Building at Fair and Main Streets on Tuesday, Aug. 20 at 7 p.m.

Sergeant Joseph Feraca of the Town of Esopus police, and Constable Kenneth Gordon of Rosendale, have arranged the meeting at which numerous matters of particular interest to all constables will be on the agenda.

Feraca said a proposal to organize the constables as an association to work for better and improved police activities in the county townships, will be discussed among other important matters.

It is understood plans for unity in the event of any emergency that might occur in the county, also will be considered. Feraca said that all suggestions that are made by those in attendance will be considered at the session, and he urges all constables to be present.

Well-known Ukrainian-Americans include actor Jack Palance, Tom Tresh of the New York Yankees and the late sculptor Alexander Archipenko.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST

A DOLLAR A DANCE!

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is getting married soon and I would like to know how you go about letting the men know that if they want to dance with the bride they have to pin a dollar on her dress. We were at a wedding once and this was so much fun and the bride got a good bit of money. — Mrs. A. K.

Dear Mrs. K.: If your daughter wants to be paid for her dances, let her do it at a dance hall, not at her wedding reception. If her friends want to give her money as a wedding present—let it be presented to her and put away properly. What you suggest makes a mockery of marriage and turns what should be a sentimental occasion into a crassly commercial affair.

BEER AT WEDDING RECEPTION?

Dear Mrs. Post: My son's wedding reception will be held at 9 p.m. There will be music and it will be a beautiful hall. Everything sounds lovely but here's the problem. All the bride wants to serve is champagne punch and fancy cookies. Quite a few of the people we've invited are beer drinkers and I know they all expect something to eat. She says it's too much like a picnic if the usual fare is served, and if they want beer they can go to a local bar. I'm afraid everyone will think we're too cheap if she doesn't change her mind. I get more and more nervous day by day. What can I do?—Mrs. A.E.B.

Dear Mrs. B.: I agree with your daughter-in-law about the beer, it's just not an appropriate drink for a formal reception. However, I agree with you about food. Guests arriving for a 9 p.m. reception should certainly be served sandwiches and snacks to go along with the cookies and cake.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy, Class of '64, and College of St. Rose, Class or '68, where she received her Bachelor of Science degree in Education. She is employed as a teacher in the Acton Public Schools, Acton, Mass.

Her husband is an alumnus of Onteora Central School and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute where he earned his Bachelor and Masters degrees in Electrical Engineering. He is a member of Eta Kappa Nu and Tau Beta Pi fraternity. Carlson has accepted a position with Raytheon Corp., Sudbury, Mass.

The couple will reside in Acton, Mass.

Doing the Right Thing

A DOLLAR A DANCE!

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is getting married soon and I would like to know how you go about letting the men know that if they want to dance with the bride they have to pin a dollar on her dress. We were at a wedding once and this was so much fun and the bride got a good bit of money. — Mrs. A. K.

Dear Mrs. K.: If your daughter wants to be paid for her dances, let her do it at a dance hall, not at her wedding reception. If her friends want to give her money as a wedding present—let it be presented to her and put away properly. What you suggest makes a mockery of marriage and turns what should be a sentimental occasion into a crassly commercial affair.

BEER AT WEDDING RECEPTION?

Dear Mrs. Post: My son's wedding reception will be held at 9 p.m. There will be music and it will be a beautiful hall. Everything sounds lovely but here's the problem. All the bride wants to serve is champagne punch and fancy cookies. Quite a few of the people we've invited are beer drinkers and I know they all expect something to eat. She says it's too much like a picnic if the usual fare is served, and if they want beer they can go to a local bar. I'm afraid everyone will think we're too cheap if she doesn't change her mind. I get more and more nervous day by day. What can I do?—Mrs. A.E.B.

Dear Mrs. B.: I agree with your daughter-in-law about the beer, it's just not an appropriate drink for a formal reception. However, I agree with you about food. Guests arriving for a 9 p.m. reception should certainly be served sandwiches and snacks to go along with the cookies and cake.

Social-Card Party

The Mid-Hudson Senior Citizens Club will hold a social-card party Tuesday, Aug. 20, at 1:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Highland. Refreshments will be served.

All senior citizens of the area are invited to attend.

Plans are being made for a movie of the historic Hudson River to be shown by the New York Telephone Company on September 3.

Final Choral Music Reading Concert Will Be Held at New Paltz on Tuesday

The fourth and final Choral Music Reading Concert, sponsored by the State University College at New Paltz and the Mid-Hudson Camerata Chorale, will be held Tuesday, Aug. 20, at 8 p.m. in the college's McKenna Theatre.

Lee H. Pritchard, director of the camerata, will conduct Judas Maccabaeus by Handel.

Director Pritchard, assistant professor of music at New Paltz, has been the director of the camerata for two seasons and innaugurated the summer reading concerts last year.

He has been working on his doctorate in choral conducting at Indiana University this summer under Dr. Julius Herford, noted choral musicologist.

In addition to conducting the women's choral at the college, Pritchard is director of music at Trinity Methodist Church in Poughkeepsie.

Accompanist for the concert will be Mary Jane Corry, Marian Baumgartner, and Louise Im.

Soloists will be Betty White, soprano; Barbara Hardgrave, mezzo-soprano; Lee Pritchard, tenor, and Curt White, bass.

There will be no admission charge for the program.

Also, there will be registration at 7:30 p.m. for all interested singers.

Collen Wood Exchanges Nuptial Vows Here With Jesse G. Banks

Miss Colleen Wood of 135 Pine Grove Avenue, Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wood, was united in marriage to Jesse George Banks, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Banks, on Saturday, Aug. 3, at St. Mary's Church, Kingston.

The Rev. John Farley officiated. Traditional wedding selections were provided by Ted Riccobono, organist.

Janet and Kenneth Banks, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom, served as attendants.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a street length dress of pink lace with white accessories. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations.

The honor attendant wore a blue lace dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Elmer's Inn, Ruby, for 40 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Banks will make their home on Prospect Street, this city.

Local Women Meet Leaders

World understanding begins in small places. It starts with the individual, the neighborhood he lives in, the school or college he attends, his place of employment.

On Wednesday, Aug. 15, two area women extended a hand of welcome to 12 women leaders from Africa's Ivory Coast in the interest of promoting understanding and initiating an exchange of ideas. The Ulster County women were Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, Woman's Page editor of The Freeman, and Miss Mary Polhemus, president of the Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs. Narel and Miss Polhemus met with the 12 African leaders at State University College, New Paltz, to discuss distaff matters in America and Africa. Miss Nancy Siefer of New York, who has been serving as chief administrator of the five-week study program the African women are attending, served as interpreter using the French language.

Some of the topics of interest to women discussed by Mrs. Narel and Miss Polhemus included the Equal Rights Bill, the status of women in America, existing discriminations against women in some professions, educational opportunities, retirement systems and professional organizations.

Some of the African ladies are members of the Ivorian Women's Association, the most important women's organization on the Ivory Coast. It is based in the capitol city but has local chapters throughout the country. The activities of the association are based upon the evolving role of women in Ivoirian society and focus upon providing the education, training, and orientation necessary to achieve a new status in an industrializing, more urban-oriented society.

Miss Polhemus pointed out the similarities between their women's organization and that of the Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club, an affiliate of the National and International BPW Clubs. Mrs. Narel served as principal speaker during the meeting.

The African women in the group are:

MRS. GLADYS ANOMA, 37, is a professor at the University of Abidjan. She received a doctorate from the Sorbonne, the University of Paris, in tropical botany. Her husband is the Secretary-General of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Ivory Coast. They have four children.

Mrs. Anoma was a student in Senegal for four years, and in France for two years. She has also visited Ethiopia, Ghana, Morocco, Germany, England and Tunisia.

Since 1963, Mrs. Anoma has been the Secretary-General of the Ivoirian Women's Association. She feels that a lack of sources of financial support for the implementation of many ideas for projects put forth by the members, is a major deterrent to the effectiveness and progress of the Association.

MRS. DELPHINE BITTY, 40, is an elementary school teacher and the director of girls' schools in three districts of Abidjan. She received a teaching certificate from the Normal School for Girls in Rufisque, Senegal. She is married to a physician, and has seven children.

Mrs. Bitty is a member of the Ivoirian Women's Association and the secretary for women's affairs of the National Union of Public School Teachers in the Ivory Coast. She has traveled to France, and attended a conference in Ethiopia in 1965.

In Mrs. Bitty's opinion, the most serious problems existing in the Ivory Coast are: adult illiteracy; insufficient educational facilities for children; and the need for economic and social development throughout the country.

MRS. JEANNE KAMAGATE, 25, is an elementary school teacher in Ferkessedougou, a town in the northern region of the Ivory Coast. She is married to a civil servant and has three children.

Mrs. Kamagate feels that the major problems faced by her community are: illiteracy; infant mortality; widespread disease and malnutrition; and all the social problems (those relating to young girls in particular) engenered by industrialization, urbanization, and the consequental rural exodus. As a teacher and member of the Ivoirian Women's Association, she is actively attempting to help solve some of these problems.

MRS. REINE MOBIO, 44, is a public school teacher in Abidjan. She received a certificate from the Normal School for Girls in Rufisque, Senegal. In 1954, she participated in a teacher-training program in France, and has revisited Paris since that time. In 1962, she attended a study-conference, organized by the International Council of French Women, in Aaounde, the capital of the Camerouns. Her husband is a government official in charge of administrative services.

Mrs. Mobio is a member of the Ivoirian Women's Association. Both professionally and voluntarily, she is committed to teaching and counseling young girls lacking direction, and to helping to organize grass-roots, village projects for their benefit. Mrs. Mabio believes that the women of her country should play an important role in the basic education of the masses of uneducated Ivoirians.

MRS. ANNE ALLANGBA, 42, received a diploma from the Normal School for elementary school teachers in Rufisque, Senegal, and is presently the director of the Ivory Coast Government's service of education for women. She is married to a physician and has one child.

Mrs. Allangba was the Vice President of the Ivoirian Women's Association from 1963-64 in Bouake, the country's second largest city, and is currently an active member in Abidjan, her present home. She is also a member of the Democratic Party of the Ivory Coast and serves as press secretary for the National Union of Public School Teachers.

To help fulfill the urgent need for education, Mrs. Allangba points out that her country must have more teachers, equipment and facilities. In regard to adult education, she feels that the literacy and basic education programs should be better adapted to the problems of the modern Ivoirian woman.

MRS. MARIE KATI-COULIBALY, 31, is a secretary in the office of the prefecture of Bouake. She received a diploma in stenography and typing from the Institute of Our Lady of the Apostles in Abidjan. In 1967, she attended a congress in Rome. Her husband is the director of bursars of all the hospitals in in Bouake. They have four children.

As an active member of a Catholic women's organization, Mrs. Kati-Coulibaly devotes much of her spare time to helping to understand and solve the myriad social problems, especially relating to women and young girls, that have resulted from the rapid social change occurring in the Ivory Coast. She feels that the role of parents, in respect to the up-bringing and education of young children, must be redefined and that the educated women should take on the responsibility of helping their less-educated fellow-citizens.

MRS. THERESE N'GUESSAN, 40, is a nurse in Abidjan, at a government health and welfare center. She has one child. Mrs. N'Guessan is a member of the Ivoirian Women's Association and serves as secretary for a local branch of the Democratic Party of the Ivory Coast.

Mrs. N'Guessan is concerned with providing equal educational opportunities for women, and thereby raising their status. She feels that women should be responsible for making a viable contribution to the development to their country. A more immediate concern of hers is related to the problems faced by young girls in need of guidance to make the transistion from a rural to an urban-oriented society.

MRS. COLETTE AHIOUA-MOULARE, 34, is married to a magistrate and is the mother of two children. She holds diplomas in hospital nursing and social welfare work from the School of Social Work in Paris. In addition to practicing the profession of social worker in Abidjan, she is the director of all social welfare centers throughout the Ivory Coast.

Mrs. Ahioua-Moulare is a member of the cultural committee of the Ivoirian Women's Association, an active member of the Social Secretariat (a social service organization), and the treasurer of the Society of Aid to Mental Health. While she was a student in France, from 1951-1963, she traveled to several countries in Western Europe. Since that time, she has attended seminars on social service in Egypt and Italy, in 1965, and participated in a study group on the role of women in professional and political life, in Germany in 1967.

MRS. MARIE VOULIBALY, 27, received the certificate of home economics technician from a secondary school in the Ivory Coast. She has just completed her last year at a Normal School which trains teachers for technical workshops and home economics centers. She and her husband, an agricultural engineer, make their home in Abidjan.

In 1963, Mrs. Coulibaly made a study-tour of Ghana, Uganda and Tanzania, which focused upon community development. She is a member of the Ivoirian Women's Association and of the Democratic Party of the Ivory Coast.

Her major concerns for her country include education (more schools, more teachers and preschool education) and health (eradication of infant mortality at its present level, improving standards of nutrition and sanitation). She is interested in learning of American techniques for the establishment and administration of clinics and welfare centers.

MRS. MARGUERITE DAVID, 40, is a widow with six children. Her home is Abidjan, where she teaches homemaking skills. Mrs. David is in charge of the festivities committee of the Ivoirian Women's Association, she is an advisor to her government's Economic and Social Council, and she is the secretary of a local branch of the Democratic Party of the Ivory Coast. She has traveled to France, Israel, and Italy, as well as to many countries in French-speaking Africa, on both official and private visits.

Mrs. David's major concerns for her country are: uplifting the status of women; providing educational opportunities for the whole population and conquering the causes of disease and malnutrition.

MISS AISSATA KONATE, 27, is a social worker in Abidjan. From 1960-1966, she studied nursing and social welfare work in Paris, at the School of Social Work, from which she received a State diploma. In the summer of 1961, she traveled to Germany and Austria.

A very active member of the Ivoirian Women's Association, Miss Konate has put forth many original and imaginative ideas for utilizing the potential energies of volunteer workers, and is eager to study the organization and operation of women's associations in more developed countries.

Miss Konate feels that the principal needs of her country are: health and nutritional education; stability in the home, in a society undergoing rapid change; and the general education of the populance. She is particularly interested in motivating and training women to participate effectively in voluntary organizations.

MRS. EDITH BABA, 32, received a teaching certificate from the Normal School for Secondary School Teachers in Abidjan, and presently is a teacher of natural sciences at a Catholic secondary school in Abidjan. Her husband is a computer analyst and programmer.

From 1957 to 1962, Mrs. Baba was a student in France. In 1964, she returned there for a teacher-training program. She has also traveled in Switzerland and participated in a study-group which was held there in 1964.

Recognizing the problems that her country faces — the rural exodus, urban unemployment, and the resulting social problems; adult illiteracy, shortages of schools, teachers, hospitals and doctors, Mrs. Baba regards women as the greatest untapped resource of her country. She feels that they should work on an equal footing with men, in the process of nation-building, and must therefore have equal educational opportunities. In some respects, as mothers and community leaders, she feels that women have an even greater burden than do the men.

Wirtz Appoints First Woman to Direct Regional Activities of U. S. Employment

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz announced the appointment of Mrs. Petroamerica Pagan de Colon as Regional Director of the U.S. Employment Service in the New York office of the Bureau of Employment Security. The New York region is comprised of New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. More than 250 local public employment officers are located in the region.

Mrs. Colon is the first woman to direct the regional activities of the U.S. Employment Service.

Mrs. Colon, a native of Puerto Rico, holds the BA degree from the University of Puerto Rico and has done graduate study there and also at Columbia University.

Since 1964, she has been a consultant to the OAS (Organization of American States) on labor relations; a consultant to the Puerto Rico Secretary of Labor on manpower matters, and an executive director of a Puerto Rico housing foundation for workers' families.

For most of the last 18 years she has been responsible for the total Employment Security program in Puerto Rico. She began her career in the manpower field in 1937 as director of a rural vocational educational school in Puerto Rico, was an interviewer in the Puerto Rico Vocational Rehabilitation Division and became acting director of the division in 1941.

She was assistant director of the Vocational Rehabilitation Division for three years until 1948 when she became director of the Puerto Rico Bureau of Employment and Migration.

Look Here Mrs. Homemaker

CLEAN BLADES CUT BEST

From elephant meat to eel eggs, milk to macaroni — just about anything is liable to end up in a can these days. In fact, says Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension Home Economist, the average household opens anywhere from 900 to 1,500 of these metal cocoons every year. And, to "cut corners" conveniently, many women have been outfitting their kitchens with electric can openers.

In most models, the cutter completely severs the top which is lifted out of the way by a magnet, while the can itself is held in place until removed. Manually controlled electric openers require the lever or button to be positioned through the entire cutting cycle. In most automatic types ,the lever is pressed only long enough to puncture the can and start the cycle; the motor shuts itself off when the can is opened. The majority have front openers, although some models feature an opener where the cutting mechanism is positioned on the side of the case.

Every electric opener has either a cutting wheel that revolves freely or a stationary cutter — wheel or blade — that pierces the can, then removes the lid as the can is turned against it. Fixed cutters can maneuver the corners of square or rectangular cans more successfully; those on new models open all sizes and shapes of cans.

Any type of cutting device must be kept clean because it is sure to become encrusted with food. This clogs its action, is highly unsanitary, and can transfer flavor from one food to the next. When dull blades are forced through a can, metal particles may fall into its contents, so both cutting wheels and stationary blades should be kept sharp; also, a clean cutter remains sharp longer. It should be wiped with a sudsy cloth after use, then removed and scrubbed in hot soap or detergent suds at frequent intervals.

Electric can openers should never be immersed in water because of motor damage and personal safety, so the cutting assembly must come out for thorough washing. Some types are difficult to remove, a factor to consider when buying an opener. Models with exposed rather than enclosed units units are usually easiest to handle. First unplug the appliance, then follow the manufacturer's directions for removing the gears.

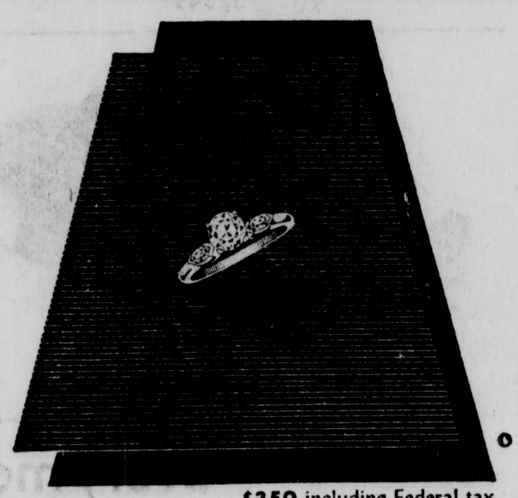

The importance of scrupulous cleanliness is emphasized in use-care and warranty manuals; most of these include detailed, diagrammed procedures for removing and replacing the parts. This is often just a matter of loosening and then tightening a pair of screws.

Mrs. Ahioua-Moulare is a member of the cultural committee of the Ivoirian Women's Association, an active member of the Social Secretariat (a social service organization), and the treasurer of the Society of Aid to Mental Health. While she was a student in France, from 1951-1963, she traveled to several countries in Western Europe. Since that time, she has attended seminars on social service in Egypt and Italy, in 1965, and participated in a study group on the role of women in professional and political life, in Germany in 1967.

MRS. MARIE VOULIBALY, 27, received the certificate of home economics technician from a secondary school in the Ivory Coast. She has just completed her last year at a Normal School which trains teachers for technical workshops and home economics centers. She and her husband, an agricultural engineer, make their home in Abidjan.

In 1963, Mrs. Coulibaly made a study-tour of Ghana, Uganda and Tanzania, which focused upon community development. She is a member of the Ivoirian Women's Association and of the Democratic Party of the Ivory Coast.

Her major concerns for her country include education (more schools, more teachers and preschool education) and health (eradication of infant mortality at its present level, improving standards of nutrition and sanitation). She is interested in learning of American techniques for the establishment and administration of clinics and welfare centers.

MRS. MARGUERITE DAVID, 40, is a widow with six children. Her home is Abidjan, where she teaches homemaking skills. Mrs. David is in charge of the festivities committee of the Ivoirian Women's Association, she is an advisor to her government's Economic and Social Council, and she is the secretary of a local branch of the Democratic Party of the Ivory Coast. She has traveled to France, Israel, and Italy, as well as to many countries in French-speaking Africa, on both official and private visits.

Mrs. David's major concerns for her country are: uplifting the status of women; providing educational opportunities for the whole population and conquering the causes of disease and malnutrition.

MISS AISSATA KONATE, 27, is a social worker in Abidjan. From 1960-1966, she studied nursing and social welfare work in Paris, at the School of Social Work, from which she received a State diploma. In the summer of 1961, she traveled to Germany and Austria.

A very active member of the Ivoirian Women's Association, Miss Konate has put forth many original and imaginative ideas for utilizing the potential energies of volunteer workers, and is eager to study the organization and operation of women's associations in more developed countries.

Miss Konate feels that the principal needs of her country are: health and nutritional education; stability in the home, in a society undergoing rapid change; and the general education of the populance. She is particularly interested in motivating and training women to participate effectively in voluntary organizations.

MRS. EDITH BABA, 32, received a teaching certificate from the Normal School for Secondary School Teachers in Abidjan, and presently is a teacher of natural sciences at a Catholic secondary school in Abidjan. Her husband is a computer analyst and programmer.

From 1957 to 1962, Mrs. Baba was a student in France. In 1964, she returned there for a teacher-training program. She has also traveled in Switzerland and participated in a study-group which was held there in 1964.

Recognizing the problems that her country faces — the rural exodus, urban unemployment, and the resulting social problems; adult illiteracy, shortages of schools, teachers, hospitals and doctors, Mrs. Baba regards women as the greatest untapped resource of her country. She feels that they should work on an equal footing with men, in the process of nation-building, and must therefore have equal educational opportunities. In some respects, as mothers and community leaders, she feels that women have an even greater burden than do the men.

Wirtz Appoints First Woman to Direct Regional Activities of U. S. Employment

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz announced the appointment of Mrs. Petroamerica Pagan de Colon as Regional Director of the U.S. Employment Service in the New York office of the Bureau of Employment Security. The New York region is comprised of New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. More than 250 local public employment officers are located in the region.

Mrs. Colon is the first woman to direct the regional activities of the U.S. Employment Service.

Mrs. Colon, a native of Puerto Rico, holds the BA degree from the University of Puerto Rico and has done graduate study there and also at Columbia University.

Since 1964, she has been a consultant to the OAS (Organization of American States) on labor relations; a consultant to the Puerto Rico Secretary of Labor on manpower matters, and an executive director of a Puerto Rico housing foundation for workers' families.

For most of the last 18 years she has been responsible for the total Employment Security program in Puerto Rico. She began her career in the manpower field in 1937 as director of a rural vocational educational school in Puerto Rico, was an interviewer in the Puerto Rico Vocational Rehabilitation Division and became acting director of the division in 1941.

She was assistant director of the Vocational Rehabilitation Division for three years until 1948 when she became director of the Puerto Rico Bureau of Employment and Migration.

CLEAN BLADES CUT BEST

From elephant meat to eel eggs, milk to macaroni — just about anything is liable to end up in a can these days. In fact, says Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension Home Economist, the average household opens anywhere from 900 to 1,500 of these metal cocoons every year. And, to "cut corners" conveniently, many women have been outfitting their kitchens with electric can openers.

In most models, the cutter completely severs the top which is lifted out of the way by a magnet, while the can itself is held in place until removed. Manually controlled electric openers require the lever or button to be positioned through the entire cutting cycle. In most automatic types ,the lever is pressed only long enough to puncture the can and start the cycle; the motor shuts itself off when the can is opened. The majority have front openers, although some models feature an opener where the cutting mechanism is positioned on the side of the case.

Every electric opener has either a cutting wheel that revolves freely or a stationary cutter — wheel or blade — that pierces the can, then removes the lid as the can is turned against it. Fixed cutters can maneuver the corners of square or rectangular cans more successfully; those on new models open all sizes and shapes of cans.

Any type of cutting device must be kept clean because it is sure to become encrusted with food. This clogs its action, is highly unsanitary, and can transfer flavor from one food to the next. When dull blades are forced through a can, metal particles may fall into its contents, so both cutting wheels and stationary blades should be kept sharp; also, a clean cutter remains sharp longer. It should be wiped with a sudsy cloth after use, then removed and scrubbed in hot soap or detergent suds at frequent intervals.

Electric can openers should never be immersed in water because of motor damage and personal safety, so the cutting assembly must come out for thorough washing. Some types are difficult to remove, a factor to consider when buying an opener. Models with exposed rather than enclosed units units are usually easiest to handle. First unplug the appliance, then follow the manufacturer's directions for removing the gears.

The importance of scrupulous cleanliness is emphasized in use-care and warranty manuals; most of these include detailed, diagrammed procedures for removing and replacing the parts. This is often just a matter of loosening and then tightening a pair of screws.

Rhubarb-Filled Game Keeps Reds' Hopes Alive

By DALY
UPI Sports Writer

Although most people might laugh, hustling Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds hasn't conceded the National League pennant to the St. Louis Cardinals despite their commanding 13½ game lead — Rose thinks the Reds still have a chance.

The barrel-chested outfielder, has collected six hits in 10 at bats and raised his league-leading batting avearge to .342, was instrumental in the Reds doubleheader sweep over the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

In the first game, with the Reds protecting a 2-1 lead, he cut down Phil Regan at the plate with a perfect peg from right field as the Cub relief hurler tried to score from second on Glenn Beckert's single. In the nightcap he used his bat to spark his team, cracking out four hits, one of them his eighth homer of the year, as the Reds won 6-3.

"We've got momentum now" said Rose relaxing in front of his locker after the game and accepting handshakes from his teammates. "It's not in the realm of the impossible, even though the Cardinals are 13 1-2 games in front of us. We've won six in a row now and we've still got some big games coming up. There's no telling what could happen if they suddenly went into a slump."

In other National League action St. Louis buried Atlanta 10-1, Philadelphia topped San Francisco 5-1, Pittsburgh downed Los Angeles 5-1 and New York and Houston split a doubleheader with the Mets taking the first 8-1 and the Astros winning the nightcap 5-2.

The first Cubs-Reds game saw a bizarre argument flare up in the seventh inning when umpire Chris Pelekoudas judged that Regan was throwing an illegal pitch. With a 1-2 count on Mack Jones, the plate umpire ruled that the count should be 3-1. This brought Leo Durocher screaming onto the field after a five minute argument, Jones resumed his stance at the plate with a 2-2 count.

He flew out to centerfield on the next delivery but Pelekoudas ruled the pitch a ball. The umpire then went to the mound demanding that Regan remove his cap and then he wiped Regan's head and cap with a towel. This triggered another explosion from Durocher who was thrown out of the game.

Al Sangler, sitting in the Cubs dugout, rushed third base umpire Shag Crawford and tried to punch him. He too was ejected.

Tempers remained high and before the contest was over Randy Hundley was ousted for protesting too loudly on a foul tip and Rose was ejected in the ninth for arguing too strenuously after being thrown out at second on an attempted steal.

Tony Perez homered in both games for the Reds and stretched his hitting streak to 16 games. George Culver, 10-12, and Gary Nolan, 5-2 were the winning pitchers, but both needed help from reliever Clay Carroll.

Kingston Eliminated In Moose Tournament

Four teams qualified for the Eastern New York State Moose Little League District playoffs in Sidney, N. Y. on Labor Day, in the eliminations held at the Metropolitan knothole field, Saturday.

The Kingston Moose, even with the ace pitcher Barry Alexander from Pine Bush, were powerless against the Poughkeepsie pitcher Lennon, who gave up only three hits compared to eight for Poughkeepsie. Lennon had 12 strikeouts for Poughkeepsie while Alexander struck out 10 leading hitters for the visitors were Stitzger and Tomoshfskis with two singles each.

Reverhead Moose, Hudson, and Central Islip were the other winners. Riverhead overpowered the hapless Richmond Hill team No. 2, 21-1 collecting 21 hits in their rout.

Bill Paldie of Central Islip tossed a one-hitter against Richmond Hill Team No. 1, as Jerry Ginter's double in the first drive in the only run of the game.

The Ossining and Hudson game also proved to be a pitcher's duel as Hudson, although outhit 4-2, were able to win 4-1, as John Burns and Lanie Crosswell each hit a homer.

Extends Hitless Streak to 24 1/3 Innings

Ron Thomas Just Missed Third 0-Hitter

Ron Thomas extended his hitless inning streak to 24 2/3 innings, and lost his bid for a third consecutive no-hit, no-run with two outs in the seventh inning, Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

But the big right hander completed the contest with a sparkling one-hit, 13-strikeout performance, as the Kingston Braves, newly-crowned Rookie League champions, blanked the Newburgh Atoms, 9-0, in the opener of the best-of-five play off series.

A ground single past third base by catcher Marsh Canosa ruined Thomas' bid for the no-hitter. It was a clean smash that third baseman Pete Watzka was unable to reach.

The Atoms rebounded with a 4-1 victory to even the series at 1-1 Sunday at Newburgh. The teams return to Dietz stadium for the third contest Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Climaxing the most sensational pitching stint in area baseball history, Thomas walked two and was backed by errorless support. His record is now a league-leading 8-1 and the Braves are 18-6 overall for the season.

The former Wagner College and Kingston High varsity pitcher boosted his seasonal strikeout total to 124, also tops in the Rookie League.

Blast McMillan Early

The Braves reached southpaw Jim McMillan for 11 hits and got to the Atom ace in a hurry. They led by 6-2 as early as the second inning.

Lou Perry and Jerry Hawkins slugged three hits each and Pete Watzka slammed a three-run homer in the second inning.

The Braves scored twice in the first when Mike Patrick walked, went to third on Lou Perry's single. Hawkins doubled Patrick home and Perry scored on an error.

Ron Valle's triple to right triggered the four-run second. Patrick walked and stole second. Hawkins knocked Valle in with a single and Watzka cleared the bases with a long homer up the right centerfield alley. The ball rolled to the top of the bank.

Glenn Davis knocked in the two runs in the fourth with a double, after Perry singled and Hawkins and Watzka walked to load the bases.

Jolt Janes Early

In the Sunday game at Newburgh, the Atoms got to starter Charlie Janes early and ran up a 4-0 lead in the first three innings. Bob Speirs came on to blank the Atoms the rest of the way but it was too late. Six walks and a wild pitch spelled trouble for the KHS strikeout ace.

Pat Myers, a Braves nemesis throughout the season came through with a strong performance. He limited the Braves to six hits and lost his shutout in the fourth inning when Pete Watzka duplicated his Saturday night feat with his third home run of the season.

Atoms went ahead 1-0 in the first, as Vince Trapini walked, stole second and scored on Jay Hasbrouck's single. Ken Rossiter walked in the second, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and came home on Jim Ferguson's sacrifice fly.

Four bases on balls and Trapani's single accounted for two runs in the third and sent Janes to the showers.

The Boros Cool Impresses Cub at First Golf Tourney

(Editor's Note: The following is a description of the finish of the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic Sunday by George Tomson, a new member of the sports staff, who saw his first major golf tournament and 48-year-old Julius Boros birdie the last hole to win the $50,000 first prize).

HARRISON — With all contenders for the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic, richest on the pro-tour, in the final three groupings, and Julius Boros in the middle, it was easy to tell how Jack Nicklaus was doing ahead and Bob Murphy, in back, by the cheers or moans of the gallery.

There, on the 18th tee of the Westchester Country Club was Julius Boros, now chain smoking, the only visible evidence of pressure on this senior member of the leaders. At this point he was tied with Murphy for the lead at 15-under-par and had the young, lean and hungry-looking Dan Sikes at his side, at 14 under par.

Look Back at Murphy

Before teeing off, Boros took a look over his shoulder to see Bob Murphy, leading most of the way, prepare to putt for a birdie that would put him ahead again.

The roly-poly, red-haired and green attired youngster was visibly nervous, unable to stand still as he circled the green waiting his turn to putt. Then he stepped up to the ball, studying it with extra care and putted to within an inch of the hole, missing it for a par.

Boros no sooner had time to enjoy the missed putt by Murphy when a tremendous roar from the crowd in the distance told him that Nicklaus had birdied the 18th to put him 15-under-par and in a tie for the lead with Julius and Murphy.

Then Boros, after getting a cool drink from his youngest son, who was at his side throughout the match, belted his tee shot straight and true. It was typical of the kind of shots he had been making all day. He was the essence of calm and deliberation, sometimes acting as if he didn't know that he was tied for the lead.

Sikes Was Persistent

But Dan Sikes stayed with the old pro and both were on the 18th green in three, shooting for birdies. Sikes to tie and Boros to win. Sikes, cool and confident, now had his first opportunity of the day to get with the leaders, and he did, sinking a seven-footer.

Now there were four players at 15-under-par and Boros had his chance to win if he sunk his six footer, provided Murphy came off the 18th with a par. Well, Julius didn't waste any time. He checked the ball only twice and with nerves of steel putted straight and true. Here was seen the first real display of emotion for him as a king size smile came over his tanned, weather beaten face and his hat came off to his fans as a tribute to his faithful followers.

Julius Boros, the man who appeared to get more pleasure from having his son at his side than sinking a putt, the man who at 48 was expected to fold when the weather got hot, the man who the crowd became sympathetic toward because of the seemingly physical torment he was going through with a bad back and twenty or so extra pounds, fooled every one with the style of a pro. And he took the $50,000 first prize home.

Bisons Come Alive To Trample Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who says the Bisons is a dying breed? Not the Richmond Braves, who discovered over the weekend there were quite enough Buffalo Bisons around to foil their hopes of escaping the International League basement.

The Braves, last year's league champs, toppled into the cellar July 3 and haven't been out of it since. But their hopes rose when seventh-place Buffalo came to Richmond Friday for a three-game set.

After all, the Braves held a 12-6 season advantage over the Bisons and were only 1½ games behind them. Quite clearly, opportunity was showing a forelock ready to be grabbed.

Sure enough, Friday night Richmond won 4-2 and pulled within a half-game of the Bisons. But then, suddenly, Buffalo decided enough was enough.

Saturday the Bisons smote the Braves 5-0 to restore their 1½-game lead in the thrilling battle for seventh place. And Sunday they upped it to 2½ games by winning again 8-6, with some late-inning heroics.

Meantime, in the dizzy heights of the first division, Rochester was sweeping two from Louisville, 3-0, and 3-1, and moving into second place 4½ games behind Toledo, a 6-2 loser at Jacksonville. Columbus, now five games out of first, split with Syracuse, losing 7-6 and winning 5-4.

Two mighty home runs by Dave Nicholson, his 26th and 27th, staked Richmond to 4-0 lead over Buffalo, but the Braves couldn't stand that sort of prosperity. Sam Bownes' three-run homer got the Bisons back into contention in the sixth and they moved ahead for keeps in a three-run seventh on two singles and doubles by Hector Lopez and Dick Billings.

Rochester combined Rick Delgado's sixth-hit pitching, five double plays and Chet Trail's two-run homer to beat Louisville in their opener. In the nightcap, which went two extra innings, the Red Wings broke a 1-1 tie in the ninth on Vick Roznovsky's RBI single scoring Terry Crowley.

Tug McGraw pitched a six-hitter for Jacksonville in its victory over Toledo. Chico Diaz had a two-run homer for the Mets.

Syracuse's Bill Melton hit three home runs and three singles in the Chiefs' split with Columbus. Mike Hegan's double, Thad Tillotson's single and Len Boehmer's sacrifice fly produced the ninth-inning run that won the first game for the Chiefs.

Columbus took the nightcap with a seventh-inning marker on a single, a walk, a hit batsman and Elvio Jiminez' RBI hit.

Of the 21 games the Jets and Chiefs played this year, 10 were decided by a single run. Columbus won the season series, 11-10.

Every man has his price.

These are ours.

And you don't have to figure out how much the extras will add to the price of the Volkswagen you buy. We already figured them in.

By building them in.

Things like heater/defrosters, windshield washers and adjustable bucket seats are part of the car. You can't own a VW without owning them, too.

(Things like whitewalls are extra, as you might expect. But we tell you that in the *.)

A Volkswagen won't only cost you less to drive out in. It'll cost you less to drive around in.

VW sedans (even the 65 hp Fastback and Squareback) get up to 27 miles to a gallon.

Even the biggest Volkswagen, our boxy station wagon, gets up to 23.

They all take oil by the pint. (Even the expensive-looking Karmann Ghia.) And never cost you a cent for anti-freeze because Volkswagen engines are air-cooled.

But if you still don't care to sell out so cheap, there is one way to raise the price of a Volkswagen. Get a sunroof. With the beetle, Fastback or Squareback.

(For no money at all, of course, you can come in and see them all in person.)

Extends Hitless Streak to 24 1/3 Innings

Ron Thomas Just Missed Third 0-Hitter

Ron Thomas extended his hitless inning streak to 24 2/3 innings, and lost his bid for a third consecutive no-hit, no-run with two outs in the seventh inning, Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

But the big right hander completed the contest with a sparkling one-hit, 13-strikeout performance, as the Kingston Braves, newly-crowned Rookie League champions, blanked the Newburgh Atoms, 9-0, in the opener of the best-of-five play off series.

A ground single past third base by catcher Marsh Canosa ruined Thomas' bid for the no-hitter. It was a clean smash that third baseman Pete Watzka was unable to reach.

The Atoms rebounded with a 4-1 victory to even the series at 1-1 Sunday at Newburgh. The teams return to Dietz stadium for the third contest Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Climaxing the most sensational pitching stint in area baseball history, Thomas walked two and was backed by errorless support. His record is now a league-leading 8-1 and the Braves are 18-6 overall for the season.

The former Wagner College and Kingston High varsity pitcher boosted his seasonal strikeout total to 124, also tops in the Rookie League.

Blast McMillan Early

The Braves reached southpaw Jim McMillan for 11 hits and got to the Atom ace in a hurry. They led by 6-2 as early as the second inning.

Lou Perry and Jerry Hawkins slugged three hits each and Pete Watzka slammed a three-run homer in the second inning.

The Braves scored twice in the first when Mike Patrick walked, went to third on Lou Perry's single. Hawkins doubled Patrick home and Perry scored on an error.

Ron Valle's triple to right triggered the four-run second. Patrick walked and stole second. Hawkins knocked Valle in with a single and Watzka cleared the bases with a long homer up the right centerfield alley. The ball rolled to the top of the bank.

Glenn Davis knocked in the two runs in the fourth with a double, after Perry singled and Hawkins and Watzka walked to load the bases.

Jolt Janes Early

In the Sunday game at Newburgh, the Atoms got to starter Charlie Janes early and ran up a 4-0 lead in the first three innings. Bob Speirs came on to blank the Atoms the rest of the way but it was too late. Six walks and a wild pitch spelled trouble for the KHS strikeout ace.

Pat Myers, a Braves nemesis throughout the season came through with a strong performance. He limited the Braves to six hits and lost his shutout in the fourth inning when Pete Watzka duplicated his Saturday night feat with his third home run of the season.

Atoms went ahead 1-0 in the first, as Vince Trapini walked, stole second and scored on Jay Hasbrouck's single. Ken Rossiter walked in the second, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and came home on Jim Ferguson's sacrifice fly.

Four bases on balls and Trapani's single accounted for two runs in the third and sent Janes to the showers.

The Boros Cool Impresses Cub at First Golf Tourney

(Editor's Note: The following is a description of the finish of the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic Sunday by George Tomson, a new member of the sports staff, who saw his first major golf tournament and 48-year-old Julius Boros birdie the last hole to win the $50,000 first prize).

HARRISON — With all contenders for the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic, richest on the pro-tour, in the final three groupings, and Julius Boros in the middle, it was easy to tell how Jack Nicklaus was doing ahead, and Bob Murphy, in back, by the cheers or moans of the gallery.

There, on the 18th tee of the Westchester Country Club was Julius Boros, now chain smoking, the only visible evidence of pressure on this senior member of the leaders. At this point he was tied with Murphy for the lead at 15-under-par and had the young, lean and hungry-looking Dan Sikes at his side, at 14 under par.

Look Back at Murphy

Before teeing off, Boros took a look over his shoulder to see Bob Murphy, leading most of the way, prepare to putt for a birdie that would put him ahead again.

The roly-poly, red-haired and green attired youngster was visibly nervous, unable to stand still as he circled the green waiting his turn to putt. Then he stepped up to the ball, studying it with extra care and putted to within an inch of the hole, missing it for a par.

Boros no sooner had time to enjoy the missed putt by Murphy when a tremendous roar from the crowd in the distance told him that Nicklaus had birdied the 18th to put him 15-under-par and in a tie for the lead with Julius and Murphy.

Then Boros, after getting a cool drink from his youngest son, who was at his side throughout the match, belted his tee shot straight and true. It was typical of the kind of shots he had been making all day. He was the essence of calm and deliberation, sometimes acting as if he didn't know that he was tied for the lead.

Sikes Was Persistent

But Dan Sikes stayed with the old pro and both were on the 18th green in three, shooting for birdies, Sikes to tie and Boros to win. Sikes, cool and confident, now had his first opportunity of the day to get with the leaders, and he did, sinking a seven-footer.

Now there were four players at 15-under-par and Boros had his chance to win if he sunk his six footer, provided Murphy came off the 18th with a par. Well, Julius didn't waste any time. He checked the ball only twice and with nerves of steel putted straight and true. Here was seen the first real display of emotion for him as a king size smile came over his tanned, weather beaten face and his hat came off to his fans as a tribute to his faithful followers.

Julius Boros, the man who appeared to get more pleasure from having his son at his side than sinking a putt, the man who at 48 was expected to fold when the weather got hot, the man who the crowd became sympathetic toward because of the seemingly physical torment he was going through with a bad back and twenty or so extra pounds, fooled every one with the style of a pro. And he took the $50,000 first prize home.

Rhubarb-Filled Game Keeps Reds' Hopes Alive

By DALY
UPI Sports Writer

Although most people might laugh, hustling Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds hasn't conceded the National League pennant to the St. Louis Cardinals despite their commanding 13½ game lead — Rose thinks the Reds still have a chance.

The barrel-chested outfielder, has collected six hits in 10 at bats and raised his league-leading batting avearge to .342, was instrumental in the Reds doubleheader sweep over the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

In the first game, with the Reds protecting a 2-1 lead, he cut down Phil Regan at the plate with a perfect peg from right field as the Cub relief hurler tried to score from second on Glenn Beckert's single. In the nightcap he used his bat to spark his team, cracking out four hits, one of them his eighth homer of the year, as the Reds won 6-3.

"We've got momentum now" said Rose relaxing in front of his locker after the game and accepting handshakes from his teammates. "It's not in the realm of the impossible, even though the Cardinals are 13 1-2 games in front of us. We've won six in a row now and we've still got some big games coming up. There's no telling what could happen if they suddenly went into a slump."

In other National League action St. Louis buried Atlanta 10-1, Philadelphia topped San Francisco 5-1, Pittsburgh downed Los Angeles 5-1 and New York and Houston split a doubleheader with the Mets taking the first 8-1 and the Astros winning the nightcap 5-2.

The first Cubs-Reds game saw a bizarre argument flare up in the seventh inning when umpire Chris Pelekoudas judged that Regan was throwing an illegal pitch. With a 1-2 count on Mack Jones, the plate umpire ruled that the count should be 3-1. This brought Leo Durocher screaming onto the field after a five minute argument, Jones resumed his stance at the plate with a 2-2 count.

He flew out to centerfield on the next delivery but Pelekoudas ruled the pitch a ball. The umpire then went to the mound demanding that Regan remove his cap and then he wiped Regan's head and cap with a towel. This triggered another explosion from Durocher who was thrown out of the game.

Al Sangler, sitting in the Cubs dugout, rushed third base umpire Shag Crawford and tried to punch him. He too was ejected.

Tempers remained high and before the contest was over Randy Hundley was ousted for protesting too loudly on a foul tip and Rose was ejected in the ninth for arguing too strenuously after being thrown out at second on an attempted steal.

Tony Perez homered in both games for the Reds and stretched his hitting streak to 16 games. George Culver, 10-12, and Gary Nolan, 5-2 were the winning pitchers, but both needed help from reliever Clay Carroll.

Bisons Come Alive To Trample Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who says the Bisons is a dying breed? Not the Richmond Braves, who discovered over the weekend there were quite enough Buffalo Bisons around to foil their hopes of escaping the International League basement.

The Braves, last year's league champs, toppled into the cellar July 3 and haven't been out of it since. But their hopes rose when seventh-place Buffalo came to Richmond Friday for a three-game set.

After all, the Braves held a 12-6 season advantage over the Bisons and were only 1½ games behind them. Quite clearly, opportunity was showing a forelock ready to be grabbed.

Sure enough, Friday night Richmond won 4-2 and pulled within a half-game of the Bisons. But then, suddenly, Buffalo decided enough was enough.

Saturday the Bisons smote the Braves 5-0 to restore their 1½-game lead in the thrilling battle for seventh place. And Sunday they upped it to 2½ games by winning again 8-6, with some late-inning heroics.

Meantime, in the dizzy heights of the first division, Rochester was sweeping two from Louisville, 3-0, and 3-1, and moving into second place 4½ games behind Toledo, a 6-2 loser at Jacksonville. Columbus, now five games out of first, split with Syracuse, losing 7-6 and winning 5-4.

Two mighty home runs by Dave Nicholson, his 26th and 27th, staked Richmond to 4-0 lead over Buffalo, but the Braves couldn't stand that sort of prosperity. Sam Bownes' three-run homer got the Bisons back into contention in the sixth and they moved ahead for keeps in a three-run seventh on two singles and doubles by Hector Lopez and Dick Billings.

Rochester combined Rick Delgado's sixth-hit pitching, five double plays and Chet Trail's two-run homer to beat Louisville in their opener. In the nightcap, which went two extra innings, the Red Wings broke a 1-1 tie in the ninth on Vick Roznovsky's RBI single scoring Terry Crowley.

Tug McGraw pitched a six-hitter for Jacksonville in its victory over Toledo. Chico Diaz had a two-run homer for the Mets.

Syracuse's Bill Melton hit three home runs and three singles in the Chiefs' split with Columbus. Mike Hegan's double, Thad Tillotson's single and Len Boehmer's sacrifice fly produced the ninth-inning run that won the first game for the Chiefs.

Columbus took the nightcap with a seventh-inning marker on a single, a walk, a hit batsman and Elvio Jiminez' RBI hit.

Of the 21 games the Jets and Chiefs played this year, 10 were decided by a single run. Columbus won the season series, 11-10.

Kingston Eliminated In Moose Tournament

Four teams qualified for the Eastern New York State Moose Little League District playoffs in Sidney, N. Y. on Labor Day, in the eliminations held at the Metropolitan knothole field, Saturday.

The Kingston Moose, even with the ace pitcher Barry Alexander from Pine Bush, were powerless against the Poughkeepsie pitcher Lennon, who gave up only three hits compared to eight for Poughkeepsie. Lennon had 12 strikeouts for Poughkeepsie while Alexander struck out 10 leading hitters for the visitors were Stitzger and Tomoshfskis with two singles each.

Reverhead Moose, Hudson, and Central Islip were the other winners. Riverhead overpowered the hapless Richmond Hill team No. 2, 21-1 collecting 21 hits in their rout.

Bill Paldie of Central Islip tossed a one-hitter against Richmond Hill Team No. 1, as Jerry Ginter's double in the first drive in the only run of the game.

The Ossining and Hudson game also proved to be a pitcher's duel as Hudson, although outhit 4-2, were able to win 4-1, as John Burns and Lanie Crosswell each hit a homer.

Every man has his price.

These are ours.

And you don't have to figure out how much the extras will add to the price of the Volkswagen you buy. We already figured them in.

By building them in.

Things like heater/defrosters, windshield washers and adjustable bucket seats are part of the car. You can't own a VW without owning them, too.

(Things like whitewalls are extra, as you might expect. But we tell you that in the *.)

A Volkswagen won't only cost you less to drive out in. It'll cost you less to drive around in.

VW sedans (even the 65 hp Fastback and Squareback) get up to 27 miles to a gallon.

Even the biggest Volkswagen, our boxy station wagon, gets up to 23.

They all take oil by the pint. (Even the expensive-looking Karmann Ghia.) And never cost you a cent for anti-freeze because Volkswagen engines are air-cooled.

But if you still don't care to sell out so cheap, there is one way to raise the price of a Volkswagen. Get a sunroof. With the beetle, Fastback or Squareback.

(For no money at all, of course, you can come in and see them all in person.)

King's Diner Has Playoff Berth

King's Diner, trounced Helsmoortel's Insurance, 6-3, behind the five-hit pitching of Jamie Todaro to win a playoff berth in the Met Division of the Saugerties Softball League with a 9-8 record.

The loser, Sam Tesoriero yielded only four hits but bases on balls proved crucial, as six of the nine tallies reached first on free passes.

Two Met Division games are scheduled tonight—McConekey's vs. A. J. Scarselli's at 6:30 p. m. and Boo's vs. Greenfinger at 8 p. m.

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Kathy Whitworth shot a final round 62 to win the Holiday Inn Women's Open golf tourney with a 206 for 54 holes.

Whitworth Ties Mark

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Defending champion Kathy Whitworth turned in seven birdies in the final round for a seven-under-par 62 Sunday to win the Holiday Inn Women's Open Golf Tournament with a total 206 for 54 holes, six strokes in front of Carol Mann.

The 62 tied Mickey Wright's tour record set at Hogan Park Golf Club in Midland, Tex., in 1964. Miss Whitworth has won the St. Louis tournament for three straight years.

Miss Wright, one of the top woman money winners, finished far down the list with a 222 total on three straight 74s.

Night of Upsets At Monticello

MONTICELLO — It was a night for upsets at Monticello Raceway Saturday night. Shipshape Lobell, George Sholty's horse in the $17,170 Franklin E. Devlin Challenge Cup, a pre-race non-betting event, started things off and in the evening's companion feature, the fourth, 9-1 shot Freight Comet continued with a stirring 2:02 triumph.

The Devlin which carried an 8:30 post time, only a trio of four-year-old pacers, and a mile and a quarter distance, went in 2:40.2 to Shipshade, who overhauled Bill Haughton's Meadow Elva in the stretch to win by a three-quarter length margin.

Freight Comet, Fred Bradbury up, zoomed by 4-5 choice Sunny O'Brien going to the three-fourths, then opened a two-length lead coming home to take the $6,000 pace.

Bradbury's steed, winner the third time this year in 14 starts, paid a nifty $20.00, 6.20 and 4.40. Sunny O'Brien was worth $3.60 and 3.00, while K. G. Adios had a $4.00 show ticket.

The evening's daily double found a pair of rail horses, Botin Hanover and Black Blaze, hooking up for a surprisingly high $203.40 payoff.

Yanks Walk To Victory

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Lew Krausse walked Rocky Colavito and Frank Fernandez in the top of the 10th inning Sunday to force across two runs and give the New York Yankees a 7-5 victory over the Oakland Athletics.

Krausse, the sixth of seven Oakland pitchers used in the three-hour, 11-minute struggle, had retired six straight batters when he walked Tom Tresh to open the 10th.

Roy White was given a hit when the Oakland infield was slow in deciding what to do with his sacrifice bunt and the bases became full when first baseman Danny Cater threw Andy Kosco's sacrifice bunt too late to third.

Then Krausse walked Colavito to force across the winning run and one out later followed with his walk to Fernandez for an insurance marker. Lindy McDaniel pitched one-hit ball over the final 3 1-3 innings to gain his second victory in as many decisions while Krause, who gave up a three-run homer to Kosco in the ninth inning Saturday night, slipped to 8-10.

Three Top Matches in Tennis Meet

There were no major upsets in the Ulster County Tennis Tournament over the Weekend, but three standout matches highlighted the intensive schedule.

Defending singles champion Peter Zeeh overwhelmed Dick Little with unexpected ease, 6-0, 6-1, but Jim Frederick, the No. 2 seed, had to pull out all the stops to defeat youthful Peter Boyd, who reaches his 14th birthday today, 6-4, 6-2.

Young Boyd played with three taped fingers cut while opening a can of balls for the match. The score doesn't reflect the tremendous match it was. Peter's spunk made it one of the best in the tournament.

The nearest thing to a major upset occurred in the men's doubles where a father and son combination of Dr. John Roberts and Dave Roberts carried the Zeeh brothers—Peter and Bill—to three bitterly contested sets before yielding, 6-3, 4-6 6-4. The Zeeh brothers advanced to the finals as a result of the victory

What observers described as the finest match of the tournament to date came in mixed doubles, where Hank and Judy Sykes of Saugerties defeated Sol and Ruth Golden of Ellenville, 3-6, 6-2, 13-11.

Marathon Match

The match started at mid-morning Saturday and ended two and a half hours later in hot, sticky, humid weather. After coming from behind to take the second set, the Sykes found themselves trailing 0-5. They rallied furiously to tie it at 5-all.

It was a see-saw affair through the 22nd game of the third set to 11-all. Then the Sykes reeled off two straight games and the match.

Other results:

(Men's Singles)

Dick Smith defeated Dave Roberts, 6-0, 6-2, to reach the semi-finals with a brilliant net and placement game.

(Men's Doubles)

Dr. Roberts-Dave Roberts d Bill Carr-Marshall Lipton by default. Dick Smith and Dick Little, No. 1 seeded team, d Jim Frederick-Joe Scott, 6-4, 6-3. Smith and Little meet the Zeeh brothers in the finals.

(Mixed Doubles)

Nick - Mary Fowler d Joe Scott-Judy Hevesi, 6-1, 6-2; Chip and Peggy Grover d Dick and Sandra Ihly, 8-6, 6-1; Peter and Pat Boyd; Dr. and Mrs. Mrs. Milton Grover, 6-2, 6-2.

Bill Zeeh-Daisy Beal d Ray and Dotty Lauterbach, 6-1, 6-1; Dave and Ann Roberts d Bill and Rose Boyd, 6-0, 6-0; Dick Smith and Barbara Badalato, the No. 2 team, defeated Jim and Kathy Boyd, 6-0, 3-6, 6-0.

Saturday, the Boyds defeated Ray and Davey Nelson, 6-3, 6-1.

Peter Zeeh-Kitty Fowler, No. 1 seed, eliminated Hank and Judy Sykes, 6-1, 6-2.

(Women's Singles)

Mary Fowler d Davey Nelson, 6-0, 6-0, in quarter final match. She meets Ruth Gordon today in a semi-final match.

(Women's Doubles)

Mary Grover—Elinor Darling d Daisy Beal and Kay Spangenberger, 6-2, 6-4.

Rose and Pat Boyd d Mary Fowler and Dotty Lauterbach, 6-2, 9-7.

(Today's Schedule)

Dick Smith vs. Jim Frederick, men's singles, 5:30 p. m., Forsyth Park. Winner meets Peter Zeeh for title next weekend.

Women's singles — Ruth Golden vs. Mary Fowler, quarter finals.

Mixed doubles — quarter finals—Bill Zeeh-Daisy Beal vs. Peter Zeeh-Kitty Fowler; Chip and Peggy Grover vs. Peter and Pat Boyd.

King's Diner Has Playoff Berth

King's Diner, trounced Helsmoortel's Insurance, 6-3, behind the five-hit pitching of Jamie Todaro to win a playoff berth in the Met Division of the Saugerties Softball League with a 9-8 record.

The loser, Sam Tesoriero yielded only four hits but bases on balls proved crucial, as six of the nine tallies reached first on free passes.

Two Met Division games are scheduled tonight—McConekey's vs. A. J. Scarselli's at 6:30 p. m. and Boo's vs. Greenfinger at 8 p. m.

Whitworth Ties Mark

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Defending champion Kathy Whitworth turned in seven birdies in the final round for a seven-under-par 62 Sunday to win the Holiday Inn Women's Open Golf Tournament with a total 206 for 54 holes, six strokes in front of Carol Mann.

The 62 tied Mickey Wright's tour record set at Hogan Park Golf Club in Midland, Tex., in 1964. Miss Whitworth has won the St. Louis tournament for three straight years.

Miss Wright, one of the top woman money winners, finished far down the list with a 222 total on three straight 74s.

Night of Upsets At Monticello

MONTICELLO — It was a night for upsets at Monticello Raceway Saturday night. Shipshape Lobell, George Sholty's horse in the $17,170 Franklin E. Devlin Challenge Cup, a pre-race non-betting event, started things off and in the evening's companion feature, the fourth, 9-1 shot Freight Comet continued with a stirring 2:02 triumph.

The Devlin which carried an 8:30 post time, only a trio of four-year-old pacers, and a mile and a quarter distance, went in 2:40.2 to Shipshade, who overhauled Bill Haughton's Meadow Elva in the stretch to win by a three-quarter length margin.

Freight Comet, Fred Bradbury up zoomed by 4-5 choice Sunny O'Brien going to the three-fourths, then opened a two-length lead coming home to take the $6,000 pace.

Bradbury's steed, winner the third time this year in 14 starts, paid a nifty $20.00, 6.20 and 4.40. Sunny O'Brien was worth $3.60 and 3.00, while K. G. Adios had a $4.00 show ticket.

The evening's daily double found a pair of rail horses, Botin Hanover and Black Blaze, hooking up for a surprisingly high $203.40 payoff.

Yanks Walk To Victory

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Lew Krausse walked Rocky Colavito and Frank Fernandez in the top of the 10th inning Sunday to force across two runs and give the New York Yankees a 7-5 victory over the Oakland Athletics.

Krausse, the sixth of seven Oakland pitchers used in the three-hour, 11-minute struggle, had retired six straight batters when he walked Tom Tresh to open the 10th.

Roy White was given a hit when the Oakland infield was slow in deciding what to do with his sacrifice bunt and the bases became full when first baseman Danny Cater threw Andy Kosco's sacrifice bunt too late to third.

Then Krausse walked Colavito to force across the winning run and one out later followed with his walk to Fernandez for an insurance marker. Lindy McDaniel pitched one-hit ball over the final 3 1-3 innings to gain his second victory in as many decisions while Krause, who gave up a three-run homer to Kosco in the ninth inning Saturday night, slipped to 8-10.

Three Top Matches in Tennis Meet

There were no major upsets in the Ulster County Tennis Tournament over the Weekend, but three standout matches highlighted the intensive schedule.

Defending singles champion Peter Zeeh overwhelmed Dick Little with unexpected ease, 6 0, 6-1, but Jim Frederick, the No. 2 seed, had to pull out all the stops to defeat youthful Peter Boyd, who reaches his 14th birthday today, 6-4, 6-2.

Young Boyd played with three taped fingers cut while opening a can of balls for the match. The score doesn't reflect the tremendous match it was. Peter's spunk made it one of the best in the tournament.

The nearest thing to a major upset occurred in the men's doubles where a father and son combination of Dr. John Roberts and Dave Roberts carried the Zeeh brothers—Peter and Bill—to three bitterly contested sets before yielding, 6-3, 4-6 6-4. The Zeeh brothers advanced to the finals as a result of the victory

What observers described as the finest match of the tournament to date came in mixed doubles, where Hank and Judy Sykes of Saugerties defeated Sol and Ruth Golden of Ellenville, 3-6, 6-2, 13-11.

Marathon Match

The match started at midmorning Saturday and ended two and a half hours later in hot, sticky, humid weather. After coming from behind to take the second set, the Sykes found themselves trailing 0-5. They rallied furiously to tie it at 5-all.

It was a see-saw affair through the 22nd game of the third set to 11-all. Then the Sykes reeled off two straight games and the match.

Other results:

(Men's Singles)

Dick Smith defeated Dave Roberts, 6-0, 6-2, to reach the semi-finals with a brilliant net and placement game.

(Men's Doubles)

Dr. Roberts-Dave Roberts d Bill Carr-Marshall Lipton by default. Dick Smith and Dick Little, No. 1 seeded team, d Jim Frederick-Joe Scott, 6-4, 6-3. Smith and Little meet the Zeeh brothers in the finals.

(Mixed Doubles)

Nick - Mary Fowler d Joe Scott-Judy Hevesi, 6-1, 6-2; Chip and Peggy Grover d Dick and Sandra Ihly, 8-6, 6-1; Peter and Pat Boyd; Dr. and Mrs. Mrs. Milton Grover, 6-2, 6-2.

Bill Zeeh-Daisy Beal d Ray and Dotty Lauterbach, 6-1, 6-1; Dave and Ann Roberts d Bill and Rose Boyd, 6-0, 6-0; Dick Smith and Barbara Badalato, the No. 2 team, defeated Jim and Kathy Boyd, 6-0, 3-6, 6-0.

Saturday, the Boyds defeated Ray and Davey Nelson, 6-3, 6-1.

Peter Zeeh-Kitty Fowler, No. 1 seed, eliminated Hank and Judy Sykes, 6-1, 6-2.

(Women's Singles)

Mary Fowler d Davey Nelson, 6-0, 6-0, in quarter final match. She meets Ruth Gordon today in a semi-final match.

(Women's Doubles)

Mary Grover—Elinor Darling d Daisy Beal and Kay Spangenberger, 6-2, 6-4.

Rose and Pat Boyd d Mary Fowler and Dotty Lauterbach, 6-2, 9-7.

(Today's Schedule)

Dick Smith vs. Jim Frederick, men's singles, 5:30 p. m., Forsyth Park. Winner meets Peter Zeeh for title next weekend.

Women's singles — Ruth Golden vs. Mary Fowler, quarter finals.

Kickers Capture Mid-Hudson Tourney in Overtime

ACTION AT OEHLER'S — Players of the Dalmatinac (dark shirts) and Eintracht in scramble during semi-final round of the Mid-Hudson Valley Soccer Tournament Sunday at Oehler's Mountain Lodge. Dalmatinac won 5-2, but title went to Kingston Sport Club. (Freeman photo by Haines).

MORGAN HILL — They hauled out the steins and rang the tocsin for a new soccer hero in this beautiful Ulster County locale late Sunday afternoon.

The man of the hour had to be Jimmy Reinhardt, the Canadian-born import, who scored three clutch goals during a long exciting afternoon to bring the Mid-Hudson Valley Soccer Tournament title to the host Kingston Sport Club Kickers

Reinhardt's first goal — a spectacular 25-yard boot off that superlative left toe of his, triggered the Kickers' first round win, 3-1, over Entracht of New York. A minute later Gino Ventrigila took a neat pass from Elliott Pobbi-Asare to add some icing for a 3-1 victory that moved Kingston into the championship finals against Bavarians, 1-0, winners over Falmatinac.

With the Kickers trailing, 2-1, at the 50-minute mark of the one-hour championship test, Reinhardt uncorked another spectacular left-footer, the ball blasting off the Bavarian goalie into the net.

Calls It 'Greatest'

Ingo Froehlich, a former goalie and now secretary of the Sports Club, described Reinhardt's withering blast at the Bavarian goalie as the "greatest shot in the whole tournament." It tied the score at 2-2 and sent the teams into overtime for the second time during the day.

And there was more of Reinhardt to come. The overtimes are split into two five-minute periods and only a deft save by golie Timo Liekoski enabled the Kickers to stay alive.

The sudden-death overtime moved for 12 minutes, with desultory action in the early going, as the players were tired from a long afternoon of intensive play.

Suddenly there was a scramble in front of the Bavarian goal and from out of a cloud of dust came Reinhardt's third spectacular shot of the day. It blasted past the dazzled Bavarian goalie who seemed to be stunned by the sudden turn of events.

Pandemonium followed. The Kicker players crowded around their popular teammate, who came from the Concordia Kitcheners of Canada to carve out a steady spot for himself with the League Division champion Kickers.

In the semi-final contests, Bavarian eliminated Dalmatinac in the closing seconds with a corner kick.

Dalmatinac ran up four fast goals and then coasted to a 5-2 victory in the consolation to capture third place.

Robinson Seeing-Eye For Birds' Flag Drive

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

Frank Robinson is seeing things much more clearly now and as a result the Baltimore Orioles haven't lost sight of the American League pennant.

The AL championship is still a long way off for the second place Orioles, but if Robinson continues to hit the way he did Sunday the Orioles might still have a chance of overhauling the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

Robinson, who has just about recovered completely from the double-vision he incurred after a head injury last season, drove in four runs Sunday with a homer, single and a double to pace the Orioles to a 7-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

The triumph, coupled with Boston's 4-1 victory over Detroit, moved the Orioles to within seven games of the league leaders with 40 games remaining to be played for each team.

In other AL action, Chicago swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 4-2 and 8-1, California beat Washington 6-4 and New York edged Oakland 7-5 in 10 innings.

11th Homer

Robinson cracked his 11th homer of the year with the bases empty in the sixth inning, singled home a run in the seventh and doubled home two more runs in ninth to help Dave Leonhard notch his sixth victory in 11 decisions.

Winning pitcher Juan Pizarro squeezed home the tie-breaking run and Dalton Jones followed with a two-run homer as the Red Sox defeated the Tigers.

The Tigers' only run came on Willie Horton's 28th homer of the year in the fifth inning.

Joel Horlen and Tommy John each turned in a six-hit performance as the White Sox beat the Indians twice. The two-route going performances were the first turned in by a White Sox pitcher since Aug. 3 and were the only two victories for the White Sox in Cleveland this season.

Throwing Error

A throwing error by pitcher Phil Ortega and sacrifice flies by Roger Repoz and Jim Fregosi in the eighth inning enabled the Angels to score three runs and whip the Senators. Frank Howard hit his 35th homer and rookie Brant Alyea crashed a pinch-hit homer for Washington.

Mets Split Twin Bill

NEW YORK (UPI)—Denis Menke delivered a two-run bases-loaded single in the eighth innin gto spark a three-run rally and give the Houston Astros a 5-2 victory in the nightcap Sunday after the New York Mets won the opener 8-1 behind the six-hit pitching of Don Cardwell.

Menke's single came off reliever Cal Koonce after the Astros had filled the bases against Dick Selma and Billy Short on a double by Hector Torres, a walk to Jimmy Wynn and a hit batsman. A wild pitch by Koonce enabled the third run of the inning to score. A two-run homer by J.C. Martin gave the Mets a 2-0 lead in the second inning, but a run-scoring single by Bob Aspromonte in the fourth inning and Wynn's 19th homer of the season in the sixth tied the game.

Rookie Jim Ray went the distance for the Astros to record his second triumph against two losses. He allowed four hits, walked 3 and struck out 10 and the two runs off him were the only ones scored against him in 33 innings this season.

Cardwell, who posted his seventh victory against 10 losses in the opener, helped his cause with a two-run single in the second inning as he ended an 0-for-28 batting slump.

The Mets tagged Mike Cuellar with his ninth loss in 15 decisions and kayoed the young southpaw from the game in the third when Ed Charles and Jerry Grote delivered run-scoring singles.

All-Dean Finals Set In Woodstock Tourney

WOODSTOCK—One thing will be certain at the Woodstock Country Club next weekend. A member of the Bert Dean family of Woodstock will win the 1968 championship and it could he the head of the household himself.

The All-Dean finale was assured Sunday when David Dean edged his 14-year-old brother, Scotty, 1-up in 19 holes. Lembert Dean, the father, moved into the finals Saturday with a 2 and 1 victory over Jim Dills.

David closed out his brother with a par-4 on the first extra hole, after the prococious youngster had rallied from a dormie-2 situation to take the last two holes and send the match into extra holes.

All even at the turn in 38s, Scotty went one up on the 11th when David bit two balls out of bounds but David squared the match with a par-3 on the 4th hole.

On the par-five 14th, Scotty missed a two-foot par putt and a chance to move ahead. Instead he settled for a halve with a bogey-6. David drove within 20 feet of the traps fronting the No. 6 (15th) green and got his par 4. Scotty again missed a 2-footer to trail by a hole.

Bogeys Sixteenth

Scotty bogeyed the 16th hole after pulling his approach shot into the clump of trees bordering the fairway and trailed dormie-2 after David got down in par four.

Scotty holed a 12-foot birdie 3 on the 17th hole where David missed a birdie and match from six feet.

David ran into trouble on the 18th where his tee shot landed into the left bunker. He exploded too strongly across the green and almost out of bounds. Scotty, meanwhile, drove down the middle and was on the green in two—15 feet from the cup.

David's ball on the trap explosion landed so close to the out of bounds wire that his swing was impeded. He again hit across the green to the edge of the left bunker and stood at 4 after his whip shot wound up 6 feet from the cup.

Putts Too Boldly

Scotty, instead of lagging his putt to the cup for a safe 4, stroked it boldly and sent it four feet past the cup. He refused to buckle, however and calmly rolled in the equalizer to send the match into extra holes.

On the extra hole, Scotty pulled his approach and was on the green 35 feet from the cup. His first putt was five feet short. David, on in two, just missed a bridie from 10 feet and canned his four. Scotty was unable to sink his 5-footer and the match was over.

Bert Dean won three holes in a row after he and Dills made the turn all even in their Saturday match. Hills rallied to take 13 when Dean hit the water in the 14th. After two halved holes, Dean took No. 17 and match.

The 36-hole finals will be played in 18-hole rounds next Saturday and Sunday.

Olive Town Board Discusses Smog, New Election Laws

The Olive Town Board met recently and discussed smog and new rulings by the County Board of Elections.

The board was notified by the County Board of Elections that in the future a telephone must be installed and maintained at each polling district for the use of the election clerks and inspectors when in session. Permanent registration being in effect in this locale, all residents are required to personally re-register in the event of change of address, or having recently taken up residence within the area. This may be accomplished as follows: by registering at the county office building on or before Aug. 29, or at one's local polling district on the following dates — Sept. 28, 12 noon to 10 p.m., Oct. 4 from 6 a.m. to 12 noon, or Oct. 5, from 12 noon to 10 p.m.

Traffic control will be continued at the intersection of Boice's Lane and Route 28 during dismissal of employes at Rotron Manufacturing Company.

Highway Superintendent Marcel Maier received the approval of the Town Board to obtain release from individual property owners to enter upon properties adjacent to town-owned highways for the purpose of correcting drainage problems when necessary for highway maintenance.

The pavilion recently contracted for was completed Aug. 10. Justice of the Peace Bradford Kelder suggested that a street light, strategically placed between the swimming pool and the pavilion, would possibly avoid vandalism at this location and the motion was passed.

A communication was received from the State Department of Health notifying the board of the recent State Smog Law prohibiting open burning in public or private refuse disposal sites as of Jan. 1, 1969.

Legislators Ernest Gardner and Phillip Davis of County District 11 were present and spoke on the proposed county tax map.

Rotron representative Charles Raibel expressed his appreciation for the hospitable treatment accorded Rotron, and stated that twonspeople would receive preferential consideration in the employment area. Bills in the amounts of $9,-642.07 and $7,159.01 credited to the General Fund and the Highway Fund, respectively, were approved for payment. The next meeting of the Olive Town Board will be held Sept. 3 at 8 p. m.

Centerville Fire

Firemen from Centerville and Cedar Grove responded to an alarm shortly before 11 p. m. Saturday after fire was reported in the Centerville Church Hall. Chief Edward Ricks of Centerville Fire company said a section of the interior of the building was damaged by the flames, the origin of which had not been learned.

AFL EAST: 5-NEW YORK JETS

Weeb Eubank

PROSPECTUS — For first time in history, Jets won more than they lost in '67. This is their year to go all the way—if they'll ever do it. Calm has settled over club since front office upheaval and Babe Parilli has come on scene to backstop Joe Namath. Weeb Ewbank is going to run out of excuses if he doesn't win this one. PREDICTION—First in East.

OFFENSE

PASSING—Leg operations such old stuff to Broadway Joe, no one's even worrying about the latest. He'll never be mistaken for Gale Sayers. But there's nothing wrong with his arm. And if he gets playful, Weeb won't hesitate to relieve him with Parilli. Rating—A

RECEIVING—None better all around, assuming the regular contingent of George Sauer and Don Maynard outside, Pete Lammons at tight end keep up usual pace. Despite decade of play, Maynard shows no symptoms of slowing up. Others are just kids. And Bake Turner is handy sub. Rating—A—.

RUNNING—Up-in-air status of Emerson Boozer and the Army could hold key to entire season. They need his breakaway dashes and affinity for end zone badly. Matt Snell can't do it alone, and Bill Mathis has limitations. Of course, Lee White, the top rookie, could smoke out all the doubts. Rating—B.

LINE—Somehow, they've got to get more blocking ahead of the ball carriers. Sherm Plunkett is overweight, as usual. Winston Hill's forte is holding off (and holding) the other guy. Shift of Jim Harris to offense hasn't wowed anyone. Could go with rookie Sam Walton. The middle shapes up O.K., despite retirement of Sam DeLuca. Dave Herman's a tiger. Rating—C.

DEFENSE

LINE—A lighter Verlon Biggs, underrated Gerry Philbin mean stronger pass rush. But there's nagging doubt about the right tackle spot since Harris flubbed, and John Elliott looks like only hopeful. Rocky Rochester is an old pro at the other tackle. The problem is to get some depth in the middle. Rating—B.

LINEBACKING—Depth is the problem here, too, unless Carl McAdams can stop getting hurt all the time. He'd be logical guy for middle spot, moving Al Atkinson to corner. But way it shapes up now they'll go with Al in middle, Larry Grantham and Ralph Baker on corners, as usual. Rating—B.

SECONDARY—Coaches feel this'll be the best ever because of dramatic improvement of Randy Beverly at corner back, Jim Hudson at Strong safety. Johnny Sample reconsidered retirement, and it'll be a real plus if Cornell Gordon, shifted from corner, can beat out vet Bill Baird at free safety. Rating—B+

KICKING—Status quo, and that's not bad, with Curley Johnson booming the punts and Jim Turner (also an emergency qb) booting the placements. Rating—B.

Kickers Capture Mid-Hudson Tourney in Overtime

By CHARLES J. TIANO

MORGAN HILL — They hauled out the steins and rang the tocsin for a new soccer hero in this beautiful Ulster County locale late Sunday afternoon.

The man of the hour had to be Jimmy Reinhardt, the Canadian-born import, who scored three clutch goals during a long exciting afteroon to bring the Mid-Hudson Valley Soccer Tournament title to the host Kingston Sport Club Kickers

Reinhardt's first goal — a spectacular 25-yard boot off that superlative left toe of his, triggered the Kickers' first round win, 3-1, over Entracht of New York. A minute later Gino Ventriglia took a neat pass from Elliott Pobbi-Asare to add some icing for a 3-1 victory that moved Kingston into the championship finals against Bavarians, 1-0, winners over Falmatinac.

With the Kickers trailing, 2-1, at the 50-minute mark of the one-hour championship test, Reinhardt uncorked another spectacular left-footer, the ball blasting off the Bavarian goalie into the net.

Calls It 'Greatest'

Ingo Froehlich, a former goalie and now secretary of the Sports Club, described Reinhardt's withering blast at the Bavarian goalie as the "greatest shot in the whole tournament." It tied the score at 2-2 and sent the teams into overtime for the second time during the day.

And there was more of Reinhardt to come. The overtimes are split into two five-minute periods and only a deft save by golie Timo Liekoski enabled the Kickers to stay alive.

The sudden-death overtime moved for 12 minutes, with desultory action in the early going, as the players were tired from a long afternoon of intensive play.

Suddenly there was a scramble in front of the Bavarian goal and from out of a cloud of dust came Reinhardt's third spectacular shot of the day. It blasted past the dazzled Bavarian goalie who seemed to be stunned by the sudden turn of events.

Pandemonium followed. The Kicker players crowded around their popular teammate, who came from the Concordia Kitcheners of Canada to carve out a steady spot for himself with the League Division champion Kickers.

In the semi-final contests, Bavarian eliminated Dalmatinac in the closing seconds with a corner kick.

Dalmatinac ran up four fast goals and then coasted to a 5-2 victory in the consolation to capture third place.

Robinson Seeing-Eye For Birds' Flag Drive

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

Frank Robinson is seeing things much more clearly now and as a result the Baltimore Orioles haven't lost sight of the American League pennant.

The AL championship is still a long way off for the second place Orioles, but if Robinson continues to hit the way he did Sunday the Orioles might still have a chance of overhauling the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

Robinson, who has just about recovered completely from the double-vision he incurred after a head injury last season, drove in four runs Sunday with a homer, single and a double to pace the Orioles to a 7-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

The triumph, coupled with Boston's 4-1 victory over Detroit, moved the Orioles to within seven games of the league leaders with 40 games remaining to be played for each team.

In other AL action, Chicago swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 4-2 and 8-1, California beat Washington 6-4 and New York edged Oakland 7-5 in 10 innings.

11th Homer

Robinson cracked his 11th homer of the year with the bases empty in the sixth inning, singled home a run in the seventh and doubled home two more runs in ninth to help Dave Leonhard notch his sixth victory in 11 decisions.

Winning pitcher Juan Pizarro squeezed home the tie-breaking run and Dalton Jones followed with a two-run homer as the Red Sox defeated the Tigers.

The Tigers' only run came on Willie Horton's 28th homer of the year in the fifth inning.

Joel Horlen and Tommy John each turned in a six-hit performance as the White Sox beat the Indians twice. The two-route going performances were the first turned in by a White Sox pitcher since Aug. 3 and were the only two victories for the White Sox in Cleveland this season.

Throwing Error

A throwing error by pitcher Phil Ortega and sacrifice flies by Roger Repoz and Jim Fregosi in the eighth inning enabled the Angels to score three runs and whip the Senators. Frank Howard hit his 35th homer and rookie Brant Alyea crashed a pinch-hit homer for Washington.

Mets Split Twin Bill

NEW YORK (UPI)—Denis Menke delivered a two-run bases-loaded single in the eighth innin gto spark a three-run rally and give the Houston Astros a 5-2 victory in the nightcap Sunday after the New York Mets won the opener 8-1 behind the six-hit pitching of Don Cardwell.

Menke's single came off reliever Cal Koonce after the Astros had filled the bases against Dick Selma and Billy Short on a double by Hector Torres, a walk to Jimmy Wynn and a hit batsman. A wild pitch by Koonce enabled the third run of the inning to score. A two-run homer by J.C. Martin gave the Mets a 2-0 lead in the second inning, but a run-scoring single by Bob Aspromonte in the fourth inning and Wynn's 19th homer of the season in the sixth tied the game.

Rookie Jim Ray went the distance for the Astros to record his second triumph against two losses. He allowed four hits, walked 3 and struck out 10 and the two runs off him were the only ones scored against him in 33 innings this season.

Cardwell, who posted his seventh victory against 10 losses in the opener, helped his cause with a two-run single in the second inning as he ended an 0-for-28 batting slump.

The Mets tagged Mike Cuellar with his ninth loss in 15 decisions and kayoed the young southpaw from the game in the third when Ed Charles and Jerry Grote delivered run-scoring singles.

Olive Town Board Discusses Smog, New Election Laws

The Olive Town Board met recently and discussed smog and new rulings by the County Board of Elections.

The board was notified by the County Board of Elections that in the future a telephone must be installed and maintained at each polling district for the use of the election clerks and inspectors when in session. Permanent registration being in effect in this locale, all residents are required to personally re-register in the event of change of address, or having recently taken up residence within the area. This may be accomplished as follows: by registering at the county office building on or before Aug. 29, or at one's local polling district on the following dates — Sept. 28, 12 noon to 10 p.m., Oct. 4 from 6 a.m. to 12 noon, or Oct. 5, from 12 noon to 10 p.m.

Traffic control will be continued at the intersection of Boice's Lane and Route 28 during dismissal of employes at Rotron Manufacturing Company.

Highway Superintendent Marcel Maier received the approval of the Town Board to obtain release from individual property owners to enter upon properties adjacent to town-owned highways for the purpose of correcting drainage problems when necessary for highway maintenance.

The pavilion recently contracted for was completed Aug. 10. Justice of the Peace Bradford Kelder suggested that a street light, strategically placed between the swimming pool and the pavilion, would possibly avoid vandalism at this location and the motion was passed.

A communication was received from the State Department of Health notifying the board of the recent State Smog Law prohibiting open burning in public or private refuse disposal sites as of Jan. 1, 1969.

Legislators Ernest Gardner and Phillip Davis of County District 11 were present and spoke on the proposed county tax map.

Rotron representative Charles Raibel expressed his appreciation for the hospitable treatment accorded Rotron, and stated that twonspeople would receive preferential consideration in the employment area. Bills in the amounts of $9,642.07 and $7,159.01 credited to the General Fund and the Highway Fund, respectively, were approved for payment. The next meeting of the Olive Town Board will be held Sept. 3 at 8 p. m.

Centerville Fire

Firemen from Centerville and Cedar Grove responded to an alarm shortly before 11 p. m. Saturday after fire was reported in the Centerville Church Hall. Chief Edward Ricks of Centerville Fire company said a section of the interior of the building was damaged by the flames, the origin of which had not been learned.

SAFETY TIP — New York State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Vincent L. Tofany demonstrating his stranded motorist ballon code during filming of special report on highway safety to be televised this month throughout Italy. Under a plan endorsed by the New York State Association of Chiefs of Police, Commissioner Tofany is urging stranded motorists to indicate their needs by displaying solid-color ballons: Red for medical aid; Green for police assistance; and Blue for mechanicalhelp, or fuel.

HRVC Approves 16 Projects In Vicinity of Huson River

The Hudson River Valley Commission recently approved 15 construction projects and one demolition in eight counties along the Hudson, including one in Orange County, and one in Dutchess County.

The decisions for these counties are as follows:

Orange County — A garden apartment development of 128 middle income dwelling units in Newburgh, sponsored by the A.M.E. Zion Church. The Montgomery Street project is estimated at $2.1 million.

Dutchess County — Improvements to the Village of Tivoli's sewage treatment plant, south of Village and off Stony Creek. Estimated cost of the upgrading of the present primary treatment plant to a secondary status is $140,000.

Greene County — A sewage treatment plant on a one-acre site off Water Street in the Village of Athens. Estimated cost of the project is $500,000.

A sewage treatment plant on a 4.1-acre site just north of Catskill Creek and Main Street in the Village of Catskill. Estimated cost is $1.1 million.

The projects listed for other riverside counties are as follows:

Rensselaer County — The State Department of Transportation's 2.8-mile four-lane north-south arterial highway in the City of Troy, between Water and Hoosick Streets, with interchanges at Canal Street and Route 7. Estimated cost is $23 million.

A Colonial-style, four-story office building on First Street, between Congress and Ferry Streets, in Troy. Sponsor of the $700,000 building is Russell Sage College.

A three-story, brick and limestone Infirmary and Nurses Dormitory at Russell Sage College in Troy. The $700,000 structure will be located at the southeast corner of Second and Ferry Streets.

The Troy Housing Authority's first, 100-dwelling unit section at Thompson and Hopkins Streets. Ten two-story buildings, with one-to-four bedroom apartments, are planned at a cost of $1.8 million.

Demolition of a four-story, stucco and masonry structure at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute known as the University Building. The building, erected in 1861 by St. Joseph's Seminary, with a 1927 addition, is directly behind the University Library.

A new Chemistry Research Building at RPI, adpacent to its Engineering Science and Research Building. The three-story masonry structure is estimated at $3.3 million.

Albany County—The Albany Housing Authority's 400- dwelling-unit Arbor Hill public housing complex, consisting of three highrise structures and seven two story town houses. The $6.5 million complex will be located at North Pearl, Ten Broek and Livingston Streets.

Washington County—The 80-bed Fort Hudson Nursing Home on a 10-acre site on North Broadway in Fort Edward. Estimated cost is $1.5 million.

Rockland County — The first stage of the Stony Point Bay Marina, sponsored by Vincent Altomonte. The $300,000 project's first stage will consist of a bulkhead, pier and 475 floatmounts for small boats.

Westchester County—A six-story apartment building of 64 dwelling units on Highland Avenue at Jefferson Street in Yonkers. Sponsored by St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, this Urban Renewal project also includes a separate off-street parking building. The estimated cost of the project is $1.3 million.

Riverview Park Acres, a development of 11 single-family dwelling units of 1½ stories each on Dutch Street in the Town of Cortland. Sponsor of the $400,000 development is Andrew Eggstein.

A $30,000 Kentucky Fried take-out-chicken store in a commerical zone of the Village of Ossining. The store will be built at the corner of South Highland and Nelson Avenues.

• So You Can't Spell Too Gud?

LONDON (UPI)—So you can't spell too GUD?

Take hart.

Dr. Lloyd Thompson told psychiatrists at the International Mental Health Congress that Thomas Edison, Auguste Rodin, Woodrow Wilson and Albert Einstein had the same problem.

Thompson said Wednesday he discovered many famous persons had trouble with words, a revelation which "should provide hope and stimulation for the multitude of Dyslexic (word blind) children, their parents and teachers."

According to Thompson, Edison once wrote of his childhood: "My father thought I was stupid, and I almost decided that I was a dunce." When he was 19, Edison wrote home:

"Dear mother. I have growed considerably I don't look much like a boy now—hows all the folk did you receive a box of books from memphis. Your son Al." (Edison's middle name was Alva.)

Harvey Cushing, an eminent brain surgeon, wrote letters during his medical school days that included the misspelled words "Priviledge, Definate, Sacrafice, Pharsical, Cronacling and Amatures."

• So You Can't Spell Too Gud?

LONDON (UPI)—So you can't spell too GUD?

Take hart.

Dr. Lloyd Thompson told psychiatrists at the International Mental Health Congress that Thomas Edison, Auguste Rodin, Woodrow Wilson and Albert Einstein had the same problem.

Thompson said Wednesday he discovered many famous persons had trouble with words, a revelation which "should provide hope and stimulation for the multitude of Dyslexic (word blind) children, their parents and teachers."

According to Thompson, Edison once wrote of his childhood: "My father thought I was stupid, and I almost decided that I was a dunce." When he was 19, Edison wrote home:

"Dear mother. I have growed considerably I don't look much like a boy now—hows all the folk did you receive a box of books from memphis. Your son Al." (Edison's middle name was Alva.)

Harvey Cushing, an eminent brain surgeon, wrote letters during his medical school days that included the misspelled words "Priviledge, Definate, Sacrafice, Pharsical, Cronacling and Amatures."

DEAR ABBY: I live in an apartment house which caters mostly to elderly ladies. One is an old maid about 60 who teaches school. She and her friend, who is nearly 80 are prim and proper as lavender and old lace but they entertain men until all hours of the night and well into the morning. Some even stay for the weekend. The teacher has two weekend guests who alternate.

The landlady does not seem to mind but I think it looks terrible. It gives the whole building a bad name. Am I being too old-fashioned?

MISS G, AGE 70

DEAR MISS G: I don't know who the men are and what they are doing there but there is a lot to be said for minding one's own business.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My little daughter-in-law is the sweetest child and I love her dearly, but I wish I could tell her NOT to TRY SO HARD when she invites Dad and me to dinner. She wants everything to be "just so," which I think is commendable, but the poor little thing knocks herself out, and I feel guilty for having made her work so hard.

I wouldn't embarrass her for the world by going into her kitchen to "help" her, but believe me, she could use some help. When we arrive, she's in the kitchen struggling with five or six different kinds of hot hors d'oeuvres, and during dinner she's either in the kitchen or jumping around "serving" us. I wish I could tell her if she'd just throw some hamburgers on the grill, slice a few tomatoes and open up a quart of ice cream for dessert, we'd love it. But no, she insists on making the most complicated dishes which require hours of time and tremendous effort.

How can a mother-in-law tell her sweet new daughter-in-law that she'd rather have her company and simple food than the most elaborate meal in the world? She reads your column.

NO NAME, PLS.

DEAR NO NAME: She can't. But since you brought it up, many older, experienced women can also learn this lesson. When a guest accepts an invitation to dinner, he wants to find a HOSTESS — not a "GHOSTESS." Simple food served in a relaxed atmosphere is enjoyed far more than the most elegant gourmet fare offered by a worn out, fretful, nervous wreck who has obviously slaved for hours.

If she reads my column, I hope she doesnt miss this one.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have heard that it is perfectly proper for a gentleman to visit his fiance in her apartment for dinner, watching TV, or listening to stereo. But a lady may not visit her fiance in HIS apartment for the same reasons.

We are a widow and widower in our late fifties (if age is any yardstick). We have no parents or children to chaperon us. What do you think?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Since there is nothing you can do in your apartment that you can't do in hers, I think you should go on doing what you're doing.

• • •

It's In The Stars

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY AUGUST 20, 1968

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Individual from past could make appearance. Build on solid base. Realize that future requires preparation. Give attention to home, property interests.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You Can't leave something before you have arrived. Think. Message becomes clear by tonight. Means don't be premature in arriving at decision. Give facts time to settle.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): The money you seek or ask about comes only when you have conviction necessary to be a pioneer. Think, analyze. Cheap way provides inferior results. Way of principle results in quality.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Your inuitive feelings apt to prove reliable. Know this — have inner confidence. Take initiative. Give special attention to personal appearance.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Look beyond the obvious. What you need is available. But a more subtle approach appears necessary. Take time to experiment, investigate. Accent today is on discreet inquirey.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Desires come to forefront. What you want requires co-operation of allies. Know this — turn on charm. You are capable despite modest protestations — go to it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Accent on ambitions. Ideas come forth. Choose the best. Co-operate in community projects. Prestige rises. You are asked to lead the way — do so. Set fine example.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Keep communication lines open. May be necessary to put intentions, plans on paper. Be receptive and patient. Let others state their aims—then respond accordingly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your way of expressiing thoughts is spotlighted. Making ideas crystal clear may be difficult for you. Don't feel complished at once. Take it easy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Certain commitments come home to roost. Now is time to decide. Act in forthright manner. You are being observed. If you keep promises, response is definitely in your favor.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Finish what you start. Give attention to basic chores. Some confide problems. Be sympathetic—but don't involve yourself in complicated situation. Message clear by tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Accent on children, creative hobbies. Strive toward originality. Express your self. Help those who depend upon you. Key is to be analytical. Piece together bits of information.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are creative, musical, sensuous. Dilemma is about to be solved. Domestic shakeup is over—now you begin to adjust.

Automatic Plays Are for Experts

By Oswald and James Jacoby

Oswald: "There are certain plays that a really fine player makes automatically because he knows they are correct, a careful player makes them after thinking things over, and a careless player usually plays wrong first and thinks afterwards."

James: "Here's a most expensive example. South's bidding was very good. Instead of using Blackwood he decided to cue bid his ace of hearts after North jumped to four spades. When North bid six clubs to show this ace, South bid six diamonds to show his second round control of the suit. North decided that his very good spades and queen of clubs were just what the doctor had ordered and went to the grand slam."

Oswald: It took South just about five seconds to throw away game, grand slam and rubber. He spent one second counting 13 tricks. He could draw trumps, discard two of dummy's hearts and one diamond on his long clubs, ruff his losing heart and get ready for the next rubber. Then he played his ace and king of spades. East showed out. Five minutes later South was down two."

Jim: "He could not afford two more trump leads and he tried to make the hand by ruffing one of dummy's diamonds. West overruffed and cashed a heart for down two."

Oswald: "An expert would have started with the automatic plays of winning one of the first two spade leads in dummy in order to leave a spade honor in his own hand. Should trumps break 3-2 it would make no difference. With trumps breaking 4-1 the expeet would have been able to ruff the third diamond lead with the ace or king of trumps; lead a trump to dummy, discard his low heart on dummy's long trump and run clubs for the rest of the tricks."

Jim: "Automatic for an expert. Acareful player would have to take a second or two to work it out."

Politics Vs. the Olympics

NEW YORK (UPI) — Any presidential candidate who thinks ABC ought to preempt time for him Oct. 12 to Oct. 27 when the White House race is at its hottest will have to consider carefully whether he may lose more votes than he will gain. For there is no fury like a sports fan deprived of a chance to see the Olympic Games in Mexico City live and in color for the first time.

Roone Arledge brilliant head of ABC's Wild World of Sports, admits to being worried about the pressure of election coverage on his great plan to carry 44 hours of Olympic sport from Mexico City, some of it in prime time and almost all of it live. His concern is understandable—the games end only a few days short of election day.

Doubts Interference

"But I strongly doubt," he said in an interview, "that there will be any interference with the live Olympic coverage except for something of overwhelming importance. I don't think any politician would want to annoy some of his viewers and these are the first summer Olympics on our continent since 1932, the first we can see live at a reasonable hour.

"Naturally it would have been better all around if the games had been scheduled for earlier in the year. We ourselves are reluctant to preempt brand new programming so soon after the start of the season. But its an event that must be covered. I've seen an estimate that 400 million people around the world will be watching it by landlines and by satellites!"

Arledge said the coincidence of the Olympics and the election would throw a tremendous burden on the ABC technical staff, which would have 45 cameras of its own at Mexico City and access to 75 others, the biggest camera lineup in television history.'

Entering its eighth year Wide World of Sports is doing better than ever before. It is completely financed for the entire season in accordance with a firm policy which does not give the sponsors any say in what sports are covered or now.

"This gives us freedom to do things," Arledge said.

As an example he cited boxing. Television was once accused of killing boxing. Then came the recent tournament of champions which Arledge decided to back. Jimmy Ellis captured the title taken from Muhammed Ali (Cassius Clay) in a series of bouts that won back boxing's audience. And with it the sponsor returned.

"Just today," Arledge said, "I'm working on the technical problems of covering the championship fight between Ellis and the challenger and former champion Floyd Patterson in Stockholm on Sept. 14. We expect a tremendous television audience. The fight has created great excitement in Sweden even though its the day before the national elections there.

"Patterson is really keyed up for this one, his whole life has been dominated by the thought of coming back from his defeats by Sonny Liston. There's a Hamlet quality in him that strikes a responsive chord in people. You just know he's going to get knocked down and get up and fight his way back. Everybody wants to see him do well. Everybody feels sorry for him. Yet he's made and kept more money out of boxing than any fighter ever".

Arledge said one of Wide World of Sports' secrets was to do everything live where possible. Another was to show unfamiliar sports if there is the basic element of competition that appeals to Americans. This venturesome policy and the general excellence of coverage has won the program two TV Emmys and a Peabody Award.

Automobile racing is one of its staples and gets the most air time. But this year Arledge added, it will cover table tennis, skiing and perhaps the New York State Firemen's contest, a surprisingly popular item with viewers among more conventional sporting fixtures.

Recipe for a Happy New Year

Take twelve fine, full-grown months; see that these are thoroughly free from all old memories of bitterness, rancor, hate and jealousy. Cleanse them completely from every clinging spite;; pick off all specks of pettiness.

Cut these months into 30 or 31 equal parts. Do not attempt to make up the whole batch at one time, but prepare one day at a time, as follows:

Into each day put equal parts of faith, patience, courage, work, hope, fidelity, liberality, kindness, rest, prayer, meditation. Add about a teaspoonful of good spirits, a dash of fun, a pinch of folly, a sprinkling of play, and a heaping cupful of good humor.

Pour love into the whole and mix with a vim. Serve with quietness, unselfishness and cheerfulness.

Ask God for what you want first if you really believe in Him, then go out and do something about it yourself, believing wholeheartedly that He will light the way.

Little Bobby — Miss Brown, should I be punished for something I didn't do?

Miss Brown (the teacher) — Of course not.

Little Bobby — Well, I haven't done my spelling lesson.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Humphrey and McCarthy forces squared off today for a brawl over platform planks and delegate seating contests that threatened to plunge the Democratic National Convention into turmoil.

Supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy took the initiative, hoping for a coup that would help them overtake vice president Hubert H. Humphrey's strong lead in the party's presidential race.

Preliminary Jockeying

Although the formal opening of the convention was still a week away, the preliminary jockeying started with platform committee hearings in Washington and the credentials committee session in Chicago.

The angry war of words contrasted with the prologue to the Republican National Convention, were platform writers found little trouble satisfying rival presidential candidates and no significant contest developed over seating delegates.

Humphrey Remains Favorite

Unless McCarthy backers can reverse the trend Humphrey will remain a runaway favorite to face Republican Richard M. Nixon in November.

The two late-starting Democratic candidates, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia, are not regarded as serious contenders.

The basic division between McCarthy and the Democratic establishment was sharpened with publication of McCarthy's proposal for a Vietnam peace plank in the party platform.

Humhprey promptly commented that his fundamental difference with McCarthy concerned the Minnesota senator's plan to "impose" a coalition government, including the Viet Cong, on South Vietnam.

Humphrey also objected to McCarthy's suggestion for a halt in bombing against North Vietnam and an end to U.S. search and destroy missions.

Wants Cease-Fire

He said he wanted a cease-fire, including a halt in bombing, but that no responsible political party should try to take over the authority of the commander in chief—that is, President Johnson.

While the candidates debated Vietnam their campaign advisers carried on a propaganda war over the delegate seating contests pending before the convention's credentials committee.

Rep. James G. O'Hara of Michigan, speaking for the charged that McCarthy forces were trying to "lock out" almost a third of the delegates to the convention.

He was anticipating a McCarthy effort to bar any challenged delegates from voting on the seating of all delegates whose credentials are being contested. A similar move helped Dwight D. Eisenhower win the Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

Convention officials said that almost 1,000 delegates and alternates out of a total of 5,611 have been challenged but that they do not know how many will be involved in formal contests.

McCarthy campaign spokesmen said their camp was challenging fewer than 300 delegates. They said that more than 300 of their own delegates had been challenged in a countermove by Robert Vance, Alabama Democratic chairman.

FLASHING SPEECH — Richard Nixon, the GOP presidential nominee, hangs onto the flasher light of a state police car as he uses its public address system to speak to a crowd of about 1,000 persons at Capitol Airport in Sprinfield, Ill. The large crowd was unexpected because of Nixon's late arrival and the former vice president used the squad car sound system. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Uneasy Peace Settles Over Florida, Kentucky Cities

By United Press International

The uneasy peace settled over St. Petersburg, Fla., and Owensboro, Ky., today after a weekend of disturbances.

The Owensboro trouble began after a Negro man was shot and killed at a night club. Violence flared and swelled at St. Petersburg after a dance hall brawl.

An armored state police "monster" van rumbled into St. Petersburg Sunday night as about 75 young Negroes threw bottles and rocks. Gunshots also were heard. The "Monster" sprayed tear gas at the youths and they dispersed—the second night in a row tear gas had broken up a crowd.

Buckshot chipped paint of a highway patrol van. Other sniper shots were heard in the Negro district of St. Petersburg, where sporadic violence had flared for three straight nights.

At Owensboro, Mayor Irvin Terrill vowed to "dissolve the militant influence" which he blamed for a weekend of sporadic trouble with Negro gangs. Thirty-four persons were arrested between Friday midnight and Sunday midnight in a 17-block section of the Negro West End.

Twenty of the arrests occurred Sunday night when bands of Negro youths in a small park hurled rocks and bottles at passing cars and taunted policemen.

Police Chief Vernie Bidwell said most of the arrests Sunday were made on disorderly conduct charges by police who were "tired" of being cursed by "young punks."

Bidwell said the disturbance was not organized. But Terrill said he was determined to "dissolve the militant influence" that he said caused the trouble. He also said there was "an element of local agitation."

One Injured

Terrill was the only person injured in the disturbances. He was cut by glass early Saturday when a brick was thrown through his car window.

The Owensboro disturbances began after Jerry W. Brown, 28, a Negro from nearby Henderson, was shot and killed in a white-owned night club. About 200 Negroes gathered on the street, and the crowd became unruly when an ambulance was delayed, police said.

A citywide curfew was imposed Saturday; liquor sales were outlawed; Gov. Louis B. Nunn ordered the National Guard on alert, and peace was restored Saturday night. However, the violence flared again Sunday after a county-wide curfew was imposed between 8 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Started Friday Night

St. Petersburg's trouble began Friday night following a brawl at a dance hall. Hundreds of Negroes then went on a spree of window-smashing, burning and looting. Saturday night's violence was somewhat less severe—though four buildings were burned along 22nd street.

However, a crowd of about 100 Negroes Sunday advanced on a patrol car. Later about 40 riot-trained officers sprayed the mob with tear gas. Then, with a rain storm drenching everybody, the armored van sprayed about 75 young Negroes and dispersed them.

Nixon Offers Endorsement To All Republican Hopefuls

By BILL BOYARSKY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) Richard M. Nixon, plunging into the first national tour of his presidential campaign, has offered his endorsement to all Republican candidates.

But the GOP presidential candidate adds at the same time that he will respect the wishes of Republican office-seekers who may want to stand apart, separating their campaigns from his.

Nixon outlined his approach to the old problem of national candidates trying to get along with local ones in a a briefing with newsmen in San Diego Sunday. After talking at length about campaign problems Nixon left on a three-day tour of Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and New York.

The first stop was Springfield Ill., capital of a state he lost narrowly when he ran for president eight years ago.

"We're going to campaign Illinois like it's never been campaigned before," he told about 1,000 people who were waiting for him at the Springfield airport Sunday night.

"We're going to carry Illinois and we're going to carry the nation," he said.

The object of the trip is twofold: to meet with some of the party's big-state governors and to test the reaction of GOP workers to his efforts in the past week to unify Republicans behind his candidacy.

The key governors he plans to visit are George Romney of Michigan, Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who was Nixon's top challenger for the nomination.

Nixon's decision to endorse all Republicans seeking office but to respect the fact some may want to go it alone recalls the problems Barry Goldwater, the party's 1964 presidential nominee, faced.

Some candidates in urban states avoided Goldwater because they believed he would hurt them in their own races.

In winding up his stay at the San Diego vacation campaign headquarters, Nixon praised the record of his running mate, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, in handling problems of big cities and said: "If anything happened to the president I would feel extremely confident that he could take over . . ."

Asked about Agnew's knowledge of foreign policy matters, Nixon said: "No man who is selected for the position of vice president of the United States is going to be an expert in every area.

"Gov. Agnew is not one who has had great experience in foreign affairs. However, what he has is something vital. He has a balance of judgment. He has the fine intellect to learn very fast."
